POLITICS IS MIXED IN NORTHERN OHIO

Conditions in Cuyahoga County Indicate That Taft Will Lead Harris by Probably 5,000 Votes.

LIQUOR ISSUE IS FACTOR.

Former Governor Herrick Refuses to Sulk in His Tent; Labor Trend Is Away from Bryan.

BY RAYMOND.

[Copyright: 1908: By Tribune Company, Chicago.]

Cleveland, O., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Up in the northern section of Ohio, along the southern shore of Lake Erie, where the business interests are largely centered about lake shipping, coal, and iron, and where there is a great labor as well as agricultural interest, the conditions seem to be almost as mixed as along the Ohio river.

Cuyahoga for once presents a parallel to Hamilton county, growing out of local political factionalism, but more particularly because of the temperance question. The best estimates I have been able to get for this county seem to indicate that the result will be pretty nearly a standoff, not only as between Taft and Bryan, but as between Harris and Harmon for governor, with Harris probably running behind Taft from 5,000 to 10,000 votes.

This, of course, is a great falling off from Roosevelt's plurality of 33,000 in the great county of which Cleveland is the principal city, but, on the other hand, there will be an apparent republican gain as compared with the 14,000 given to Pattison, the democratic candidate for governor, three years ago.

Registration Shows Interest.

The registration this year, as in other Ohio cities, shows a marked increase over 1904, when Roosevelt had his record vote. This indicates general interest in the result of the election and the full party strength on both sides will be polled, although there will be a vast amount of splitting of ballots.

From a source usually reliable, and outside of party management, I was given an estimate that Cuyahoga county might go either for Taft or Bryan by from 2,000 to 3,000 majority, and that Harris would run 5,000 behind Taft. Other people reverse these figures, but all admit that the county is so evenly balanced it will probably take the election itself to determine the result.

In Lucas county, in which Toledo is located, the estimates give Taft about 5,000 to 7,000 plurality, with Harris and Harmon running along about even. The temperance question in its effect on Harris and the labor vote as a danger for Taft are the two things which will produce much the same result in Cleveland, Toledo, and Sandusky.

They have just finished a fierce battle between the wets and the drys in the neighboring county of Lorain. The wets are supposed to have won by a mere handful of votes, and a careful recount may turn the county the other way. The result has been, however, to excite more interest in the temperance question than has previously been the case in the three northern cities, and the Lorain election will probably have the effect of lining up the liquor and temperance interests even more sharply than before.

Liberal Sentiment Strong.

Cleveland, of course, is a place with a large liberal element, and the sentiment against Gov. Harris is naturally strong. On the other hand, Mayor Tom Johnson, who is the democratic dictator in this radical town, was bitterly disappointed by the nomination of Harmon.

Mayor Tom is a warm friend of Bryan and it cannot be discovered that he has openly urged his followers to cut Harmon. The bitterness engendered by the state fight, however, has by no means died down, and a great many of the fanatical Johnson men will surely vote for Harris to show their loyalty for their eccentric chief. The result is that the difference between Harris and Taft here in Cleveland will be much less than it would otherwise.

Of course, no one expects Taft to get anything like the plurality which Roosevelt received in Cuyahoga county. That figure was 33,000 and it was a record breaker in every way. For instance, Congressman Burton, from this district, has been elected over and over again, and last time practically without any opposition whatsoever.

The district on national policies is overwhelmingly republican. Burton scarcely has to pay any attention to his campaign, which is a fortunate thing, because he is one of the ablest men in congress.

Tom Johnson Still a Power.

On the other hand, Tom Johnson has held Cleveland in the hollow of his hand in spite of every effort to compel him to let go. Even such a mighty political factor as Mark Hanna waged incessant but unsuccessful warfare upon Mayor Tom. All that money, political sagacity, and close combination of the wealthy classes could do was unavailing. Mayor Tom wandered off after Bryan, he is a single taxer, has juggled with his own taxes, is a rich man himself, and finally his 3 cent street car scheme has broken down, and yet he appears to be as strong with the people as ever before.

To show how the city reverses its form with facility it is only necessary to repeat that Roosevelt had 33,000 plurality in 1904, while a year later Pattison, a resident of Cincinnati and a democrat, defeated Gov. Herrick, a resident of Cleveland, in his own county by 14,000.

There were local reasons for this, of course. Herrick had antagonized a certain class of influential republicans, who resented what they believed his unwarranted attack upon legitimate horse racing.

Causes of Herrick Defeat.

The unfortunate governor was already burdened with the enmity of the liquor interests. He soon found himself opposed by the temperance people, led by the Anti-saloon league. And this extraordinary combination added to the opposition of the racing element among the wealthy class was sufficient to account for his overwhelming defeat at the hands of his own neighbors.

The instance is cited not only because it shows the downright contrariness of Cuyahoga politics, but because it also has a bearing on the presidential ticket.

When Taft first came to the front as a probable presidential candidate the friends of Gov. Herrick, who stood by him probably more warmly after his defeat than before, immediately began to sharpen their knives. They recalled that Taft's Akron speech three years ago had resulted in a great slump in PERIL THREATENS MUNICIPAL COURT.

Purpose for Which It Was Established May Be Annulled by Adverse Ruling in Test Case.

DEPENDS ON HIGH BENCH

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The action of J. Kent Greene, representing Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court of Chicago, in requesting the Supreme court to make a speedy decision in the case of the People versus Kruger, which, with the case of the People versus Dada, is being used to test the jurisdiction of the Chicago Municipal court, has brought to light an alarming situation in the administration of the law in Chicago.

Unless the Supreme court decides the case in accordance with the contentions of Mr. Greene, the primary purpose of the big Chicago court system will be nullified, for the reason that the court will be denied original jurisdiction in the very class of cases which it was created to handle.

The list of cases affected includes all in which fine or jail or both may be inflicted as punishment in the event of conviction. In the Appellate court in the Dada case Judge Brown decided that the Municipal court had jurisdiction only in cases where the punishment specifically was set. It might try cases where the punishment was fine alone or jail alone, but not cases where the punishment provided by law was either fine or jail or both. The Appellate court made a decision in favor of the Municipal court in the Kruger case, the purpose being to make a test case before the Supreme court, it is understood.

Dada Decision Crowds Jail.

According to data in the hands of Mr. Greene, the criminal and quasi-criminal business of the Municipal court has almost disappeared since the decision in the Dada case, leaving the court practically a civil court. The Cook county jail has been crowded by prisoners held to the Criminal court by judges of the Municipal court, who were able to act only as examining magistrates in cases without carrying them to a conclusion. About the only fine and jail cases with which the Municipal court has been left to deal are those brought under city ordinances and the few in which the punishment is designated specifically.

One result of this has been in the amount of money judgments in civil cases paid into the Municipal court for the month of September in contrast with the amounts paid into the Circuit and Superior courts in similar cases. The sum of $234,626 was paid into the Municipal court. In the Circuit court the amount was $36,827, and in the Superior court, $42,749. The Cook County court system threatens to become clogged by the excess of minor cases to the courts which ordinarily deal mainly with civil business.

Scope of City Court Reduced.

The list of offenses which the Municipal court is barred from dealing with is an astonishing one, which probably will prove alarming to the people of Chicago when it becomes public. The list in the hands of Mr. Greene includes the following:

Abandonment of wife or children.
Abduction of child.
Adulteration of food, liquor, milk, etc.
Assault with deadly weapon.
Marrying a bigamist.
Selling substitutes for butter.
Conspiracy to indict.
Conspiracy against state.
Embezzlements.
Employment agencies.
Extortion by threats.
Refusal of officer to arrest.
Obtaining credit by false pretenses.
Swindling by cards.
Swearing falsely to marriage certificate.
Selling liquor without license.
Selling liquor to minors.
Illegal voting.
Carrying away poll books.
Interfering with judges of election.
Larceny.
Lottery.
Malicious mischief.
All nuisances.
Prize fighting.
Receiving stolen property.
Causing witness to abscond.
Hazing.
False weights and measures.
Gaming house—second offense.
Bucket shop—second offense.
Bookmaking and pool selling.

Consideration of the exigency which exists caused Mr. Greene to ask for a speedy decision. It is expected that the Supreme court will make its decision with little delay.

TRIBUNE AD FINDS TRUANTS

Two Runaway Little Boys from Princeton Restored to Parents.

OUT OF MONEY AND HUNGRY.

Winifred Trimble Promises Never to Seek Bears in Chicago Again.

If there is any scoffer at the efficacy of THE TRIBUNE want ads after the many evidences offered within the last few weeks all he need do to banish doubt is to call upon W. K. Cochrane, 112 Dearborn street, or communicate with W. K. Trimble, Princeton, Ill.

Within five hours after THE TRIBUNE came from the presses yesterday the want ad inserted by Mr. Cochrane for the purpose of finding the young runaway son of his cousin, W. K. Trimble of Princeton, was rewarded with the return of two home sick, chilled little wanderers to one of the anxious parents.

The unusual ad caught the eye of Albert Enochs, in the law firm of Wheeler, Silber & Isaacs, as he was on his way to his office. While passing the federal building Mr. Enochs saw two little boys, trembling with the cold and apparently lost.

Boys Glad to Be Found.

Mr. Enochs approached the boys.

"Is your name Winfred?" he inquired of the smaller boy.

"Yes, and this is Parker Paschen," was the reply.

"Well, I think you both better come with me and see if we can't find somebody that knows you," suggested Mr. Enochs, and the three started for Mr. Cochrane's office. There the boys were greeted by Winfred's father, Mr. Trimble, and by Mr. Cochrane, and they told of coming to Chicago in search of adventure, of running short of money, and walking two nights in the streets. Mr. Trimble came to Chicago in search of them Sunday, but his efforts and those of the entire police department were ineffectual.

"Mr. Trimble didn't quite like the idea of advertising for the boys, but I thought I would try the effect of a well worded ad," explained Mr. Cochrane, who is head of an advertising concern and knows whereof he speaks. "I put the ad in to get results and we got them in record time. Mr. Enochs brought the boys to my office before 9 o'clock and the police had been looking for them for two days."

Taken Back to Princeton.

The two tired and homesick little boys declared to Winfred's father that they wanted to go home and that they never would run away again, even to hunt bears in emulation of President Roosevelt, whose deeds of prowess had inspired them to come to Chicago in search of adventure. Thoroughly penitent, tired, and hungry, they were taken to a hotel, put to bed to be awakened in time to attend a matinée performance in the afternoon, and then with Mr. Trimble escorted to the station for the journey home in the evening.

BELIEVE HOUSE FLIES CAUSED MAYWOOD TYPHOID EPIDEMIC.

West Pullman Outbreaks Checked, but Health Commissioner Sees Possible Recurrence in Sanitary Conditions.

The village of Maywood is suffering from an epidemic of typhoid fever. Twenty-five cases have been reported in the last ten days, with one death. Several are said to be in a critical condition at the present time.

It is the belief of the suburb's board of health that the infection has been caused by house flies carrying disease germs from the Desplaines river, which at present is stagnant and low, also from the mouths of sewers opening into the stream. The milk furnished to the villagers and water from the municipal plant have been analyzed and found to be free from germs.

LOOKS LIKE TAFT; WINS KISSES.

Dover, Del., Man Willingly Lets Mistake Pass When Seven Girls Think Him Candidate.

Dover, Del., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—John P. Wharton of Dover was kissed by seven pretty girls in mistake for Mr. Taft in Wilmington yesterday.

Mr. Wharton, who is a man of Taft's weight and age, was crowding toward the speaker's stand just before the arrival of the candidate and some one set up the cry: "There comes Mr. Taft."

The seven girls were determined to kiss Mr. Taft. They started in on Mr. Wharton and then and there he became an impostor and gleefully declared that he was the man.

RHODUS TRAPPED IN BRIBE EFFORT.

Gives Custodian $100 to Let Him Into Vaults, but Is Halted When Leaving with Books.

NEW RECEIVER SOUGHT.

A bribe of $100, offered by Edward T. Rhodus to the custodian guarding the vault of the Republic Life Insurance company in the Old Colony building, brought the Mercantile Finance company, the keystone of the whole Rhodus system, into the courts yesterday afternoon. Receiver Fetzer has been trying for some time to get this parent company into the investigation, and the bribe happening was an unexpected means to this end.

The bribe giving was dramatic, and culminated in the appearance of Mr. Fetzer and Attorney Holden before Judge Julian Mack late in the afternoon with a petition asking that a receiver be appointed for the Mercantile Finance company. Judge Mack scored the attempt of the Rhodus brothers to bribe the custodian, but said he would hear arguments on the receiver petition tomorrow.

The undoing of the Rhodus brothers came about in the following manner: Sunday afternoon Edward Rhodus appeared at the Old Colony building, explained to the custodian, a man from the detective agency of Mooney & Boland, that the rear vault contained papers belonging to the Mercantile Finance company, which they wanted, and offered $50 for the privilege of entering the vault.

Custodian Leads Him On.

"Well, if that's all it's worth to you you had better turn the books over to the receiver," replied the custodian, to lead Rhodus along. The bait was swallowed, and Rhodus hastened to explain that it might be worth as much as $100 to him. On Monday the offer of $100 was made. The custodian demurred, saying he would think about the matter over night. Then he reported to his office and several extra men were stationed across the street in a building from which they could view the interior.

Early yesterday morning Birch F., Thomas, and Edward Rhodus appeared at the offices for the final interview with the custodian. In front of one of the windows and in plain view of the watchers across the street Ed Rhodus handed the custodian two $50 bills, and then the three brothers opened the vault, of which they alone know the combination. They took out a number of books and started to leave the building, only to be met by the operatives who had witnessed the whole affair from across the street.

Back Go the Books.

"Guess you'll have to put those books back again," was the command of the leader. Then there was a wrangle and one of the brothers ran to summon several policemen. While the police were on the way Attorney Kline, one of the sequestrators previously appointed by Judge Mack, was notified of the attempt to remove the books, and hurried up. He promptly seated himself on the pile of books and notified everybody there would be "nothing doing."

The situation was too much for "Tom" Rhodus' composure and he landed a short arm jolt on Kline's jaw. Then there was some more wrangling, which finally ended in the books being carried back and redeposited in the vault.

With the discovery of the rear vault, the existence of which had not been suspected by Receiver Fetzer, an order to permit the opening of the vault was asked of Judge Mack. The Rhoduses said it contained papers of the Mercantile Finance company which might lend incriminating evidence against them and refused to surrender the possession of the books or the combination of the vault. The matter was adjusted when counsel for both sides agreed each should appoint a custodian to guard the offices and that the vault should not be opened without twelve hours' notice. The Rhoduses had discharged their custodian Saturday night, the day before the first attempt to bribe the remaining watchman was made.

Judge Postpones Action.

After the fracas Mr. Fetzer and Attorney Weissenbach prepared a petition asking for a receivership and took decisive action.

Judge Mack finally announced he would continue the hearing until tomorrow and would see that the books of the Mercantile Finance company were guarded.

"The action of the Rhodus brothers, if true and substantiated, will strongly tend to make the court adopt the sternest measures within its power," declared Judge Mack.

BOMB NO. 22 WRECKS SALOON

Explosion Jars Place Formerly Owned by Mont Tennes.

WOMEN THROWN FROM BEDS.

Windows and Stairway Smashed by Explosion; Police Are Puzzled.

Bomb No. 22 was exploded last night in front of a saloon at 135 Center street, which formerly was owned by Mont Tennes and in which the gambler is said still to be interested. The present owner is Henry Schmidt, a relative of Tennes.

Two plate glass windows were shattered and a flight of steps leading from the sidewalk into the basement was wrecked. No one was injured, though two women who live above the saloon were thrown from their beds.

The explosion occurred at 8:30 o'clock, about the same hour that bomb No. 21 was exploded Monday night on the roof of a building adjoining "Johnny" Rogers' gambling house and saloon at 341 West Madison street.

In order to place the bomb in front of the basement door of the Center street saloon and gambling house, which is under the main entrance to the saloon, it was necessary to descend the steps from the street in the full glare of an electric light and in view of persons passing along Center street and Sheffield avenue. How the feat was performed without detection is a "puzzle" to the police.

Find Clew at "L" Station.

A short time after 8 o'clock a tall, slender man wearing a brown suit and black hat, with his left hand bandaged, was seen to leave the elevated station at Center street, and a few minutes before the explosion he departed on a train from the same station. The man answers the description given by Arthur Jacobs, 165 Bissell street, who says he saw a man coming from the basement under Schmidt's saloon as he was passing. The description also tallies with that of a man who was seen last winter loitering about the residence of Mont Tennes in Webster avenue.

Mrs. Fred Wayland and Mrs. Henry Thien, who live over the saloon, were thrown out of their beds by the shock. Furniture in their apartments was overturned and in one flat a bookcase was smashed.

Patrons Are Frightened.

Schmidt and four other men were playing pool when the explosion occurred. All were badly frightened and fled to the street. Edward Fagenbaum, bartender, was drawing a glass of beer when the shock almost lifted him off his feet. In his excitement he forgot to turn off the beer spigot and several gallons of the thirst quencher escaped before he realized what had happened. One man who entered the saloon three minutes before the explosion was thrown to the floor.

Schmidt said he was "at a loss" to know why his place had been selected by the users of explosives, unless it was believed that Tennes still retained an interest in the saloon.

The police at the North Halsted street station aver that the place has been "good" for a long time, though until recently a man had been detailed for seven months to keep it under surveillance.

INSANE WAUKEGAN FATHER CHOKES HIS SON TO DEATH.

Foreman Who Tries to Save Four Year Old Peter Blomstrom Jr. Rescued by Police and Neighbors.

Peter Blomstrom, a laborer employed by the American Steel and Wire company, at Waukegan, strangled his 4 year old son, Peter Jr., to death yesterday afternoon during a fit of insanity.

Blomstrom complained to his wife in the morning that he felt ill, and would remain at home. Mrs. Blomstrom then took her 5 year old daughter and went to visit a neighbor.

John Hall, a foreman for the steel and wire company, was passing the Blomstrom house, when he heard cries. He opened the door and found Blomstrom choking the child.

"I'll kill you, too!" shouted the maniac, leaping upon Hall.

In the struggle which ensued Hall was badly bruised. Neighbors and police came to Hall's rescue. When they arrived it was found that the little boy was dead. Blomstrom was taken to jail after a struggle.

The coroner of Lake county will hold an inquest today. Mrs. Blomstrom was overcome with grief when notified of the tragedy.

BOUT PREVENTED BY MISHAP.

George Lytton Breaks Shoulder and "Go" with Society Boxer or Professional Is Off.

When George Lytton, secretary of the Illinois Athletic club, broke his right shoulder blade while wrestling in the gymnasium of the club two nights ago, he not only put a stop to the preparations for a coming bout between himself and Anthony J. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia, but also became unable to issue a contemplated challenge for a "go" with "Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien.

The challenge to the Philadelphia pugilist was a secret not to be made known unless Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle, society man and noted boxer of the Quaker City, should decline the challenge issued by the Illinois Athletic club.

Because Biddle was touring Canada in a motor car and could not be communicated with Secretary Zeller of the club was on the point of wiring a challenge to O'Brien when Lytton met with his mishap.

Lytton was wrestling in his club "gym" with Mike J. Dwyer, physical instructor for the organization, when the accident happened.

LETTER "D" CLEW TO IDENTITY.

Body of Man Taken from South Branch of Chicago River Near Sixteenth Street.

The letter "D" embroidered on a handkerchief and a pair of scapulars, the police believe, may lead to the discovery of the identity of the body of a man which was found in the south branch of the Chicago river yesterday afternoon near Sixteenth street.

From the appearance of the body it had been in the water about a week. No marks of violence were found.

The man wore a suit of gray clothes and patent leather shoes. Neither money, jewelry, nor papers were found on the body. The man was apparently 25 years old and wore a small mustache. His hair is described as sandy in color and he weighed about 165 pounds.

The body was taken to McNally & Duffy's undertaking rooms, 516 Wabash avenue.

SMOKE ISSUE UP TO I. C. DIRECTORY

City's Report on Electrification to Be Taken Up at Their Annual Meeting Today.

FEEDER PLAN IN PERIL.

Council Committee Unlikely to Favor Kensington Line Unless the Road Yields to Demand.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Illinois Central railroad will be held today. It is said the meeting will take up the city's report on electrification, which contends that the project is feasible and profitable.

By chance, the directors' meeting coincides as to date with a meeting of the council committee on local transportation, which also will take up the report with the intent to do something with it without delay. This intent was strengthened yesterday by the action of the committee on streets and alleys south, which turned over to the local transportation committee the Kensington and Eastern railroad ordinance, dubbed "the council sandbag" by John G. Drennan, district counsel for the Illinois Central.

This is the ordinance which, if granted, is regarded as worth more to the Illinois Central than the entire cost of electrification. It is the key to Northern Indiana. It is a perfect illustration of the Harriman policy of establishing short feeders into rich territory, and in its importance to the road it is not outclassed by any similar project attempted for some time.

More than Mere Switch Track.

Ostensibly the franchise under which it could come into being was a switch track ordinance, just like any other switchtrack ordinance, allowing the track, which is built along private right of way, to cross four streets, and it was referred to the streets and alleys south committee without much attention. The committee looked twice at it and then again, and thus far has found out the following:

The Kensington and Eastern, an admitted "feeder," would give the Illinois Central an invaluable connection with Gary, Ind., enabling it to handle with dispatch vast quantities of short haul freight between Gary and South Chicago, for the Illinois Steel company.

It would connect the Central also with Michigan City and other northern Indiana business centers from which it now is barred.

It would connect with the great Hanna electric traction system of northern Indiana and Ohio, and furnish an entry into Chicago of the huge and rapidly increasing volume of trade along those lines.

For the passage of this ordinance Mr. Drennan and his associates have labored indefatigably, appearing on holidays and any other appointed time before the tiniest of subcommittees and any other kind of committees which had anything to do with it, and for the sake of all it means to the road they wrestled for two hours yesterday afternoon trying to keep it away from the committee on local transportation.

Jolt for Counsel Drennan.

"The ordinance ought to be considered on its merits," was Mr. Drennan's complaint. "If it gets into the local transportation committee it may become involved in the electrification question with which it has nothing to do."

Members of the committee thought differently.

"This ordinance never should have come to our committee," said Ald. Snow. "It is not a switch track ordinance at all, except in form. This trackage was laid, except over street crossings, in eighteen months without any effort to get a permit, and now it is the intention of the road to get its franchise 'on the merits of the case.' It seems to me that all the 'merits' seen thus far have been dug up by this committee, and are in favor of the road. If the road has to wait awhile to realize on the $300,000 thus far invested the fault is not with us.

"If, as is threatened, this branch is abandoned altogether, it will insure the consideration of the electrification on its merits, so that the city does not stand to lose."

Meeting of Road's Directors.

The directors at their meeting will hear a brief report from the company's experts, who started to work in September, but have been in Europe and elsewhere part of the time since then. This report will be transmitted to the city under an agreement reached about two weeks ago for the information of city officials and council committees.

No final action is expected to result at the meeting, as the report comprises a book of 354 pages, dealing with every conceivable phase of the subject, and a complete perusal of the findings of the city's engineer will scarcely be possible in the limited time allowed for the meeting. Officers of the road declined to discuss the report, saying they had not received their copies.

It is stated that the company's report will also be merely preliminary in its nature, as no definite conclusions have been reached since the investigation was authorized on Sept. 15. At the directors' meeting, aside from the electrification problem, it is said there is little to come up for consideration.

Little for Stockholders to Do.

Following the directors' meeting will be the annual meeting of the stockholders, which will be a different affair from the meeting last year, when Stuyvesant Fish was seeking to get enough proxies to reinstate him as a director after he had been ousted by Harriman. Only about fifty of the road's shareholders are expected to attend—a much smaller number than when it was the custom to give passes to the meeting. About 2,000 of the 9,500 stockholders are residents of Illinois. The meeting will be a perfunctory affair, as there is no business for the consideration of the stockholders except the presentation of the annual report and the election of directors. The electrification project probably will not be discussed.

John G. Shedd, president of Marshall Field & Co., is slated for election as a director, to succeed James De Wolf Cutting of New York, who will be ousted because of his support of the cause of Stuyvesant Fish. The election of Mr. Shedd to the directorate is said to be in pursuance of a policy of placing as many strong Illinois men on the board as possible, and will give Chicago three members, J. T. Harahan and J. Ogden Armpur being the other two, besides Gov. Charles S. Deneen, who is ex officio a director.

Shedd for Smoke Abatement.

Mr. Shedd is a member of the Chicago smoke commission and has publicly expressed himself as in favor of removing the smoke trouble by electrification at the earliest practicable date.

Charles A. Peabody, A. G. Hackstaff, and J. Ogden Armour are to be reëlected for a term of four years. Mr. Cutting is the only retiring director and he will not be at the meeting. All of the other directors, except E. H. Harriman, are expected to be present. Mr. Peabody, John W. Auchincloss, and Mr. Hackstaff, who is also vice president and secretary, have arrived from New York. The other directors who will attend the meeting are: J. Ogden Armour, Walther Luttgen, Robert Walton Goelet, Charles M. Beach, Cornelius Vanderbilt, J. T. Harahan, and John Jacob Astor. Charles M. Beach of Hartford, Conn., is the only one of the former Fish supporters to remain on the board.

The election of officers by the directors will take place either immediately after the stockholders' meeting or at a later meeting in New York. It is stated that no change in the management is contemplated and that the present officers will be reëlected.

POISON SENT HER BY MAIL MAY KILL INDIANA WOMAN.

Mysterious Package of Candy Baffles Authorities in Their Efforts to Discover Crime's Source.

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—There is much excitement at Forest Hill, Decatur county, over the mysterious poisoning of Mrs. Anna Parker, in her seventy-fifth year. Detectives are baffled in seeking clews.

This morning a box of bonbons was delivered to Mrs. Parker and she ate heartily. The box came through the mail and the postmark showed that it was sent from Indianapolis.

Within a few moments the aged woman was in convulsions and when a physician was called he said the candy contained a large amount of strychnine.

She grew rapidly worse and the doctor said she would die.

Mrs. Parker has some property, but there has never been any contention over it and no reason can be assigned why an attempt upon her life should be made.

She is not known to have any enemies and absence of motive in all directions adds to the mystery surrounding the case.

The box contained no writing other than the address and Mrs. Parker supposed that it was a present from some friends. She ate the contents without suspicion.

The address was in a bold hand and so far as can be judged there was no attempt to disguise it.

The postmark shows the package was mailed yesterday afternoon, reaching Mrs. Parker this morning.

The rest of the candy will be subjected to analysis and in the meantime officers here and at Indianapolis are investigating, but with poor success.

STATE WOMEN'S CLUBS MEET; MEN ARE ASKED TO ATTEND.

President of Illinois Federation Invites Inspection of Work as Done at East St. Louis.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The Illinois club women now in convention at the First Methodist church want the men to come around and see what they are doing. They commissioned Mayor Cook today to go out and spread the tidings.

Mrs. George Watkins of Chicago, president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, did the commissioning. It was in her response to the welcoming speeches of Mrs. L. C. Haynes and Mayor Cook. Mayor Cook was the only man in sight, and the big church was filled with women. His loneliness and helplessness may have suggested the invitation.

Mrs. Haynes mildly reproached some of the delegates who had addressed their letters to "East St. Louis, Mo.," and said she hoped they would find out that East St. Louis is a city by itself. By way of proving that it is a city she marked it has seven women's clubs.

Mrs. John Sherman, second vice president of the general federation, said that the federation was now working for national legislation on four subjects—the admission of works of art free, a national bureau of child labor with a woman at the head of it, the setting aside of the Appalachian mountain district as a national forest reserve, and the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis.

WOMAN'S BURIAL ALIVE PREVENTED JUST IN TIME.

Doctor Becomes Suspicious and Supposed Kansas Corpse Is Transferred from Coffin to Bed.

Ellis, Kas., Oct. 20.—The timely intervention of a physician who was not satisfied with the appearance of the body today prevented the burial alive of Mrs. Thomas Chapman, wife of one of the best known citizens of this part of Kansas.

Mrs. Chapman, who is 60 years of age, was supposed to have died suddenly from heart disease on Saturday last. The body was prepared for burial, but was not embalmed. The funeral was to have taken place this afternoon.

A few minutes before the casket was to be sealed a physician requested permission to see the body. After confirming his suspicions, the woman was removed from the coffin and placed in bed. While her heart is weak, it is believed Mrs. Chapman will recover.

MANY FOREST FIRES BLAZING NEAR SAULT STE. MARIE, MICH.

Sugar Island, with Population of One Thousand, Reported to Be Burning from End to End.

Saulte Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 20.—Hundreds of residents in this district who have been fighting forest fires today are depending upon showers predicted for tonight to give relief.

A forty-five mile gale spread the fires in all directions.

It is reported that Sugar island, which has a population of 1,000, is ablaze almost from end to end. Near Detour, sixteen miles have been burned over. Gladys, Eckerman, Shelldrake, and Whitefish Point are surrounded. Brimley had a narrow escape today, but the fires were driven back after one building in the village was destroyed.

UNITED SOCIETIES' HANDS OFF.

They Decide to Make No Choice of Candidate as Between Kern and Wayman.

The United Societies are to keep hands off in the fight for state's attorney as between John W. Wayman and Jacob J. Kern. This was decided at a meeting of the political action committee of the organization held in the Real Estate Board building, Randolph and Dearborn streets, yesterday afternoon. At the gathering Secretary Anton Cermak is reported as having made a plea for Kern, asking that the societies adopt him as their candidate. Some argument resulted, but the result was that the majority decided to leave the question open and make no recommendation at all.

TENEMENT FIRE KILLS THREE.

Many Narrow Escapes Mark Blaze in a Six Story Building in New York.

New York, Oct. 21, 2 a. m.—Three persons were burned to death and the lives of 100 tenants of a six story tenement on East Third street were imperiled in a fire early this morning. The flames, starting on the ground floor, spread rapidly through the structure, and the tenants fled to the fire escapes.

CHICAGO GETS 52 ROSEBUD FARMS.

CITY AND STATE ARE 92.

Great Local Interest Attaches to Allotment at Dallas, South Dakota.

Thirty-nine Chicagoans were added yesterday to the lucky thirteen of the preceding day as winners of farms in the Rosebud allotment of Tripp county lands at Dallas, South Dakota. Fifty-two is thus the total of lucky Chicagoans to date.

In the state of Illinois, exclusive of Chicago, twenty-nine more winners were added to the eleven lucky Illinoisans of the previous day, making a total of forty within the state.

Thus the totals for city and state for the day are sixty-eight, and the grand totals for city and state for the two days ninety-two.

Chicagoans in the Drawing.

Following are the Chicagoans who won yesterday:

Chas. Gallagher, Emden.
Walter Udell, Weedman.
P. D. Bennett, Williamsfield.

Most Winners Were Expectant.

In a few cases the possibility opened up by a turn of the wheel took the fortunate completely by surprise. They had been led into registering by the love of a lottery rather than by the fascination of farming.

These instances were the exception rather than the rule. Nine out of ten of the future farmers had been talking of their possible possessions for many days. An evidence of this was seen by W. I. Carroll, a bookseller at North State and Superior streets, who himself was one of the lucky ones.

"I was undecided," he said, "whether to go to Gregory and register or to go to Detroit and see the opening of the world's series, and it was only at the last moment that I determined upon South Dakota.

"Now that I've won I want to get up there right away, and from what I see in my business I guess there are a lot more Chicagoans feeling the same way. Dozens of them are subscribing for the farm papers."

Among the winners who were notified by THE TRIBUNE that they had been successful in the drawing was G. E. Agnew, proprietor of a meat market at 191 East Thirty-seventh street. "I have lived in the city all my life," he said, "and I am ready to try my hand at tilling the soil."

Another lucky man notified was William Meehan, an electrician who lives at 2976 South Park avenue.

"You bet I'm anxious to leave the city and go to farming," he said.

Oak Park Woman Fortunate.

Mrs. Sara C. Mullin, who lives with her brother, James W. Carter, a wealthy ice and coal dealer of 434 North East avenue, Oak Park, will have forty-first choice of the Rosebud lands.

She says she was induced to register through an article which appeared in THE TRIBUNE. She will live on the claim she selects.

Mrs. Harriet Smith, 1151 Lexington street, one of the lucky women, is 53 years old and has been a widow for ten years. She is now in South Dakota.

C. E. Black, another winner, is captain of company D of the First Illinois militia, and is employed as a solicitor by the Warner Printing company, 180 Monroe street. He is 45 years old, is married, and lives at 462 Forty-first street.

W. W. Gibson, 318 Jackson boulevard, is a traveling salesman for a wall paper house and happened to be near Chamberlain at the time of registration. He now is on the road and his wife is not certain that he will occupy the farm personally.

G. M. Atwell, 3200 South Park avenue, was elated at the news of his good fortune in drawing one of the farms. He was not aware of his luck until notified by a representative of THE TRIBUNE. "I expect to go out to the Rosebud reservation and remain on the land for a time at least," he said, "but I am not sure that I will settle there, as I have other interests here in Chicago."

Says Lucky Star Favored Him.

Charles A. S. Howlett, an electrical engineer, whose home is at 3300 Beacon street, was one of the men who hadn't been sure of winning a farm.

"Why, of course, I filed an application," he said, "but I had made up my mind to forget about it in order to avoid all possibility of disappointment. Still, I must confess that I watched the papers, trying to fool myself into thinking I was looking for something else.

"You bet I'm glad. My lucky star was certainly with me. I shall accept the offer of a valuable piece of property and shall take my family up there. It'll be some farm before I leave it, whether we go in for chickens, wheat, or cauliflower."

POSTCARD PLEA FOR STREET

Endeavor Union to Mail 500,000 Attacks on Kern and Wayman

WILL STUMP CITY IN AUTOS.

Candidate Addresses Presbyterian Men's Club in Englewood.

A campaign by postcards, church, and open air meetings, for the cause of William Street, prohibition candidate for state's attorney, was begun last night at the fall rally of the Chicago Christian Endeavor union. An automobile campaign will begin tomorrow.

The first of a series of three bulletins on political candidates was promised for today, indorsing Street. Another bulletin, on legislative nominees, will follow before the end of the week, and a third, on Christian activity at the polls, will appear just before election.

The postcards, of which half a million will be put into circulation, at the price to users of fifteen for 5 cents, bear on one side an invitation to vote for Mr. Street and on the other a picture of the independent voter cutting down a tree labeled "The Lawless Saloon," having for branches "Graft," "The Criminal Element," "Gamblers," and "Brothel Keepers." Candidates Kern and Wayman are seen speeding for this tree, and an inferential quotation from them, written below, is as follows:

> Woodman, spare that tree! Touch not a single bough!
> In ambition's hour it sheltered me, and I'll protect it now.

Speakers Attack Kern and Wayman.

"The candidates of the republican and democratic parties represent the classes opposed to law and order," said H. H. Van Meter, a member of the citizens' committee backing Street, addressing the meeting. "The church people should vote for a candidate who stands for law enforcement. The young people of this union can be a great factor by disseminating literature."

Dr. A. C. Dixon, pastor of Moody church, compared the city of Chicago to the states which seceded at the beginning of the civil war.

"Our only king in this country is law," he said. "We are being put in the attitude of rebellion against it. This is high treason."

An automobile campaign on the south side will be made tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday nights. The Rev. William C. Covert of the Forty-first Street Presbyterian church, the Rev. William P. Merrill of the Sixth Presbyterian church, and the Rev. A. T. Horn of the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church will be among the speakers.

Hold Meeting in Englewood.

Mr. Street spoke in the evening before the Men's club of the Englewood Presbyterian church.

At this meeting Arthur Burrage Farwell, attacking Mayor Busse, said:

"I wish all you men and women would pray for this mayor of ours that he may be led into better paths. Conditions in Chicago are worse now than ever before. I was down in the red light district last Saturday night, and I can say conditions were most awful. I tell you that the time is almost ripe for the state to take control of the city."

KERN DEFINES HIS POSITION

Makes Keynote Speech of Campaign at North Side Hall.

FAVORS PERSONAL LIBERTY.

Democratic Candidate for State's Attorney Urges an Open Sunday.

Jacob J. Kern, democratic candidate for state's attorney, made the keynote speech of his campaign last night at Sheridan hall, North Clark street and Lunt avenue. He stated his position and views as follows:

"This contest for the state's attorneyship has narrowed down to myself and Mr. Street. I have no words of censure for Mr. Street because he represents the cause of those opposed to personal liberty. This being the case, he naturally has recourse only to indiscriminate and untruthful abuse, since the justice and logic of the situation is overwhelmingly in favor of the advocates of personal freedom.

"In the contest for the nomination I stated squarely what my views were as to the so-called Sunday law, and an open Sunday holiday. Not since then, not before then, nor ever will you find that by act, word, or innuendo I have shifted my position, or apologized for my platform. I believe I speak for a majority of the people of Cook county when I say that they want Sunday as a day of rest and recreation, as well as a day of reverence. I have no quarrel with the churches nor with the ministers. I am in favor of the churches being open on Sunday, although our present Sunday is not the Sunday of the Hebrews, from whom all orthodox churches draw their creeds and religions.

Favors Sunday Amusements.

"I am in favor of the churches being open so that those of our citizens who wish to attend church may have that opportunity. I am in favor of open parks, theaters, restaurants, saloons, swimming schools, and bathing beaches, billiard halls and bowling alleys, etc., so that those of our citizens who desire to go to these places for their day off may have the same opportunity as the churchgoers.

"My record has been glibly denounced in the course of this campaign by those who know nothing about it. What is that record? I will tell you what it is. With nine assistants yearly, at a yearly cost of $39,153.52, my administration sent yearly to the penitentiary 389 felons. With twenty-three assistants yearly at a yearly cost of $52 373.05 Mr. Deneen's administration sent yearly to the penitentiary 255 felons. With a yearly average of twenty assistants and at a yearly cost of $81,753.20 Mr. Healy's administration sent yearly to the penitentiary 286 felons.

Will Welcome Reformers.

"If I am elected—and I am going to be—no man will be turned from the door of the state's attorney's office because of his party, race, creed, or color. Can the ministers say as much? Even the reformers will be welcome, and I will not say to them as was said of old, 'Woe unto you, pharisees and hypocrites.' The rich man will get the same square deal as the poor man. All men present a similar appearance to me. I shall have no favorites."

DENEEN QUIZZES GEN. STEVENSON.

Wants to Know How His Rival Stands on Some Important State Questions.

TELLS OF CIVIL SERVICE.

Shows That Asylums Have Been Out of Politics for Three Years at Least.

Gov Deneen opened his campaign in Chicago last night by promulgating a few simple questions on the present and future policies of state government which he said he would like to have his "distinguished opponent" answer.

He made three speeches during the evening, addressing 800 voters at 588 West Eighteenth street, 600 at 381 Clark street, and 1,500 at Indiana avenue and Thirty-first street. At all of these places Mr. Deneen was greeted with the utmost enthusiasm and his talk on his administration elicited tremendous applause. At the meeting in the Second ward Chauncey Dewey presided, and the hall was crowded to capacity with a representative gathering of men and women.

In opening his speech Mr. Deneen commented on the fact that "Gen." Stevenson has not ventured to stray from the single issue of the state charitable institutions.

Questions for Gen. Stevenson.

He presented his defense of the management of the institutions and then said:

"I would like to ask my distinguished opponent a few questions touching on other public policies in the government of this state. The questions are these:

"Gen. Stevenson, how do you stand on direct primaries, and in the event that the present law is held unconstitutional would you work for the enactment of a new one?

"Do you, general, approve the efforts to collect the $15,000,000 back taxes withheld from the state by the Illinois Central railway and would you continue those efforts?

"Do you favor the creation of a deep waterway and the utilization of the water power for the benefit and profit of the state, and would you continue to press the litigation now pending to preserve to the state its waterway rights?

"How do you stand on the question of civil service in the state institutions and would you enforce the present merit law?

"Would you continue the policies inaugurated during the last three years of making the asylums curative instead of merely custodial institutions?

"What are your ideas on the development and improvement of our public highways now in progress under the direction of the highway commission?

"What do you advocate in the way of improvement of educational methods now under investigation by the educational commission?"

Tells of State Civil Service.

The governor ridiculed Uncle Adlai's one issue, the taking of the charitable institutions out of politics. He said that was done three years ago.

"Gen. Stevenson," he said, "is a prominent lawyer of our state, but he has evidently not kept pace with the statutes which have been passed by the general assembly during the last four years. During that time and within my administration, for the first time in the history of the state, a civil service law was placed upon our statute books removing the employés of our seventeen state charitable institutions from political influences.

"The law has been in operation since Nov. 1, 1905, and since that time no person has been appointed to any such position until his fitness therefor had been tested by a public competitive examination before an impartial commission.

"All that Gen. Stevenson speaks of in regard to the administration of our state charitable institutions has been accomplished during my administration. Vague, indefinite, sounding phrases cannot obscure the above facts."

F. L. Smith to Support Deneen.

The report that the anti-Deneen republican leaders have given up the fight on the governor is now well authenticated. The latest news to reach the republican state headquarters at the Grand Pacific hotel is that Frank L. Smith of Dwight will come out for Deneen at a massmeeting in his home city tonight. Col. Smith, who was defeated for the nomination for lieutenant governor, was opposed to the governor in the primary fight.

Gov. Deneen and John E. W. Wayman will address a massmeeting in McVicker's theater at noon tomorrow.

This evening the governor will speak at meetings at Commercial avenue and Ninety-first street and at Market hall, Pullman. Other republican meetings are scheduled for tonight at 311 Larrabee street, 861 West Wolfram street, 5109 Ashland avenue, 1419 West Sixty-first street, Gier's hall, Central Park and North avenues, and 6654 South Halsted street.

STATE TO CATCH NIGHT RIDERS

Troops Headed by Governor Rush to Scene of Murders.

LEADING ATTORNEYS KILLED

Restriction of Tennessee Fishing Leads to Hanging and Shooting.

Union City, Tenn., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Night riders, who murdered Capt. Quinten Rankin at Reelfoot lake, also are believed to have murdered Col. R. Z. Taylor, aged 60. Rankin's body has been recovered, but no trace of Taylor has been found. The killing was done because new laws of the state have restricted fishing and Taylor and Rankin were instrumental in the passage of the new statutes.

A mob last night went to Ward's hotel at Walnut Log, Tenn., and took Taylor and Rankin, both prominent lawyers of Trenton, from their rooms.

A man named Powell, who hauls fish from "The Log" to Hickman, is said to have been forced to accompany the mob, which numbered about eighty members. Powell had been stopping at the hotel and when the riders called every one out and compelled them to line up, Powell, Col. Taylor, Capt. Rankin and a surveyor whose name is unknown are said to have been taken away, the others being permitted to return to their beds. The surveyor escaped with Powell.

Taylor Tries to Swim Bayou.

Powell states, it is said, that after killing Rankin a vote was taken regarding the disposition to be made of Taylor. During the dispute Taylor made a dash and jumped into the bayou, starting to swim across it. A number of shots were fired at him, and in the confusion Powell slipped away and brought back the story of the escape or attempted escape of Taylor.

It is thought likely that Taylor is hiding in the woods and, fearing the searching party may be night riders, is afraid to come out.

Searchers found the trees on the edge of the bayou clipped by bullets, and there were deep footprints in the mud along the shore. On the other side of the bayou there was a single footprint.

One hundred militiamen, under the command of Col. W. C. Tatom, left Nashville tonight at 10:30 o'clock for Reelfoot lake. The orders calling them out did not state whether they were to do guard duty at the courthouse pending the grand jury investigation or whether they were to go into field service.

State Offers $10,000 Reward.

Gov. Patterson came to Union City tonight and announced that the state would give $10,000 reward for the apprehension of the murderers. The governor is going to the scene of the murder in person and it is expected that he will take troops with him.

Judge Joseph E. Jones called a special session of the Circuit court tonight and will have a grand jury impaneled at once for an investigation of the night riders' latest outrage.

Last night as Col. Taylor and Capt. Rankin were about to retire they were called from their rooms to the hotel yard. Neither anticipated trouble and descended unarmed. Night riders surrounded the building and as the two men came out covered them with revolvers. They were put on horses, each behind an outlaw, and carefully guarded.

Rankin Hanged and Shot.

The night riders then quietly took up their march from the hotel, turning down the road towards Reelfoot lake. Guests at the hotel in a few minutes lost the sound of crunching hoofbeats and nothing more was learned of the fate of Capt. Rankin until this morning. Proceeding to the edge of Reelfoot lake, the night riders pulled out a rope with which they had provided themselves and placed the noose about Capt. Rankin's neck. Examination of the scene of the murder failed to reveal evidence of any struggle.

Capt. Rankin was strung up from a limb on the bank of the lake, for the fishing privileges of which he had contended with the night riders. The masked men then stepped back and opened fire on the swinging body, riddling it with bullets. Col. Taylor evidently was alive at this time and witnessed the murder of his law partner.

FOUR MEN COOKED IN ESCAPED STEAM

Caught in Compartment Under Engine of Steam Barge Maggie Marshall.

HOME BOUND, LAST TRIP.

Survivors Wait Long for Aid, Then Three Swim Ashore for Assistance.

Four men were cooked to death in the engine room of the steam barge Maggie Marshall of Manistee, Mich., at a point in midlake thirty miles east of Kenosha Monday night. The boat, bearing the remains of the men and an exhausted crew, was towed into Kenosha yesterday afternoon. Four hours before three men, all members of the crew, swam a mile from the disabled boat through a heavy sea in order to bear tidings of the disaster and get relief.

The Dead.

HICK, CHARLES, aged 24, assistant engineer, Marinette, Wis.

MICKLER, ERNEST, aged 17, a deck hand, Manistee, Mich.

MEYERS, REED, fireman, aged 30, of Black Lake, Mich.

PETERSON, JOHN, chief engineer of the steam barge, aged 35 years, of Manistee, Mich.

The men were in a little compartment under the engine room when the steam pipe burst and the big valve struck on the top of the trap door, leaving them penned in to await death in the steam. Mickler was the only one who had a chance to get out of the steam filled prison, and his body, terribly burned by the steam, lay near an open window, and cuts on his hands showed that he had thrust them through the window in an effort to save his life. The body of Fireman Meyers was found lying on the coal pile. He looked as if he had died instantly.

Crew Passes Jolly Evening.

Capt. Andrew Olesen, in charge of the boat, had left Chicago at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon with a crew of fourteen men, all of them, with the exception of Mickler, old sailors. The men knew that they were homeward bound on the last trip of the season, and they were a merry party during the run out of Chicago, though the lake was rough. The engineers and the fireman had been on deck during the evening joking with the deckhands, and just before 10 o'clock Capt. Olesen put down the lights and sent the men to bed.

Half an hour later the men were thrown from their beds by an explosion which seemed to have the violence of an earthquake. Capt. Olesen was the first man to reach the deck, and the great cloud of steam coming from the engine room told the story of the trouble. He rushed to the door closely followed by other members of the crew, but the company of rescuers was driven back by the force of the escaping steam. Two or three times they made an effort to get into the engine rooms and then a gust of wind from somewhere slammed the door in the inner room and the last hope of rescue was cut off for the men caught in the steam.

As soon as possible signals of distress were sent up and a man placed at the bell with instructions to keep it going as long as he could stand up. The engine had stopped working and the barge fell into the trough of the sea, the man at the wheel being unable to control it.

Captain Walks Deck Praying.

With the knowledge that four of his companions were meeting an awful death and he powerless to aid, Capt. Olesen walked the deck praying for aid. There was no outcry from the hold notwithstanding the fact that the other members of the crew shouted in an effort to get some word from the men. The only answer was the hissing of the steam.

Not one of the men returned to his bunk for the night, but they remained with the captain all during the long vigil, hoping that some sail might be sighted. At times the boat turned almost over and the heavy seas beat over the deck. Time and again the anchor was dropped, but it failed to hold and the boat drifted rapidly toward the beach north of Kenosha.

All night long the steam was so dense in the engine room and the hold that the members of the crew could not enter. Just as day was breaking the steam abated and the captain and the mate were able to go into the engine room and find the bodies of the dead men. The twisted and burned remains were taken to the main deck and placed on one of the hatches while the men got tarpaulins and covered them. Then began another long wait. With the coming of the light the captain thought that the signal of distress would certainly be seen by the life saving crew lookout at Kenosha. At 9 o'clock he decided that he could wait no longer and called for volunteers to make an effort to reach the beach through the surf.

Start for Shore in Yawl.

First Mate Nels Thompson, Wheelman Otto Falk, and Night Watch Alex Forrstrem volunteered. Capt. Olesen got down the yawl and helped the men get started. All of them wore their heavy sailors' suits and life preservers.

The men had rowed less than 100 yards from the disabled barge when their boat filled with water. All of them set out to swim for the beach. It was nearly a mile away, but the men managed to hang together, and with the surf carrying them along they reached the beach after half an hour. On the beach they found the boat in which they had started. It had been carried in ahead of them, and a number of farmers were awaiting their coming. They were taken to a farmhouse, but they refused to change their clothes and at once took a car for Kenosha.

Life Savers Unable to Run Out.

Capt. Fountain and the seven members of the Kenosha life saving crew made an effort to go out to the disabled barge in the surf boat, but could get only a few hundred feet from the harbor piers. Later a tug was secured, and it towed the barge in. As it came in more than 1,000 people were lined up along the piers.

The three men who had swum in were the first to board the boat, and there was a pathetic reunion between them and the other members of the crew.

Capt. Oleson and his crew had been running between Chicago and Manistee in the lumber trade all summer. Other members of the crew included Edward Henderson, Charles Sonnenberg, Harold Henderson, Charles Peterson, Otto Anderson, and Alfred Johnson. All the survivors live at Manistee.

The Maggie Marshall is owned and operated for the Louis Sands Salt and Lumber company of Manistee.

JUDGE PASSES ON FIT OF DRESS.

Torrison Says He Knows Little About Corsets and Awards Plaintiff Part of Her Claim.

Deciding whether a woman's gowns fit is a difficult task for a judge, according to Municipal Judge Torrison. The judge was deciding a case yesterday in which a woman was suing a dressmaker for the return of money paid.

"I paid Mrs. Linfield $12 for making this coat and skirt," testified Mrs. Amalia Pearson, 735 North Fairfield avenue. "The cloth cost $16.75."

"The fit of that skirt is perfect," Mrs. Linfield said. "She was wearing a different style of corset when the coat was fitted and that makes all the difference in the world."

"I know little about corsets," the court said in summing up the evidence. "But the skirt appears to be a pretty good fit. I shall give judgment for $7 in favor of the plaintiff and admit such cases are difficult for a court to decide."

Henry C. Strong's $50,000,000 Infringement Suit on Appeal.

BASED ON AN OLD PATENT.

Bell Company Alleges Invention in Question Was Not New.

The $50,000,000 infringement suit of Henry C. Strong against the American Bell Telephone company et al., involving the "combined telegraphic and relay telephone," which has been pending since March 7, 1901, may be disposed of by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today.

Strong filed his application for a patent March 19, 1884, and it was granted Feb. 24, 1885. The defense in the lower court was that the apparatus complained of as an infringement was in well known public use by the Bell Telephone companies and also by the complainant from four to six years before Strong filed his application for the patent. After receiving his patent Strong, according to the records, formed the Atlantic and Western Telephone company and sold stock, and it was under that company's name the case reached the lower court, where Judge Kohlsaat dismissed the bill. Then the plaintiff took the present appeal.

The records show that Cameron and Lewis, Washington lawyers, who probably will appear today, filed the suit, and the defendants' brief was filed by Attorneys W. K. Richardson and A. D. Salinger of Boston Mass., but Attorney George P. Barton of Chicago will represent the telephone company here.

Plea of Defendants.

Part of the defendant's brief reads:

"The complainant company is apparently made up of a number of persons who have been misled into the belief that the company has a valuable asset in the patent in suit. This patent, and the claim against the telephone companies for infringement thereof, are the only assets of the company, and the sole business of the company is the carrying on of this suit. The contention put forward by Strong in his rambling statement seems to be that he was the original inventor of the speaking telephone, and it is apparently on this remarkable and irrelevant contention that complainant bases his claim for infringement and asks damages of $50,000,000."

Strong Makes Plea of Poverty.

In the lower court Mr. Strong pleaded poverty as an excuse for his long delay in bringing suit, but the defendant pointed out such a state of affairs did not relieve the complaining company because money to the extent of several thousand dollars was realized in the sale of stock for the purpose of the litigation.

Attorney Barton stated that defendant was not alarmed over the outcome of the appeal, and said it was similar to many others that were constantly bobbing up without profit to those bringing them.

SATCHEL CONTAINING $2,000 STOLEN FROM A BOOKKEEPER.

Hundreds of Persons See Daring Robbery at Noon by Two Highwaymen in Washington Boulevard.

A satchel containing $2,000 was stolen from H. P. Stevenson yesterday by two highwaymen who stopped him at Halsted street and Washington boulevard and beat him to insensibility. Stevenson is a bookkeeper for J. W. Allen & Co., 208 Washington boulevard. He was on his way to a bank to deposit the money when he was robbed.

Hundreds of pedestrians saw the robbery and the highwaymen were pursued by a crowd of fifty persons for two blocks.

William Foley, 35 years old, who says he owns a book store at 817 Forty-third street, was arrested in the offices of the Shippers' Guide company, 365 Dearborn street, after a struggle with J. S. Pennington, secretary and treasurer of the concern.

Pennington said Foley was caught in the concern's safety vault. Foley denied it and said he entered the office to solicit subscriptions for a musical composition. He was locked up on a charge of burglary. The police say he has a criminal record and that his picture is in the bureau of identification at the Harrison street police station.

RUNAWAY GIRL FOUND AT WORK.

Fifteen Year Old Anita Flynt of Duluth in a Greek Restaurant.

After a search lasting ten days, Detectives Facklin and Cooney of the Central station last night found Anita Flynt, 15 years old, daughter of Mrs. James Flynt of Duluth, Minn., who ran away from home Oct. 10. She was working in a Greek restaurant at 1668 Lincoln avenue. The girl left her home after she had taken a diamond ring belonging to her mother. She came to Chicago with Theodora Coran, 17 years old. Here the Flynt girl pawned the ring for $25. The money lasted until yesterday, when the Coran girl went to the home of relatives and the Flynt girl found employment.

Youth Is Found Wandering.

Frank Minor, 18 years old, who says his mother lives in Washington, D. C., was found wandering in a stupid condition yesterday, near Union depot, by Detective Patrick Fee. A message will be sent to his mother.

LANDLORDS FACING TRIAL AS RESULT OF VICE FIGHT.

Three Owners of Houses Used for Alleged Immoral Purposes Soon to Be Prosecuted.

E. L. Klute was placed on trial before Judge Going yesterday, charged with conducting a disorderly resort at 3159 Indiana avenue. Thomas Brown, owner of the premises, is charged with renting the house for illegal purposes, and with three other property owners in the vicinity will be tried later.

Klute's arrest was caused by the members of the Douglas Neighborhood Improvement club, which has been fighting vice in the Stanton avenue police district.

Dr. William E. Quine, 3160 Indiana avenue, dean of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, was one of the witnesses called by the prosecution. He described scenes he witnessed in the place conducted by Klute from the windows of his residence and told of the frequent presence of strange men and scores of women in the alleged resort.

Another witness was S. P. Wilson, a printer, 3282 Verson avenue. He told of visiting Klute's place with L. R. Garren, a private detective. They were accompanied by Miss Reta Williams and went to a room to obtain evidence. Without registering they remained in the room more than half an hour.

The property owners besides Brown who are alleged to have rented their premises for illegal purposes and who will be prosecuted later are A. J. Tacey, 188 Thirty-fifth street, and Jacob Silverman, 96 Thirty-first street.

INDICT WOMAN AS EMBEZZLER.

Mrs. Paula Malley Accused of Taking $7,700 Before Her Marriage and Giving It to Men Friends.

Mrs. Paula Malley, former cashier and bookkeeper for the Deering Building and Loan association, was indicted yesterday on the charge of embezzling $7,700. Mrs. Malley, then Miss Paula Schmiedling, was in the employ of the concern for six years and her alleged thefts were not noticed until last November, when she left her position to marry.

According to Ezra Kendall, the secretary of the concern, she was a home loving girl and always dressed plainly. Her thefts of $100 and $200 at a time, he says, she distributed among young men friends.

Herman Paley, 413 Hermitage avenue, a clerk employed by George B. Levee & Co., 95 Washington street, confectioners, disappeared while he had $1,100 belonging to his employers.

CAN'T ABOLISH TRACTION BOARD

City Has No Power to Do It, Says the Office of the Corporation Counsel.

The board of supervising engineers exists by virtue of a contract ordinance and the city council has no right to abolish it, according to an opinion which has been prepared by First Assistant Corporation Counsel Emil C. Wetten. The opinion will be forwarded to the council Monday night in compliance with the resolution introduced two weeks ago by Ald. Cullerton. The opinion has the approval of Corporation Counsel Brundage. The opinion declares the board could not be abolished without the consent of both city and street railway companies and perhaps also that of the bondholders.

Council Committee Recommends Ordinance Imposing a Fine.

FORBIDS CUPID AGENCIES.

Offense to Advertise or to Take Money for Such Work.

Suppression of all matrimonial agencies and the prevention of the tragedies and scandals raised by them within a year in and about Chicago is provided for in an ordinance recommended for passage yesterday by the council committee on judiciary.

The ordinance is in two sections, one making it unlawful to advertise by signs, circulars, handbills, newspapers, or periodicals that the services of the advertisers may be had for matchmaking, and the other making either services or "pretended services" in shunting people toward matrimony, for a consideration of value, a misdemeanor. The fine for advertising is from $100 to $200 and that for acting as matrimonial agent $200 or more for each offense.

"I believe that little of this business is going on now in Chicago," said Assistant Corporation Counsel Howard Hayes, who drew the ordinance. "The United States district attorney's office, through Mr. Seward S. Shirer, asked us to pass such an ordinance to simplify its work, and one was prepared in accordance with his suggestions.

"The murders on the Gunness farm near Laporte, Ind., and the various cases prosecuted by the government against agencies of this sort show clearly that such dealings are worse than folly and should be suppressed."

EXPLAINS WHY THE GERMANS AND JAPS GET FOREIGN TRADE

Prof. Starr Says American Manufacturers Try to Sell Orientals What They Do Not Want.

American manufacturers are behind their German and Japanese competitors in bidding for the great foreign trade because they make things foreign peoples do not want.

So Prof. Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago declared yesterday in a luncheon address before the Illinois Manufacturers' association at the Auditorium hotel.

"Our manufacturers should make the things that are wanted by foreigners," Prof. Starr said. "Germany and Japan do this and they are supplying the wants of the orient where we are not. If we are going to do business with other people we must adapt our manufactures and business methods to their ways of doing business."

Li Sum Ling, editor of the Chinese Mail, a daily newspaper in China, declared in favor of commercial reciprocity and commercial treaties between the United States and China.

TRANSIT HOUSE GUEST VIOLENT

E. J. Murphy, Montana Cattleman, Becomes Frantic at Dinner and Police Are Called.

Edward J. Murphy, said to be a wealthy cattleman from Augusta, Mont., was taken to the People's hospital last night by the police of the Stockyards station. According to the police he became mentally unbalanced while in the dining room of the Transit house.

Shortly before 6 o'clock the police received a call asking that the patrol wagon be sent to Forty-second and Halsted streets to take a man to the People's hospital. When they arrived Murphy is said to have been violent and he was handcuffed.

Attempts were made by both police and hospital officials to suppress the facts in the case.

DIVORCE ACTION BARES A TANGLE.

Husband of Mrs. Edith Reed Brings Commodore Peare of Yacht Club Into Case.

TRACING OF HER TRUNK.

Wife Expects to Marry Coffee Broker and His Friends Are Mystified.

Commodore George R. Peare, who in business life is known as a coffee broker, but in sporting circles is famed for having won many trophies in regattas while flying the colors of the Columbia Yacht club, has his friends guessing over his matrimonial intentions as a result of his latest affair with a woman.

Mrs. Edith R. Reed, wife of Attorney William L. Reed of the legal department of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad, who on Monday sued her for divorce and named the commodore in his bill, believes Peare will marry her, but the yachtsman's former wife, Genevieve Peare, 1447 Wilson avenue, and others understand that he is engaged to a certain south side girl.

While the outcome of that matrimonial tangle is awaited with interest, there is another affair in connection with the Reed divorce case which also involves Mr. Peare. The incidents of the Reed suit and the commodore's attachment for the woman are just coming to light. It is said that if Peare had not arisen earlier than is his custom on Monday morning he would have been arrested when he left his flat at 4959 Wabash avenue, the same as Mrs. Reed. Reed withdrew the warrant for his wife subsequently, but last night, at the solicitation of friends, he was seriously considering the question of its reinstatement.

Woman Said to Have Confessed.

Mrs. Reed, according to her husband's counsel, Francis M. Lowes, has admitted her offense, and during the afternoon, following a long conference with Peare, she made a proposition to her husband to drop the present divorce action and permit her to go to South Dakota and procure a decree on a charge of cruelty, after which, she said, Peare would marry her. It is only a comparatively short time since Attorney John W. Creekmur pushed Peare for overdue alimony for his divorced wife. Peare at that time pleaded that he was hard up and was preparing for his marriage to a south side miss.

The Reed marriage was romantic. Mrs. Reed is described as a woman with an "innocent doll" face. She was a stenographer in a brokerage office about eight years ago when Reed, then a struggling young attorney who had no thought of his present position with the railroad company, met her and love at first sight resulted.

They were married on Oct. 20, 1901, just seven years to a day before the divorce suit was made public. Reed was devoted to her, caused her to come downtown Saturday afternoons to meet him, and bought her everything his salary would permit. Their flat at 6448 Yale avenue was furnished lavishly. The divorce bill filed Monday afternoon shows that she departed from her husband's home last Thursday and had been in the company of Peare from that time until Monday morning.

Traced by Her Trunk.

Mr. Reed suspected his wife and Peare were too friendly and had no trouble in tracing her trunk direct from their residence to the apartments of Peare on Wabash avenue. Satisfying himself of their relations, Reed appeared before Judge Girten at Englewood and named Peare and the woman in warrants, the purpose being to arrest both. However, the policeman intrusted with the warrants overslept and arrived at Peare's apartments in time to see only Mrs. Reed emerging.

The tear stained woman was taken to the office of Attorney Lowes in the First National Bank building and was confronted by her husband. Here she told of having met Peare by chance some time ago and of her infatuation for him.

Agrees Not to Contest.

Then, it is said, the woman agreed that she would not contest the divorce suit and Attorney Thomas Marshall was called. Meanwhile Deputy Sheriff Henry F. Herrman was summoned to the Lowes office to serve the legal papers and Mrs. Reed, Herrman says, was the picture of utter despair when she acknowledged service. Anticipating a charge of collusion Attorney Marshall impressed upon Mrs. Reed the importance of deciding without any mental reservation and she then said:

"Well, I know Mr. Peare will marry me, but let me go home and discuss the matter with him."

Mrs. Reed returned yesterday with the South Dakota proposition, which she said Peare had suggested.

Before her marriage Mrs. Reed was a Miss Palmer, daughter of a farmer near Joliet. Her parents are dead. The Reed flat on Yale avenue has been closed and Mr. Reed is staying at the residence of his father, L. C. Reed, 6507 Stewart avenue. His friends speak of him in the most favorable terms.

Mrs. Genevieve Peare first filed a bill for separate maintenance against the commodore in the Circuit court on Aug. 1, 1904, alleging cruelty. Later the case was transferred to the Superior court and an absolute divorce was granted Feb. 15, 1907.

LETS DEATH SENTENCE STAND.

Pardon Board Refuses Clemency to Springfield Murderer—Billik's Last Hope.

The state pardon board, meeting with Gov. Deneen at the Union League club, yesterday denied a petition to commute the sentence or issue a stay of execution in the case of Joseph James, colored, 18 years old, who was sentenced to be hanged after he had been found guilty of killing Clergy Ballard at Springfield July 4.

This was one of the crimes that led to the Springfield riots.

Attorney Francis Hinckley, lawyer for Herman Billik, said during the day that he believed he could do no more in the courts in behalf of Billik and would soon seek the aid of the board of pardons.

Citizens' Association Report Tells of Suppression of Policy.

URGES ECONOMY ON COUNTY.

Sending of Cooke to Prison Cited as Causing Respect for Law.

A range of activities which includes nearly every problem in which the municipality has been interested in the last year is shown by the Citizens' association in its yearly report, which was made public yesterday at the annual meeting of the organization.

After stating its attitude on all questions in which it was interested, the association, contrary to the supposed custom of organizations devoted to civic betterment, comes out flatfooted in praise of the police department for its attitude toward "policy games." The report also makes a number of recommendations concerning things which it has tried to do or thinks ought to be done. Among these are the following:

A change in the method of determining the number of employés needed in the county offices.

The enactment of a Cook county civil service law.

The lopping off of one employé in five now on the county pay rolls, as corollary to the two preceding steps.

Appropriations by the county board for investigators to assist the state's attorney, as he may need them.

The electrification of railroads within the city limits, and the withholding of privileges from the Illinois Central railroad until it complies with the city's demands in this regard.

John A. Cooke Case Reviewed.

The efforts made by John A. Cooke, former clerk of the Circuit court, to escape punishment after he had been convicted of conspiracy to defraud Cook county are reviewed in the opening pages of the report, with the final comment that "the spectacle presented in the Cook county case of this failure of the most powerful influences to defeat justice has done much to inculcate respect for law in the community."

To efforts made by Cooke's friends to get him out of the penitentiary is attributed State's Attorney Healy's attack on the "habeas corpus industry," which resulted in a decision from the Illinois Supreme court practically terminating the abuse of this writ.

Of the parole of former Clerk of the Superior Court John A. Linn the report says that Linn was in danger of becoming insane and that, inasmuch as he had made restitution to the county of some $31,500 which he took from it, the association felt justified in indorsing the efforts of Linn's family.

Police Suppress Policy.

Concerning the police, the report says:

"Although Chief Shippy during the last year has had only two men detailed on 'policy' the policy men have made practically no attempt to operate, in spite of the enormous profits which this form of gambling holds out to the promoter. This quiescence on the part of the policy men has been due entirely to the fact that they were convinced the police department was 'on the square' in forbidding the operation of policy shops. Thus convincing proof was once more given of the self-evident fact that connivance of the police force is a necessary feature of the existence of 'policy' on a large scale. There will be no 'policy' in Chicago as long as the police continue to get the right kind of orders."

After touching upon the "absurdity of any attempt on the part of the state's attorney to use for investigation against the police department, if there should be need of one, any of the four policemen detailed to his office," the association calls attention to the fact that grand juries have urged repeatedly that additional investigators be supplied.

"We believe," says the report, "that the usefulness of the great office of state's attorney would be increased greatly if such investigators were placed at his disposal."

Economy in County Offices.

The county board's explanation that it had no funds for this purpose is taken into account and may have had to do with the paragraph on the overpopulation of the county offices.

Reference also is made to a report made by Judges Carpenter, Mack, and Gibbons of the Circuit court advocating the employment of a business expert to determine how many employés really are needed in the county offices, and it is charged that although the county board appropriated $700 for this purpose the judges failed to act on their own recommendation.

The suppression of the sale of improper postcards is attributed by the report to the association's vigorous assistance in prosecuting Fred W. Sabe, 6 North Clark street, who was sent to jail for thirty days for offending in this manner.

Credit is taken by the association for its share in bringing the light and power of the sanitary district into the city, and also for advising the county board to make an appropriation for the investigation of election frauds.

Trustees and Officers Elected.

At the meeting of the association Eugene E. Prussing and Robert S. Hotz were reëlected trustees for five years, and M. F. Rittenhouse and Moses E. Greenebaum were elected for the same period. The officers of the association were reëlected. They are: Julius Stern, president; Robert S. Hotz, vice president; John C. Black, treasurer, and Shelby M. Singleton, secretary.

BATTLE FOR TAFT CENTERS IN OHIO.

National Committee Takes Charge of State and Will Rouse Up the Voters.

REAL FLOOD OF ORATORY.

Strongest Speakers in the Party Assigned to Stump in the Buckeye State.

Following the revelations of republican disorganization in Ohio, the national committee took action yesterday which virtually removes Arthur I. Vorys from the direction of the Taft campaign in that state. National Chairman Hitchcock will take personal charge of the Ohio field and the committee will pour into the state all the strong speakers at its command in an effort to insure republican success.

Mr. Taft will speak in Cleveland at noon on Nov. 2 and in the evening at Youngstown. Other speakers who have been assigned to stump the state in the closing days of the campaign are:

Senator Robert M. La Follette.
Postmaster General George Von L. Meyer.
Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield.
Secretary of Commerce Oscar Straus.
Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver.
Leslie M. Shaw.
Gen. O. O. Howard.
Congressman Nicholas Longworth.
Congressman David Foster of Vermont.

Change of Ohio Management.

Since the opening of the campaign Ohio has constituted a subject principality in the republican scheme of organization. Vorys was the prince on the job, the understanding being that he should run the campaign in that state to suit himself without the intervention of the national committee. This was the consolation prize he received for his disappointment is not being made chairman of the national committee.

But Prince Vorys failed to bring peace to his principality. The republican standing army in Ohio is split up into numerous factions by personal and public issues, and Vorys was expected to close the breaches and heal the wounds. A week or two ago reports began to reach headquarters that the situation in Ohio was growing worse instead of better. Vorys was charged with gross tactlessness in handling the disgruntled factions, as a result of which it was opined that republican success was endangered.

The fact that the Vorys following a few weeks ago attempted to discredit Hitchcock did not help the Ohio manager's case when it was taken up by the national committee. The story that Hitchcock was to be superseded was traced to the Vorys camp. At any rate the committee discussed the Ohio crisis and decided to relieve Vorys of command. The principality has been abolished and Ohio formally reannexed to the republican national organization.

Official Statement Given Out.

The official announcement of the action taken by the committee studiously refrains from any mention of Vorys' name, but none of the politicians around the headquarters failed to put the correct interpretation upon its contents. The statement read:

"From now on until the end of the campaign the republican national committee will assume a greater share of the responsibility for the work in Ohio.

"Chairman Hitchcock informed Chicago headquarters that on account of the apprehension felt by some republican leaders over the situation in Ohio—an apprehension not shared by himself—the national committee would take charge more or less of the campaign there. This does not mean, he explained, the supplanting of the state committee in Ohio, but merely the assumption of more responsibility on the part of the national commitee."

Uncertainty About Dates.

There now is a good deal of uncertainty about Taft's dates west of Ohio. The big meeting scheduled for Gary, Ind., next Saturday night may be declared off on account of the candidate's inability to appear. His voice is in extremely bad condition and his physician has required him to limit his speaking to once a day. It is possible he will be compelled to cancel all his dates previous to his New York speech.

As evidence of the financial disquietude produced by any prospect of the election of Bryan, the republican national committee made public two sample letters from a business concern. In one Banta Bros. & Co. of Lowpoint, Ill., wrote the Moline Plow company asking to "hold our contract subject to cancellation" in case of Bryan's election.

"We have been in business for twenty years," said the letter, "and have fought our way through one financial depression for four or five years, and we would rather not be loaded too heavy in case as above mentioned."

Beveridge Speaks Here Tonight.

Senator Beveridge will speak this evening at a massmeeting to be held in Orchestra hall under the auspices of the Business Men's Taft and Sherman club. From 7 to 8 o'clock there will be a musical program rendered by Ferullo's band. J. V. Farwell will preside at the meeting. Music hall in the Fine Arts building has been engaged for an overflow meeting.

POLITICAL NOTES BY WIRE.

MONTPELIER—The two branches of the Vermont legislature, voting separately, reëlected United States Senator William P. Dillingham for another term of six years, and elected former Gov. Carroll S. Page to fill the remainder of the unexpired term of the late United States Senator Redfield Proctor. Both are republicans.

PHILADELPHIA—Nearly 3,000 members of the Union League club and their guests at the Academy of Music greeted James S. Sherman, republican vice presidential nominee, who addressed them on campaign issues. United States Senator Philander C. Knox and Gen. O. O. Howard also spoke.

QUINCY—W. J. Calhoun of Chicago and Auditor McCullough spoke to a large republican meeting in Turner hall.

NEW CURRENCY IDEA GIVEN

Abbot Says Scheme Would Force Hoards Into Business.

TARIFF MAKES HIGH PRICES.

Republican System Blamed for Low Wages and Greater Expense.

BY WILLIS J. ABBOT,
Manager of publicity department, democratic national committee.

[Copyright: 1908: By Tribune Company, Chicago.]

The news dispatches carried to the voters of the country the other day the report of an investigation into the affairs of certain banks in New York that indicated with some picturesqueness the need of such a system of the insurance of bank deposits as has been suggested by Mr. Bryan and is incorporated into the democratic platform.

Charles W. Morse, a well known speculator and plunger in industrial combinations, found he needed some banks to furnish him with funds for speculation. Mr. Morse is facing bankruptcy, saved from it only by the fact that his creditors refrained from pressing their claims lest they lose all. Some of his banks went to the wall.

In the course of the investigation into his management of the National Bank of North America it was shown that an office boy 19 years old had discounted notes at the bank amounting to $310,000. On the stand the boy declared he had never seen any of the money and that it would be utterly impossible for him to pay a note of even $1,000. The money went to Morse, who controlled the bank.

Now, we are assured by the great bankers, of whom Morse obviously was one of the greatest, that a system by which the money of the depositors should be insured against the predatory methods of the bankers themselves would reduce that noble sense of responsibility so admirably manifested by Morse and by others of his type. "Strict regulation" is what they want, but the National Bank of North America was strictly regulated, examined at due intervals by the official examiners appointed by the United States government, and yet cheerfully lent an office boy $310,000 on collateral which shortly thereafter proved to be almost worthless.

To Circulate Hoarded Wealth.

We democrats will stand on our demand for a system which will protect the money carefully hoarded up by thrifty people and deposited in the banks—a system which will take out of its hiding places in safety deposit boxes money which should flow into the channels of trade and swell the volume of business.

A prominent business man in the northwest, the president of the water and light company in a town in that section, told a story at the Annex the other day which illustrates the methods being employed in the last weeks of this campaign, particularly here in Chicago to create a financial scare and thus force the defeat of the democratic ticket.

He was desirous to place a considerable block of bonds. Sept. 14 he received a telegram from Chicago bankers saying, "We are ready to close deal, come at once." He came and last week the bankers notified him they would not even discuss the matter because they feared Bryan would be elected.

His comment on this seems to me convincing. He said:

"My proposition involves a municipal monopoly—that of water and light. It has no closer relation to the election of either Bryan or Taft than the question of the chieftainship of some tribe in the Fiji islands. Yet to create the impression in my mind that Bryan must be defeated at any cost I meet this absurd proposition. That seems to me to indicate the Taft managers are playing a desperate game in the face of the fact they know they are beaten."

Contracts Subject to Election.

I have as I write in my possession an affidavit made by Fred A. Harvey, a business man of Minneapolis. Condensed, it states that he has personal knowledge of the fact that "orders for goods in the commercial world are being given and made subject to cancellation in the event of the election of William J. Bryan as president. . . . That orders were being received by many of the wholesale houses, and for reasons of political capital many of said orders and for the most part nearly all of said orders were given in duplicate.

"It was understood between the buyer and seller that the goods should be shipped in any event, and that it was an unconditional order, but that the duplicate order might be given out by either party, but that neither should rely upon the same. The duplicate order contained the condition that it was subject to cancellation in the event of the election of Mr. Bryan as president, and the only intent and purport and purpose of the same was to create political capital to be used against Mr. Bryan."

Bryan and Real Prosperity.

The democratic cry this year is "Bryan and real prosperity." The republicans preach prosperity, but their type is more apparent than real. During the last twelve years of republican government there has been an increase in the cost of living of at least 48 per cent. Every man knows it; every housewife knows it. To how many people has good fortune come to such an extent that they can say their incomes have increased 48 per cent?

Any one with a business or a shopping memory going back twelve years can verify these facts. Clothes that cost $25 in 1896 cost $35 today. The tariff bars foreign woolen goods. The glass you use if you are building a house or a commercial edifice has more than doubled in cost, but the wages of glass workers have not been increased.

Beefsteak that was 16 cents a pound then now costs 24 cents. But the cattle raiser does not get the benefit of this increase. The beef trust, protected by the republican tariff system, gets it all.

Concert by Booster Club.

A concert will be given in the hall at 169 Washington street this evening by the Booster club of Chicago council 689, Mutual Protective league. Music will be provided by Edna Rosslyn Doolittle and Christine Anderson, vocalists; Alma Anderson, accompanist; William J. Taylor, violinist. Readings will be given by Dora Currey McCarley.

POLITICS IS MIXED IN NORTHERN OHIO

Taft Probably Will Lead Harris in Cuyahoga County by 5,000 Votes.

LIQUOR ISSUE IS FACTOR.

Former Governor Herrick Refuses to Sulk in Tent; Labor Leaves Bryan.

Cincinnati against Herrick because it alienated the Cox combination, which the secretary of war had roundly denounced.

At the beginning of the campaign for the nomination this year and, in fact, for a considerable time after the Chicago convention, the superloyal Herrick men seemed to be determined to make trouble. They were much more important as numbers go than the Foraker crowd at its best, and they had something in the nature of a real grievance.

Herrick Aiding Taft.

It was fortunate for Taft, therefore, that Gov. Herrick instead of sulking in his tent took off his coat and went to work for the national ticket. He wrote hundreds of personal letters, employed his political lieutenants for hours and days and weeks in the active use of the telephone, and by these efforts succeeded in quelling a republican disaffection which at one time threatened to be serious.

How complete has been the reconciliation between the presidential candidate and the defeated candidate for governor is shown by the fact that Gov. Herrick was intrusted with the work of raising money for the national committee in Ohio, and collected a sum which is entirely to the credit of the home state of Secretary Taft.

At the beginning of the campaign, and, in fact, up to within a recent period, it seemed probable that 80 per cent of the laboring men were against Taft. Within the last three weeks, however, the conditions have improved materially.

The railway trainmen were the first to break away from Gompers. Then the miners south of here followed suit. Finally the ore handlers and some of the shipping men seemed to have changed their point of view.

Labor Turning to Taft.

The more intelligent among the working men unquestionably looked upon Taft with distrust as an accused person, who would have to clear himself of serious charges. They have, however, come out to the republican meetings and have listened intently and respectfully. They have not hesitated to ask questions regarding Judge Taft's record while on the bench. Late reports indicate that there is a surprising change of sentiment among these men, back to Taft once more.

The hearty indorsement of Roosevelt, the record of the secretary on the work on the Panama canal, and a natural resentment against Gompers bringing the laboring men as a class into politics have all helped Taft. How much he has gained it is impossible to say; that he is gaining is vouched for by people who ought to be in a position to know what they are talking about.

There is evidence of a heavily increased vote for Debs, particularly in Cleveland. The panic of last year hit this part of the country more than it did the agricultural districts of the same state, and, of course, a great deal more than the exclusively farming area west of the Mississippi. Cleveland has suffered in its business. There are more men out of work than really should be.

Dissatisfied, Not Appeased.

They form a dissatisfied and radical class. They cannot be appealed to by the argument that if Taft is beaten it will mean a reduction of the chances of labor because they are already out of work. They are looking for anything of a violent character which will help them. They care but little whether the courts are limited in the right of injunction or not, and the prosperity argument does not appeal to them.

Droves of these men will vote for Debs because he is so radical and because they think Bryan does not offer to them anything but old methods of relief. A great many of these men voted for Roosevelt unquestionably, but they were democrats before that. A large percentage of the labor vote of Cleveland has always been democratic and it has been solidly for Tom Johnson.

The increase in the Debs vote means, they tell me, a decided loss from the Roosevelt vote of 1904, but an even greater loss from the Bryan vote of 1900. Debs polled 8,017 votes in Cuyahoga county four years ago, nearly 1,000 more than in Cincinnati. It is predicted that he will increase not only his actual vote but the disparity between this county and Hamilton.

OHIO COUNTY KEEPS SALOONS.

Seneca Votes Wet, as Does the Town of Tiffin, with Fostoria Dry by a Shave.

Tiffin, O., Oct. 20.—Seneca county today voted to retain saloons by a majority estimated at 1,400. A number of towns which have been "dry" heretofore voted "wet." Tiffin went wet by about 1,200 and Fostoria gave a dry majority of only 50. There are sixty-three saloons and two breweries in the county.

STOP WORK TO HEAR TAFT

Tin Mill Workers of West Virginia Applaud Candidate.

PLEASED WITH LABOR IDEAS

Factions of State Unite to Support National Ticket.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—W. H. Taft went through West Virginia today making speeches and tonight the state committee believes he has destroyed the last chance of there being any deleterious result to the national ticket from post-factional fights among the republicans.

In the great industrial centers of the state the workingmen laid off from work and marched and shouted in the candidate's honor, declaring he was the friend of the union man. Just before the train reached Clarksburg it slackened up at the big Phillips Sheet Tin mill, where were gathered several hundred men, employés. On a banner made of a large sheet of tin were the words:

"We have 600 votes for you, Taft," and another which read:

"The Tinplate Republican club; Taft and Sherman stand for protection to all tinplate workers and all other American industries."

Injunction Ideas Please Workers.

At Rowlesburg, where the stop was but a moment, the candidate made the shortest labor speech he has yet attempted. Just as he was about to begin a voice cried out:

"Tell us about the injunctions."

"That's just what I want to talk about," was the quick response. "They say that I am unfair to labor. I deny it. I handed down the decisions in railroad cases which laid down the principles on which the trades unions are based, and which made them lawful and prosperous." The train began to move, but the same voice from the crowd was heard:

"That's the best thing you ever have said."

At Cumberland, in discussing Bryan's proposition to curtail the product of the trusts to 50 per cent of their output, the judge remarked on the lack of detail the Nebraskan has furnished to show how such a scheme could be worked out.

"To furnish the details," he said, "does not occur to an active, fanciful mind that is engaged in preparing for a campaign and not for reforms." Referring again, he said: "Some men are good for talk, and criticism and oratory, and some are good for doing things."

Bryan Makes Burdens Heavier.

Mr. Taft's deep interest in the Philippine question is manifested by the frequency with which he refers to the duty of this country there.

"I cannot escape the deliberate judgment," he said, "that Providence thrust those people on us as a great wealthy nation able to bear the burden, generous enough to carry it, altruistic enough to believe that in the doing of good is all the reward that we can ask.

"But Mr. Bryan has consistently fought us at every turn. He has made the burden that we have had to bear out there doubly heavy, leading his party against the efforts that we were making to tranquillize the islands, sending out, as we did, 50,000 to 60,000 boys in khaki. By his course he lengthened the war from twelve to eighteen months, and many a poor fellow has offered up his life or his limb simply because these gentlemen were determined that our policy in those islands should not be a success. And now he says that we have come over to his view in respect to the treatment of the islands."

CLEVELAND AIDS HELP BRYAN.

New York, Oct. 20.—Three members of the cabinets of the late President Cleveland tonight sought to demonstrate that the democracy of Tilden and Cleveland is lending its support to William J. Bryan.

The occasion was a massmeeting under the auspices of the Bryan and Kern Business Men's association at Carnegie hall, and seated on the platform were former Gov. David R. Francis of Missouri, secretary of the interior under President Cleveland; Judson Harmon of Ohio, former attorney general, and Hilary A. Herbert of Alabama, President Cleveland's secretary of the navy.

Mayor McClellan presided and read a letter from John Bigelow, author and statesman, a friend of Abraham Lincoln and Samuel J. Tilden, urging the election of Mr. Bryan. Former Attorney General Judson Harmon, now democratic candidate for governor in Ohio, was the first speaker of the evening. Hilary A. Herbert followed Mr. Harmon, and he was succeeded by Francis.

BRYAN SPEAKERS LEAVING ILLINOIS

National Committee Apparently Ceases Making a Fight in This State.

Richard Croker of Ireland in Latest List of Campaign Contributors.

The democratic national committee still claims in public that it will carry Illinois for Bryan, but at the same time it has quit fighting in the state—at least as far as outward appearances go.

The report at the headquarters last evening was that the committee had withdrawn, or would as soon as possible, all of its speakers from the state and that Illinois was to be left to its fate.

John Sharp Williams was scheduled to speak at Thirty-first street and Indiana avenue in the Second ward tonight, but this appointment is canceled and Jacob J. Kern is put in his place by the county committee. What other national speakers are now in the state, it is said, are to be sent elsewhere as fast as possible.

The state committee, however, has by no means given up its fight for Stevenson. In fact, it claims that it is more encouraged every day. All of which has set suspicious people to wondering whether the national committee has not made up its mind that the story that Bryan is being sacrificed for Stevenson is true and has determined to take its forces to some state where Bryan has a better chance.

Croker Gives to Fund.

Richard Croker of Ireland has given $1,000 to the Bryan campaign fund. Tammany Hall has gone considerably better by subscribing $10,000. This and some minor contributions reported yesterday add $15,500 to the fund, bringing its total up to nearly $277,000.

The Croker contribution as officially published gives his place of residence as Dublin, Ireland, and in the list given out the island is classified as one of the states of the union. No American, as far as known, objects to this, but there may be hypercritical geographers and historians who will find fault with the accuracy of the classifier.

In fact, the manner in which these contributions are being doled out for publication has started a lot of people asking questions. Mr. Bryan's promise was that a frank and full statement of the contributions to his fund would be made Oct. 15. The day before it was announced the total was $310,000, but the list the next day showed only $246,000. Since then it has been growing, as if from contributors who sent in checks afterwards, until the people who have paid attention to the matter are beginning to wonder how valuable the list is, anyhow, and how many larger contributors will send in their checks too late for any publication.

Latest List of Contributors.

The last additional list given out carries these names:

Colorado—Alva Adams, $500. California—C. McLain, $100. Illinois—William C. Niblack, $100; S. S. Gregory, $100; Bryan and Kern club, $100. Indiana—T. F. Giberson, $100. Ireland—Richard Croker, $1,000. Not the Heart

It is indigestion. Pains in your side around the region of your heart are not always heart trouble. That is usually Indigestion. Kodol stops Indigestion—

It is the gas arising from undigested food that is distending the stomach, forcing it upward. It presses against the heart valve and causes the pain, shortness of breath and smothery feeling.

What you need, is to get the food in your stomach completely digested and at the earliest opportunity. Kodol will do this. Undigested food forms into hard masses, which often cause intense pain. Every Dyspeptic knows what that suffering is. Kodol relieves it as nothing else will.

In indigestion the stomach membrane is inflamed. It is sensitive. Sometimes it is ulcerated. Hard, undigested food, moving against that tender lining, naturally causes pain.

Just about nine times out of ten, people who complain about having heart disease are mistaken. They have Dyspepsia or Indigestion. Their stomach is overworked. It is run down and tired out and it needs rest. Let Kodol do the work of the stomach for a time.

If you take Kodol occasionally, you will surely be surprised to notice how very quickly the "heart pains" will disappear.

Kodol contains all the properties required to thoroughly digest all kinds of food. It is the only way that you can do it. Try Kodol to day on our guarantee.

Buy a large bottle of Kodol and ask your druggist for the guarantee. If you are not satisfied take the empty bottle back and your druggist will return your money without question or delay. Every druggist knows our guarantee is good.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Company, Chicago, Ill.

POLITICS WORRIES LABOR AT PEORIA.

State Federation In for Struggle Over Indorsement of Candidates.

GOMPERS' SIDE AT WORK.

Fight Against Cannon One of the Early Convention Manifestations.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The question of indorsing political candidates, national and state, promises to involve the delegates to the Illinois State Federation of Labor convention, which opened here this morning, in a lively wrangle before the close of the sessions. While strenuous efforts are being made to keep politics out of the convention and to prevent the federation from indorsing any candidates, the opening sessions indicated that it practically will be impossible to prevent the injection of politics.

The republicans in the convention are anxious to have the body take a neutral attitude, particularly as to the national campaign, while adherents of President Gompers' political policy are working for the indorsement of the American Federation of Labor program. Both sides are keeping close watch on each other's moves.

Almost before the convention got down to actual business a resolution was presented and sent to the resolutions committee denouncing in the strongest terms Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and his congressional record. The resolution, which was introduced by John J. Brittain of Chicago, called upon workingmen in the Eighteenth congressional district to work and vote against the reëlection of Speaker Cannon, who, the resolution stated, "has opposed all progressive legislation and his arbitrary rule as speaker has changed the house of representatives from a deliberative body to one under autocratic sway."

Eager to Get at Cannon.

Some of the delegates demanded that immediate action be taken on an anti-Cannon resolution, declaring such an important matter ought to be disposed of at once, but President Edwin R. Wright ruled that all resolutions must first be considered in committee and then reported for action.

A large number of purely labor resolutions also were presented and sent to committee.

A stir was caused among the delegates by the circulation of printed copies of an affidavit purporting to show that President J. W. Brown of the carpenters' union of Danville had offered to pay the expenses of the Danville delegates to the convention and that Brown had spoken in favor of and urged the reëlection of Speaker Cannon at various union meetings in Speaker Cannon's home city.

When the information contained in the circulars became known to the delegates it practically assured an adoption of a resolution denunciatory of Cannon, though the latter counts friends among the delegates and visitors among labor men who also are here in his interest.

Lennon Openly for Stevenson.

John J. Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, spoke at the opening session and was received with enthusiasm. He openly espouses the candidacy of Adlai E. Stevenson for governor of Illinois and is in full accord with the political policy of President Gompers. Mr. Lennon denied he came here for the purpose of boosting Stevenson's candidacy. It is a significant fact, however, that this is said to be the first state convention he has attended in ten years. He stated he came here purely by accident, being on his way to Canton, where he speaks tonight.

"Any one who knows me knows where I stand," said Lennon. "Politically it is the right of each individual union man and workingman to carry out his own convictions, if conscientiously formed. The political policy of the American Federation of Labor, as enunciated by its executive council, is to reward our friends and punish our enemies at the polls. I say it is the right of each individual to determine for himself who are his friends and who are his enemies. It is not within the province of the American Federation of Labor to go beyond that point."

Guarded Praise for Deneen.

In his annual report, which was read at the morning session, President Wright praised the work of the present state administration and gave Gov. Deneen credit for labor legislation secured during the last four years. President Wright, however, carefully avoided mentioning Gov. Deneen's name in his report, the object plainly being to steer clear of politics, although Wright openly is out for the governor and favors his reëlection. A list of labor legislation was urged in the report. The list follows:

A comprehensive employers' liability law.

The guarding of hazardous and dangerous machinery.

Proper sanitation of workshops.

Uniformity of text books in public schools.

The stamping or labeling of prison made goods.

Protection to the public and employés through safety appliances and conveniences on street, underground, and interurban electric traction systems.

The passing of a measure to protect the public health through the prohibition of using second hand medicine or food containing bottles picked from garbage boxes and city dumps.

Protection to individual trades through specific enactment to meet local or trade conditions.

The convention opened with more than 250 delegates present, and additional credentials are expected to be presented tomorrow. The annual report shows that more than 75,000 individual members have been added to the membership roll of the state federation during the last year.

Notable among the new organizations in the federation are the garment workers' union, the street car men's union, and the United Mineworkers of Illinois. The financial report shows the organization to be in a prosperous condition.

Chicago labor organizations are represented by a delegation of forty members, including a delegation of women from the Women's Trade Union league headed by Mrs. Raymond Robins. Mrs. Robins and Miss Nestor of Chicago are arranging a meeting for the working girls of Peoria to be held in the city hall tomorrow afternoon.

Divorce Case Defendant Accused of Flirting with Calumet Clubmen.

MRS OWEN BURNS

A stir was created in Calumet club circles yesterday by the announcement from New York that Owen Burns of the W. F. Burns Co., First National Bank building, had brought suit for divorce against his pretty wife, Dorothy, alleging that she flirted with members of the Calumet club and others.

Members of the Calumet club disclaimed all knowledge of the acts alleged. Names of club members were not contained in the bill, according to the account from New York.

At the Burns home, 5009 Grand boulevard, Mrs. Frances Murray, speaking for Mrs. Burns, declared that there was no truth in the accusations reported to have been made.

In New York Mrs. Burns stated her husband slapped her face six times in the Savoy hotel in London, England, because he thought she flirted with a man at a theater. The next day he repented, she said, and bought her a $1,000 velvet gown.

MAJORS ORDERED TO WALK AS TEST OF ENDURANCE.

Beecher B. Ray and Timothy D. Keliher, Who Failed to Take Ninety Mile Ride, Must Hike Fifty as Substitute.

Among general orders issued yesterday by Brig. Gen. Carter, in command of the department of the lakes, is one commanding Maj. Beecher B. Ray, temporary chief paymaster of the department, and Maj. Timothy D. Keliher to take a fifty mile "hike," beginning tomorrow.

This long walk, a test of endurance made necessary by the army regulations, is to be taken in lieu of a ninety mile horseback ride which the two majors recently failed to take.

They will be accompanied by a detachment of soldiers from Fort Sheridan in charge of Capt. W. J. Grasgow. The party will detour Diamond lake, making twenty miles the first day, sixteen the second day, and the remaining fourteen miles the third day.

DUFOURS' BOND IS FORFEITED.

Defendants in "White Slave" Case Fail to Appear for Trial in the United States Court.

The trial of Alphonse and Eva Dufour, indicted on a charge of keeping alien women in a resort at 2021 Armour avenue, in violation of the immigration laws, was to have been heard in the United States District court before Judge Landis yesterday. The defendants failed to appear. Their joint bond of $10,000 in cash and $16,500 in real estate was declared forfeited.

MITCHELL DENIES BACKING NOMINEE

Feelings Hurt Because Some One Printed His Photograph Over Alleged Statements.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—John Mitchell, former president of the United Mineworkers of America, today repudiated as unauthorized certain campaign circulars sent out purporting to give his political views.

The circulars to which Mr. Mitchell objects contained alleged likenesses of the labor leader, accompanied by political opinions attributed to him. Apparently the documents were sent to the secretaries of most if not all of the miners' local unions. Mr. Mitchell is hurt to think any one would believe him so lacking in modesty as to send his picture abroad, regardless of what he may think of politics.

"In order to remove any misunderstanding that may exist," says Mr. Mitchell in a statement issued to the public, "I wish to inform our members that I have not mailed or authorized any one else to mail to any member or officer of our union or to any one else any poster containing my likeness or giving expression to my political views, except so far as these views are expressed in the official circulars authorized by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

Buffalo Paper Prints Untrue Message.

"Only a short time ago a weekly paper published in the city of Buffalo printed what purported to be a telegram signed by me, declaring unequivocally for one of the presidential candidates and with equal emphasis voicing opposition to another. That telegram, which has been given wide circulation, was not written by me or by my authority. I never saw it or heard of it until it appeared in the columns of the publication referred to.

"I am abundantly able to speak for myself, and I object to these unwarranted liberties being taken with my name.

"As I understand the policy of the American labor movement and the action of the United Mine Workers of America, it is that the organizations of labor are not committed to any political party; the workingmen of America are endeavoring, so far as lies in their power and without regard to political affiliations, to elect to public office bona fide members of trade unions or other candidates who are known to be in sympathy with the political and industrial reforms necessary to the protection and preservation of the interests of the wage earners.

Wants Union Men in Office.

"To this end I have written letters of recommendation and shall write others urging our fellow workers to support trade unionists and friends of the trade union movement who have been nominated for official positions.

"It seems to me that inasmuch as the manufacturing, the mercantile, the professional, and to a lesser extent the agricultural, and even the leisure classes are so well and so numerously represented in our state and national legislatures, the wage earners should also be represented by a group of strong men from the ranks of labor, whose training and experience are such as to enable them to present in an intelligent and forceful manner the needs and requirements of that great division of society which is least able to protect itself. When all factors are thus represented we can expect such general legislation as is essential to the welfare of the whole nation and such special laws as are necessary to protect the interests of each separate division."

KEEP GUNS FROM TIEDEBOHL.

Wife Fears the Accused Treasurer of Brewing Company, Held in Denver, May Harm Himself.

Denver, Col., Oct. 20.—When Theodore Tiedebohl, accused of the embezzlement of $17,250 from the Conrad Seipp Brewing company of Chicago, of which he was secretary and treasurer, was brought to Chief Hamilton Armstrong's office at the police headquarters here today, his wife asked an officer to remove from the chief's desk a number of revolvers.

"I am afraid," said the young woman, "that my husband will grab one of them and kill himself."

The weapons were placed beyond reach of the accused man.

He was arrested last night and will be held until officers arrive from Chicago with requisition papers for him.

R. J. Evans, secretary of the Seipp company, yesterday filed an attachment suit against Theodore C. Tiedebohl for $17,250. Evans claims the money was paid to Tiedebohl for the company and that he retained it.

GOMPERS APPEALS TO TAFT

Asks Proof That He Ever Lied About Presidential Candidate.

TALKS IN ORCHESTRA HALL.

Declares Labor Unions Should Not Be Classed with the Trusts.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, at a meeting in Orchestra hall last night called on William H. Taft to specify wherein the labor leader has lied.

"If Candidate Taft can specify wherein I have lied, and prove that I lied, I will make public apology and retraction," he stated. "In the event of his failure to do so then I call on him to apologize."

The meeting was under the auspices of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and 1,500 men gathered in the hall to hear the addresses. Conspicuous in a center box was Robert E. Burke, and well to the fore on the platform was Roger Sullivan. The remainder of the stage was filled with officers of labor unions.

"Candidate Taft has lost his manners," said President Gompers. "When he accuses me of lying he loses his dignity." Mr. Gompers did not tell his audience when Mr. Taft had accused him of lying.

Asks Equality of Opportunity.

"There are involved in this campaign," he resumed, "questions of equality of law among all of our citizens, and I will call to your attention the fact that when Thomas Paine cried, 'Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty,' it applied to our day as well as to his day.

"Thank God that the American masses of citizens are not typified by the man with the bent back and receding forehead; they are not typified by the man with the hoe. The American masses are typified by the man who stands erect demanding equality of opportunity and, insisting on it, will be satisfied with nothing else.

"Mr. Taft says he has done more for labor than I have. I have only helped in the common uplift. I have worked for social betterment, and have tried to take the children out of the workshops and the mills, and give them the opportunities of the schoolroom and the fire hearth so that they might grow to real manhood and womanhood.

Says Unions Are Not Trusts.

"Our present injunction laws would make it appear that labor unions constitute trusts; that the man who walks the streets looking for work and who belongs to a labor union is a member of a trust; that the union officers seated here on the platform are trust magnates; and that I am a monopolist.

"We have no desire to become a privileged class, much less a privileged class of wrongdoers. If a man of labor be guilty of any violations of the law, treat him as you would any other man of the country. Arrest him and give him a trial before a jury of his peers.

"The injunctions issued against the laboring man are unlike any others issued, and they are only issued against laboring men in dispute with their employers.

"Let me say as a man and an American citizen that I will not surrender my freedom of speech, jail or no jail.

"I have been accused of entering into an agreement to deliver the labor vote. I couldn't if I would and wouldn't if I could. I know how I'm going to vote—that's a cinch," and the chief labor leader waved both arms high in air.

FORTUNE FOR REPOSE OF SOUL.

St. Paul Man's Will Bequeaths $19,000 for Masses for Himself, Friends, and Relatives.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 20.—By the terms of the will of Gregory Koering, filed in the Probate court today, $19,000 is left in trust to pay for masses to be held in the Catholic church.

The masses are to be said for the repose of the soul of the deceased and some of his relatives and also for the late Bishop Thomas Grace and for the benefit of the present archbishop of this diocese.

Mary Van Bek, a relative of the testator, is named as executrix, but the supervision of the disbursement of the funds in the estate is requested to be placed in the hands of Archbishop Ireland.

A word about "Ringing again"

When the operator who completes your call, "plugs into" the line you want, that act causes the telephone bell to ring. It continues to ring intermittently until some one takes the receiver from the hook.

When the call is answered and the receiver is off the hook, there is no means of ringing the bell. Yet, in case delay occurs in getting a particular party to the telephone, many people insist that the operator shall ring again—a thing she is powerless to do until the telephone is hung up.

The operator answers you in 4 to 6 seconds; you get a response in 25 to 30 seconds—on the average. Further delay, if there is any, is occasioned at the other end of the line and is avoided by prompt action by those who answer telephone calls. It doesn't help matters to pound on the hook and ask the operator to "ring 'em again."

SAY RAILROADS FACE BANKRUPTCY

E. W. McKenna of C., M. & St. P. Line Cites Notable Depletion in Freight Revenues.

DEMAGOGUES TO BLAME.

Higher Rates, It Is Declared, Are Needed to Prevent Cut in Wages of Employes.

"There are approximately 3,300,000 citizens of the United States, investors in bonds and stocks of railway companies, employés of railroads, and persons engaged in the manufacture and sale of railway supplies, whose vital interests in the pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness do not seem to have been the concern of any one."

With these words E. W. McKenna, second vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, introduced an address before members of the Western Railway club at the Auditorium last evening.

Choosing as the title of his speech "A Constituency Without Representation," Mr. McKenna made a plea for better treatment of the transportation interests by the public and by legislatures. He argued that railroads should be permitted to increase their rates in order to bring their facilities up to a point of perfection demanded by the growing business of the country and to prevent eventual bankruptcy.

Holds Demagogues as Blamable.

"Political leaders, desirous of obtaining power and prestige," he said, "have appealed to the plastic minds of a large mass of the citizens of the country, who are not inclined to economic thought. They have instilled the erroneous idea that transportation interests of the country had in all the past placed unjust charges upon them for their transportation. They appealed further to their selfish interest in the thought that by the processes which have been in existence during the last few years each would have to pay less money for his transportation, and that no baneful results would come to them, as it was all gain and no loss, and if any loss must ensue it must fall upon a nonresident plutocracy, for whom they felt no concern.

"The experience of the period from the close of the fiscal year 1898 to the same time in 1906 proves conclusively that the commercial and industrial expansion of the country is governed absolutely by the ability of the transportation companies to afford necessary facilities for the safe and efficient exchange of commodities."

During this period, he stated, the amount of tonnage handled had increased 89 per cent, and $2,244,187,447 had been contributed by investors for expansion of older railway properties in order that they might keep pace with the expansion of trade and commerce, while the average rate per ton mile had decreased from .753 cent to .748, or .005 cent.

Values Higher; Revenues Lower.

"These figures," he continued, "present the amazing condition that notwithstanding the advance in price of every other commodity the rate per ton mile, which is the unit in railway freight transportation, actually shows a decrease. Is this condition consistent with the value which has been added to every other commodity or form of service during the eight years under discussion?"

Continuing he said in part:

"If the railroads are rendered powerless to make head against the volume of influence which has depressed their revenues and the natural conditions that have increased their expenses it must follow that the present owners of the $14,500,000,000 invested in railway property will realize that the security upon which their faith was placed has been undermined. Then will result the inevitable struggle that a railway goes through between a condition of reasonable affluence and pending bankruptcy.

"If a cure for present conditions is not found railways for their own survival must ask labor to share in the enforced economies which are necessary for their existence."

The conference of the western railroad traffic officials to consider whether the roads in western classification territory are to adopt the new uniform bill of lading, which was set for yesterday, has been postponed until Friday.

President McCrea Here Today.

President McCrea of the Pennsylvania will arrive in the city this afternoon on the annual inspection tour. The inspection party will remain in Chicago only an hour before they leave for Winemac, Ind., to spend the night before proceeding to St. Louis.

The party will include Joseph Wood, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg; J. J. Turner, second vice president; E. B. Taylor, third vice president; D. T. McCabe, fourth vice president; and S. B. Liggett, secretary, all of Pittsburg; and John P. Green, first vice president, and Samuel Rea, third vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, of Philadelphia.

The order of the interstate commerce commission in the Missouri river rate case, lowering the through rates from the east to the Missouri river, has been extended for fifteen days from Oct. 26 in order to give time for the hearing on the injunction asked by the railroads, which has also been postponed at the request of the commission to Oct. 29.

The National Association of Dining Car Superintendents will begin its annual convention tomorrow morning at the Great Northern hotel. Such subjects as the comparative merits of table d'hôte versus à la carte service will be discussed, as well as many details in connection with the railroad commissary departments.

HIGHER R. R. RATES DEMANDED.

Missouri Pacific Official Makes Financial Report and Declares Present Income Must Be Increased.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20.—The report of the Missouri Pacific railway for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, given out today, places the gross revenues for the year at $44,238,702 and the operating expenses at 71.5 per cent of the gross revenues, or $31,646,787. The total income from all sources, including the net revenues, was $15,467,713. The surplus, after the payment of taxes, interest, dividends, etc., was $1,050,506.

Vice President Charles S. Clarke in his report, after expressing confidence in the reëstablishment of business activity, says:

"Aside from the increased business, it is necessary that the carriers obtain higher freight rates than now prevailing. The costly exactions of the national and state governments have so swelled the expenses as to reduce the margin of profit to a figure that is not adequate to meet the financial requirements of the railroads."

Recent legislation reducing passenger rates is partly blamed for a reduction in passenger earnings.

Court Enjoins 2 Cent Rate.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 20.—Judge Trieber in the federal court here today granted the nine auxiliary Iron Mountain lines a temporary injunction against the 2 cent passenger rate and freight tariff promulgated last winter by the railroad commission. Each road must give a $25,000 bond and the state can take action to dissolve the injunction after five days' notice.

CHECKS EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID.

West Pullman Health Official Sees Danger of Second Outbreak in Sanitary Conditions.

The epidemic of typhoid in West Pullman, caused by germs in the milk supply of the suburb, was pronounced under control yesterday by Dr. W. A. Evans, commissioner of health. Possibilities of another epidemic lurk under the ground, he said, and are not entirely to be averted by the advent of cold weather.

"In West Pullman the health measures are for the most part of the village order," said Dr. Evans. "The absence of sewers is noticeable and is complemented by many surface wells. It is hard to keep a surface well and contamination apart."

TEACHERS WILL STUDY TAXES

Federation to Accept Advice of President Otto C. Schneider.

MAY LIGHTEN SCHOOL TASKS.

Question of Limiting Pupils to 40 in Each Room Will Be Discussed.

President Otto C. Schneider of the board of education yesterday advised the members of the Chicago Teachers' federation to buy text books on the subject of the income tax and, after thorough study of the subject, to fight for a revolution of the present taxing system. His advice will be followed.

This announcement was made by Miss Margaret Haley, business manager of the federation, and a committee of four, who waited on President Schneider and invited him to address the meeting that has been called for Friday evening in Handel hall. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss ways and means of obtaining revenue to put into effect the recommendation of Supt. Cooley to reduce the number of children in each schoolroom without interfering with the salaries of the teachers.

Schneider Declines.

President Schneider declined to address the meeting on the subject stipulated, as it involved a criticism of the taxing system, and he said he could not do that on such short notice. He declined to discuss his conference with the committee, but said he had a pleasant talk with the members for half an hour. The latter expressed much praise for the president. The members of the committee beside Miss Haley were Miss Frances Harden, Miss Fay Freeman, Miss Anna Waldschmidt, and Miss Elizabeth Bushmann.

Pleased with Reception.

The committee's report at federation headquarters was as follows:

"We were received cordially by President Schneider. He told us he was not in favor of a large membership in the school classrooms, but that he did not want the membership cut at the expense of the teachers' salaries. He said also that if there was any way in which he could help us in our work he would be glad to do so. He criticised our taxing system, and told us that we ought to get some text book on the subject of income taxes, study up, and make a fight for that."

"We have had many inquiries and communications since it became known that we had taken up the question of taxes," said Miss Haley. "We had two requests today to hold meetings on the south side.

"President Schneider's suggestion that the federation make a study of the income tax question is an excellent one, and we will take it up."

Would Lighten Teachers' Work.

The question of reducing the average number of pupils under one teacher will come up before the board at its meeting this evening. With the president of the board and the superintendent of schools arrayed on opposite sides, a spirited debate is likely to result.

At the last meeting of the school management committee Mr. Cooley recommended that the official maximum for each elementary room be reduced from forty-eight to forty, and on his explaining that this is to be done gradually, as funds for employing new teachers become available, the measure was passed in committee. President Schneider opposed it on the ground that as funds become available they should be used to raise teachers' salaries and not to reduce the number of pupils in the rooms.

Cooley Gives Views.

"Educators agree," said Mr. Cooley, "that no elementary teacher can handle more than twenty-five pupils satisfactorily. We cannot reduce the average to such an extent in Chicago, however, and as a working basis we have taken forty as a maximum. The measure ought to be passed—I don't care who opposes it—if the Chicago schools are to reach the degree of efficiency they ought to have and must have."

A second recommendation of the superintendent, reducing the limit for high school rooms to thirty, probably will be passed without opposition, this having been forced largely by the threat of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools to drop the local high schools from their accredited list unless the reduction is made.

POLICE OFFICIAL DISCREDITS "CONFESSION" IN MANN CASE.

Wife of Charles McCormick Clawater, Who Says He Is "J. H. Raymond," Ridicules His Statements.

Charles McCormick Clawater, who thinks that he is "J. H. Raymond" and that under that name took Fannie Gilmore Thompson to the Michigan avenue rooming house where she met her death, was likened yesterday by Inspector John Wheeler to J. C. Truelson, who, in a jail in Vernon, Tex., last summer, "confessed" to tragedies of the Gunness farm only to be later discredited. Wheeler says he has no faith in the statements of the "confessor."

Clawater made his "confession" to the lawyer employed by Luman C. Mann, alleged murderer of Mrs. Thompson, and identified by three persons as "J. H. Raymond." But Clawater failed to convince his wife of his participation in the Thompson tragedy. When his "confession" was made public yesterday she immediately stated that her husband had a monumental imagination.

A discrepancy is shown in renditions of what took place at the rooming house as related by the "witness" and inmates of the house.

As "J. H. Raymond," Clawater insisted that he left the rooming house at 4 o'clock of the morning, following his first appearance there, with the woman and did not return. Three of the state's witnesses have repeatedly declared they saw "J. H. Raymond" twice in the house in the afternoon of the day named by Clawater.

Clawater says he paid only a portion of the room rent, whereas the owner of the rooming house declares "J. H. Raymond" paid in full.

You May Enjoy Your Meals

If You Will But Equip Your Stomach With the Right Means to Handle the Food.

If you go into a restaurant, cafe or hotel, where all your environments, the lights, dazzling linen, silver, cut glass, music, chatting and laughing women, seem to foretell of a pleasant meal, your stomach should not revolt when you read the menu card.

Heavy steaks, soups, oysters, entrees, salads, etc., should hold no terrors for the healthy stomach and they do not.

A small box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets placed in your vest pocket will be sufficient guard against the mad revels of a worn-out stomach.

A tablet taken a few moments after a copious meal will remove any ill effects of food from your stomach and you may eat as generously as those about you.

One of these little tablets will of itself settle all questions of indigestion for that meal and will place your stomach and digestive organs in a better condition for the next.

Your blood will be enriched, and the depleted gastric fluids will be rebuilt.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are natural, active, digestive agents who give to the gastric juices the elements they lack, which ease the stomach, remove irritation and enrich and stimulate the blood.

All of these statements may be verified if you will take but a little of your time to prove them.

Every druggist carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in stock and will tell you of their merit. These tablets sell for 50c per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you at once by mail a trial package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

BOGUS SUBSCRIPTION LIST CALLS PROFESSORS STUDENTS

E. C. Babcock, Publisher of Breeders' Guide, Pleads Guilty in the Federal Court and Is Fined $100.

Indiscriminate use of the names of instructors and students of the University of Chicago, which included the classification of Prof. Nathaniel Butler and Coach Alonzo Stagg as "students," has caused serious trouble for Edward C. Babcock, publisher.

On the testimony of Prof. Butler and Coach Stagg, who objected mildly to being called agricultural students, and a number of other witnesses, Babcock yesterday was fined $100 by Judge Bethea in the federal court. The technical charge against him was that of making a false subscription list.

In order to take advantage of the second class postal rates for his publication, the Breeders' Guide, Babcock selected a long list of names and exhibited them as subscribers to his paper. Babcock is a printer and, as such, had to do with the publication of the Daily Maroon, the university paper. In this capacity he had become acquainted with many persons attached to the university and these names all were added to the list of "subscribers."

Prof. Butler, when questioned by the federal prosecutors, said that he never had seen the Breeders' Guide and never had called at the office of the Maroon to get it, as Babcock had declared he did. Coach Stagg also denied any knowledge of Babcock or his publication.

After the testimony of several other witnesses had been heard the publisher pleaded guilty.

YOU'LL discover that it's a big advantage to you to buy clothes in a store like ours where you don't have to judge of quality, or feel uncertain about what you're getting for your money.

You may pay $50 or $15 for a suit or overcoat; whatever you pay, the value's there and you get it; we see to it that our goods are priced at what they're worth, not merely at what we can get for them.

At $20, $25, $30, $35, $40, $50 we'll show you the finest clothes that money will buy; special goods, made for us by Hart Schaffner & Marx and other good makers; the latest and smartest models; the newest fabrics, weaves and patterns.

The new gray and black stripes, greens, browns, tans; black and white; blue and black suits, silk lined; many patterns also in overcoats, auto coats, rain coats.

It would be a good thing for you to know how good our values are at $25 in both suits and overcoats; we put a little special effort on that price; it's a good average figure.

But our $15 suits are just as good for $15 as the highest priced garments at their price; we guarantee $15 values as strongly as $50.

Young men's clothes are a feature here; ultra styles for the swagger young fellows; Hart Schaffner & Marx Varsity, $18 to $30; other good makes, $12 and $15. Junior clothes; good values at $5 in many good fabrics; and on up to $10, $12, $15, $18, $20.

IF you're interested in fine hats, look at Stetson's 3X Beaver, $8; or the Stetson "Special" at $5 here only; or Crofut & Knapp's at $4; or Knapp-Felt De Luxe at $6. Other Stetsons, $3.50 to $12; and the best and largest line of $3 hats in town.

YOU'LL get the best shirts you ever put on here among our Manhattans at $3.50, $4, $5; and if you want a lower price, good quality, it is there as low as $1.50. Neckwear values from 50 cents to $3.50.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE.

MIKADO GREETS FLEET OFFICERS.

Ruler of Japan Sets Aside All Traditions to Honor the American Visitors.

GOOD WILL IS EXPRESSED.

He Replies to the President's Message by Expressing Hope for Peace.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

Tokio, Oct. 21.—All traditions of the emperor's court were set aside today that honor might be given the officers of the American battleship fleet. Rear Admiral Sperry, his flag officers, and the commanders of the sixteen battleships were received by the emperor in the royal palace, where no other foreigner and few Japanese ever had set foot before.

Rear Admiral Sperry, when introduced to the emperor by Ambassador Thomas J. O'Brien, read the following message which previously had been submitted to the emperor:

"Admiral, Flagship Connecticut, Yokohama:

"Convey to his majesty, the emperor of Japan, my best wishes for his continued good health and happiness, and that of all the inhabitants of his realm.

"Express to his majesty the high gratification afforded me and the people of the United States at this opportunity which permits the commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet in person to present my appreciation of the friendship which has existed from the earliest time between the United States and Japan and of the honor to the United States in this invitation to the United States Atlantic fleet to visit the empire of Japan in its practice cruise around the world.

"You will express to his majesty, the emperor, my earnest wish for the strengthening and continuance of the cordial relations which exist and have always existed between the two countries.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Reply of the Emperor.

To this the emperor, through his interpreter, replied as follows:

"Admiral Sperry, it affords me especial pleasure to welcome you as the representative of the American navy and to receive through you from your respected president his friendly message. I request you to assure the president that I most sincerely appreciate and most cordially reciprocate his sentiments of friendship and good will. It is a source of profound satisfaction to me that the most cordial relations of regard and good correspondence exist between Japan and the United States, and my thanks are due to the president for affording my subjects by your visit an opportunity to give new proof of their sincere attachment for your countrymen.

"I also wish you to convey to the president this message: The historic relations of good understanding and genuine friendship with the United States I count as a valued heritage of my reign, and it shall be in the future as it has been in the past my constant aim and desire to weld the ties of amity uniting the two countries into indissoluble bonds of good neighborhood and perfect accord. I trust that the same success which has so far attended your voyage may still be with you to the end."

Emperor Meets All Officers.

The emperor and Rear Admiral Sperry then reëntered the audience hall, the emperor standing with Rear Admiral Sperry on his left and an interpreter on the right, while the officers of the fleet were presented to him. The whole scene was repeated in another magnificent room, where the empress received the visitors.

The presentation was followed by an elaborate luncheon, at which forty-five persons were present. Then the emperor retired, meeting Rear Admiral Sperry at the door to bid him a most cordial farewell. He presented the officer with a magnificent silver vase.

Later the officers of the American and Japanese fleets, some American visitors, and many of the most prominent citizens of Tokio, numbering 1,000, were entertained at a garden party at Asano, and tonight the officers were the guests of the Naval club at a reception given by Vice Admiral Saito, the Japanese minister of marine.

While Tokio is the center of attraction, Yokohama also is filled with bluejackets, who are offered every form of entertainment. Up to the present time perfect order has prevailed among the sailors on shore liberty. There is no diminution in the popular enthusiasm with which the Americans are received. The most popular cry among the children of Japan is, "Three cheers for America."

Damage as Result of Storm in China Proves Greater than at First Reported.

AMOY, Oct. 20.—The damage done in Thursday's typhoon was much greater than at first reported. In Chang Chow 3,000 houses, including the prefect's yamen, were destroyed and 1,100 persons killed. In Lam Cheng, fifteen miles west of Chang Chow, 600 houses were destroyed and 1,200 persons killed. Five years ago Lem Cheng was flooded and 3,000 were drowned. Fifteen miles north of Chang Chow three villages were destroyed, 400 persons being killed.

Chicago Rector Gets New Honor.

THE REV. JOHN HENRY HOPKINS

HONORED BY CHURCH COUNCIL

The Rev. John Henry Hopkins in Charge of Missionary District.

NOW RECTOR OF EPIPHANY.

Will Resign Pulpit to Take Up Field Work in Western States.

At the closing session of the Episcopal missionary council which had been in session at St. James' church during the last three days the Rev. John Henry Hopkins was chosen department secretary for the Fifth district, which includes the middle western states.

The appointment will necessitate his resignation from his west side parish—the Church of the Epiphany—of which he has been rector since 1899, for his new duties will be in the nature of field work, largely the organization of parishes in the country towns and outlying portions of the district.

The position is an important one, the need of which was emphasized by many of the speakers during the progress of the council, and the selection of Dr. Hopkins is regarded as a strong compliment to his ability.

Is of Clerical Ancestry.

He was called to Chicago from Christ church of St. Joseph, Mo., where he had served about four years. Although he came of a family that long had been prominent in Episcopal church work, his grandfather having been the first bishop of Vermont and his father a preacher and an educator of distinction, he did not enter the pulpit until after some experience in the business world.

After he was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1883 he engaged in the fire insurance business until 1887. He then entered a theological seminary in New York, from which he was graduated in 1890. For a time he was assistant at Calvary chapel, New York City, was assistant rector of St. James', Chicago, from 1891 to 1893, and then spent two years as rector of Trinity church, Atchison, Kas. He is 47 years old.

Other Officers Elected.

Other officers elected in the permanent organization of the district are:

President—The Rt. Rev. Boyd Vincent, bishop of southern Ohio.

Vice president—The Rt. Rev. Charles Palmerston Anderson, bishop of Chicago.

Secretary—W. R. Stirling, Chicago.

Treasurer—W. J. Stewart, Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams was elected as representative of the district in meetings of the board of missions.

Farewell to the delegates to the missionary council was said by Bishop Anderson during an evening service at St. James', which was attended by all the priests and bishops who had not left the city. A special appeal for contributions for missionary work met with a generous response.

NOTES FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

PARIS.—France has proposed to the Mexican government that King Victor Emmanuel of Italy be named to arbitrate the rival claims of these two countries to the ownership of Clipperton island in the Pacific ocean.

BERLIN.—The Prussian parliament was opened by Emperor William. In his address his majesty indicated the intention to introduce a modification of the existing antiquated three class electoral system.

PARIS.—Jules Claretie, who resigned on Oct. 17 as director of the Comédie Française to become the dramatic critic of the Figaro, has withdrawn his resignation.

AUSTRIAN POLICE CAPTURE GENERAL

Envoy from Montenegro to Servia Held at Station for Seven Hours.

PARIS IS STILL NERVOUS.

Defiant Ministry in Bulgaria Favors Refusal to Pay Indemnity to Turkey.

BULLETIN.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

SALONICA, Oct. 20.—An encounter between Turkish and Bulgarian troops has occurred at Djourmaya on the frontier. Seventy Bulgarians and ten Turks are said to have been killed. It is rumored that a Bulgarian band that was trying to enter Turkish territory near Palanka has been annihilated.

BELGRADE, Servia, Oct. 20.—Gen. Vukotics, an official of the Montenegrin government, who left Cettinje three days ago for this city on a mission to the Servian government, arrived here today from Agram, where he was arrested by Austro-Hungarian officials and detained for several hours.

"On my arrival at Agram," the general said, "gendarmes entered my car, dragged me out, and took me to the prefecture of police. I was then searched and my purse and papers, in fact everything I had, taken from me. My baggage also was completely ransacked.

"I gave the officers my name and explained my status as a special envoy to King Peter. I showed also the passport and safe conduct given me at the Austro-Hungarian legation at Cettinje, but all to no avail.

Release Ordered After Seven Hours.

"Ultimately I was permitted to send a telegram to Baron von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, complaining of the treatment accorded me, which was a violation of international usage. After considerable delay an order arrived from Vienna instructing the police to release me, and this was done.

"I was detained at the police station for seven hours, and as I lost my train connection my journey was delayed altogether for fourteen hours."

This occurrence has aroused again a bitter feeling toward Austria-Hungary on the part of the Servians, and the people are greatly excited.

French Circles Still Nervous.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The feeling in French government circles is distinctly nervous, both with regard to the situation in the Balkans and the proposed international congress.

Official advices from Turkey indicate that the Turkish government is manifesting some impatience because Bulgaria has failed to present any official communication since Turkey received the French assurance made in the name of the Emperor Ferdinand, while from Sofia comes the information that the Malinoff cabinet still refuses to accept the advice of Ferdinand, who advocates a peaceful settlement, and insists that it would be preferable to go to war than to pay an indemnity.

Until the Bulgarian ministry yields definitely, it is considered by the officials of the French government that the danger of war has not been dispelled.

Servia to Pay Indemnities.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A dispatch to the Times from Belgrade says that the Servian government, upon Austria's insistent demand, has apologized and paid an indemnity for an attack made on shops there belonging to Austrians.

Tht premier also personally has apologized to the German minister, says the dispatch, for the arrest recently of the German military attaché as a spy.

Bank Examiner Explains Accused Man's Ice Stock Trades.

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—At the trial of C. W. Morse and President Curtis of the National Bank of North America evidence was given showing Morse's manipulation of the market when he attempted to force ice up to 110, a figure it never came anywhere near reaching.

Another development was the revelation of how he had made a profit of $30,000 for the president of his American Ice company, Wesley Oler, who was getting a salary of $24,000 a year, and how he had "carried" him—with the aid of the Bank of North America—to the extent of a loan of $141,000. The deal was for the purchase of ice stock at 71, even when Mr. Oler didn't want to buy and didn't want to borrow, when he was already indebted to another Morse bank, the New Amsterdam.

How Deal Was Made.

Oler's $30,000 profit was made when he asked Morse for a loan of $43,500 on 1,000 shares of ice. Morse took Oler's note and the cash was advanced by the Bank of North America. The stock was sold out at a profit, which was credited to Oler on another debt he owed the bank.

Later Morse told Oler the bank had 2,000 shares of ice and urged him to buy it at 71, telling him it was sure to go up. Oler said he didn't want any more stock, as he was in debt to the bank. He said he was nearly out of debt and was anxious to get all the way out, but Morse induced him to take it, giving his note for $141,000. Then when ice had been put up by Morse to 90 Oler wanted to sell, but Morse would not let him and said to hold the stock until it was 110.

Did Not Know Stock's Owner.

Oler, on cross examination, said he didn't know whether the 2,000 shares of ice were owned by Morse or by the Bank of North America.

Bank Examiner Edward P. Moxey told of the purchases and sales through various brokerage houses on Morse's account of ice stock. The monthly totals showed Morse bought more than he sold. In March Morse's purchases and sales amounted to 178,081 shares. The exchange total for the month was 190,000.

DOWAGER QUEEN OF ITALY AGREES TO ABRUZZI MATCH?

Report from Rome Also Declares King Will Give $120,000 Tiara to the Bride.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Rome correspondent of the Central News states that Queen Dowager Margherita has given her consent to the marriage of the duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins.

It is further stated that the king's wedding gift to the bride will be a diamond tiara valued at $120,000.

Another dispatch states that the cruisers Fieramosca and Etruria have been ordered to be in readiness to escort the cruiser Europea, bearing the duke and his bride to Italy after their marriage.

Duke Already Has Sailed?

TURIN, Oct. 20.—The duke of the Abruzzi has disappeared from Turin, and, as search has failed to locate him, the report has gained circulation that he has left for America, sailing under an assumed name.

Engagement News to Senator.

Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 20.—When the cable dispatches from Turin and London in connection with the alleged engagement between Miss Katherine Elkins and the duke of the Abruzzi were brought to the attention of United States Senator Elkins today he said:

"The information is news to my family and myself. We cannot say anything, because we don't know anything about it."

SUFFERED WITH AN ITCHING RASH

On Hands and Arms in Blisters as Large as Hazelnuts—Face Became Badly Swollen and Could Not Work—Grew Worse But Was

SOON CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Last summer I was troubled with an itching rash on my hands; some people called it poison ivy. I guess I must have scratched it during the nights for it got worse. The hands and forearms got all full of little blisters as large as hazelnuts, so I went to a doctor. He gave me a salve and talcum powder and told me to take a needle and open the blisters, but instead of getting better it still got worse. Then he gave me some medicine and my hands and face got all swollen. I could not work any more. After lingering around for three weeks I thought I would try the Cuticura Remedies. I bought a set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent Pills, and in one week I saw that I was no longer as bad. I kept on using Cuticura and the trouble continued to grow better. In five weeks it was entirely cured. I had suffered four weeks before I tried the Cuticura Remedies and I can recommend them as the best for all skin diseases. I use the Cuticura Resolvent Pills now and then as the best blood purifier. Matthew Ganter, 21 Fayette St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Apr. 8 and 13, '08."

It Pays a Man to Pay for GOOD Shoes

—because there is no other business-like way to get them.

The comforting fact in our store is that in paying for the best shoes made you get them.

Not a pair of shoes in our store is even as low-grade as mediocre. Every pair—for either men or women—at any of our various prices—is ready to give a degree of service far out of proportion to the difference in cost over ordinary shoes.

And we sell shoes as low as $6—which in many stores is cheerfully paid (once) for shoes inferior in every material sense, as well as deficient in elegance of contour and authority of fashion.

The facts are so simple that all we ask is that we may fit you with one pair.

To that first pair we will intrust our future relations with you.

BLAIR LODGE NO. 393, A. F. & A. M.—Special communication Wednesday, Oct. 21, at 3 o'clock p. m. Important work. J. P. DIXON, W. M.
W. E. ANDERSON, Sec'y.

Now is the time for all good men to stay good.

Roger Sullivan kindly gives $2,000 and the state of Illinois to the Bryan cause.

When Missouri women throw lemons at Uncle Joe Cannon they may expect him to say something tart in response.

Well, Mr. Hoist has had at least $12,000 worth of fun out of his collection of Standard Oil letters.

Things are not looking as bright for Mr. Taft as they did a few days ago. Count Tolstoi has come out for Bryan.

Inasmuch as there is "no gambling" going on at any of those places, the bombs should be considered merely as alleged bombs.

Recent dispatches confirm the prevalent opinion that Mr. Archbold did not give those letters away himself.

From the literary engagements already made by Mr. Roosevelt his financial outlook as a coming ex-president may be said to be first class.

A helpless babe born in St. Louis last Friday bears the name of Marie Helen Ahrenhoersterbaeumer, which, however, lacks a great deal of tying the record of Chicago, the home of the renowned James J. Pappatheodorokoummountourgeotopoulos.

Yet there are persons who affirm positively that those bombs never make the mistake of exploding in the rear of the wrong saloon.

Missouri has a splendid opportunity this year to elect another good governor, but his name isn't Cowherd.

While Chicago appreciates its Indian summer, it is sorry for those portions of Michigan that are furnishing most of the smoke.

It is due to Mr. Kern to say that he hasn't lost any more railway passes.

Two weeks from this morning Mr. Bryan will know just what to do about those Chautauqua engagements for next year that are awaiting his attention.

Eleven southern states have contributed nearly $11,000 in the aggregate to the democratic campaign fund. Col. Watterson has made a mistake in not offering, in a loud voice, to be one of a thousand men to raise $100,000 in the south for that fund.

No matter how the election may go, nothing can deprive Mr. Bryan of the recollection of that enthusiastic reception and grand outpouring of the masses at Pilzen park last Monday night.

If paper can be made from cornstalks why cannot some use be made of the autumn leaves that you patiently rake from your lawn and burn in the street?

The duke of the Abruzzi should not mind any thoughtless or flippant remarks that certain American papers may make concerning him, so long as he is solid with Miss Elkins.

The European powers seem bent on crowding the Balkan troubles off the first page.

An all-American baseball team has been selected by the Rev. Billy Sunday, and he has the good judgment to include several representatives of the Cubs and Sox among the chosen ones.

The campaign, as you see, is to wind up in a blaze of glory.

With Col. J. Ham Lewis, of course, in the midst of it.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS.

Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, and other western commonwealths have built up great state universities, of which the citizens boast with increasing pride. Illinois lagged behind for a long time. In some departments at Urbana work was done which attracted favorable comment. But the reputation of the institution as a whole among American universities was by no means commensurate with that of the schools at Ann Arbor or Madison.

In the last decade, however, "Illinois" has pushed to the front. It is mentioned with increasing respect in educational circles. Its progress has encouraged its friends everywhere to believe that it will not be long until it has unquestioned standing in all of its departments among the acknowledged leaders of the land. Because of this steady advance there will be general satisfaction with the declarations of the university senate that academic freedom is jealously guarded in the institution.

The publication of sharp criticisms in a prominent journal of wide circulation reflecting upon the administration and the spirit of the university is the occasion for the declarations. With liberal appropriations from the state, absolute academic freedom for the teaching staff, and hearty coöperation of all interested, there is no reason why the University of Illinois should not become both great and also an object of pride to every citizen of the commonwealth.

DISTRUST THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

As the campaign proceeds to the close it becomes more and more clear that distrust of Mr. Bryan is the chief element in the political situation. Chairman Mack's passionate attack upon business men who are active in expressing their opinion of the effect of Mr. Bryan's election upon business conditions shows that at democratic headquarters this fact—feared from the first—is receiving inexorable confirmation. The hoped for republican apathy is disappearing, the conflict of opinions is sifting down to the essentials, none of the democratic "issues" but are losing momentum, and the Bryan issue casts every day a deeper shadow over his party's hopes.

What is this distrust of Mr. Bryan? The democratic candidate himself gave it recognition when he declared in his speech of acceptance that "an official is not at liberty to use the authority vested in him to urge personal views which have not been submitted to the voters for their approval," a somewhat vague and cryptic utterance obviously intended to quiet the fears of a sound money people as to his intentions with respect to the currency. The democratic managers have all recognized the distrust of Bryan and their strategy has been largely devised to reassure.

Yet it continues and must continue while Mr. Bryan remains Mr. Bryan, a public man who has revealed a persistent superficiality of thought upon economic and financial problems and an incurable passion for glittering generalities. The amiability of Mr. Bryan's character, his magnetism, his emotional eloquence, his political skill, his talent for devising showy but inefficacious remedies for generally recognized evils, his easy readiness in promises, all make him a dangerous factor in our public life, and one which only the shrewd political sense of the American electorate can protect us against.

The Tribune has taken note of the somewhat truculent attitude of the democratic leaders as to this the most salient and important aspect of the presidential contest, and of their attempt to make any reference to Mr. Bryan's economic unreliability appear unfair and coercive. And therefore The Tribune proposes to show why the business world and the investing public distrust Mr. Bryan and ought to distrust him.

Distrust means delay in the restoration of normal business activity, and therefore it concerns not merely the business man but the wage earner and the farmer and every man or woman who earns a living in this country.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, EDITOR.

Theodore Roosevelt has shown himself a splendid administrator. The people have given him the highest of administrative positions. But before he undertook the great tasks of recent years he had demonstrated his ability as a vigorous writer. He won a sure place as biographer and historian. "The Winning of the West" is a fascinating story of the American conquest of the wilderness. "Gouverneur Morris" and "Thomas H. Benton" rank among the best biographies in the well known "American Statesmen" series. The return to the writer's desk promises much for American literature. With historic sense, clearness of apprehension, appreciation of essentials, and the rich experience of public life, his equipment for editorial service on one of the most influential periodicals of the time is superb. The announcement of his future work has a lively interest to every American.

THE SANE FOURTH ORDINANCES.

Next Thursday the council committee on licenses will consider the half dozen ordinances for the protection of life and limb on the Fourth of July which have been referred to it. The work of the committee has been made easier by the commendable attitude of the manufacturers and wholesale jobbers of fireworks. The annual carnage has shocked them and they are ready to coöperate with the city authorities in putting an end to it. They see the desirability of a total prohibition of giant firecrackers, toy pistols, and percussion caps, dynamite canes, and any other device which has dynamite in its composition. How far the retail dealers who have peddled out these dangerous articles share their views is not known; but any adverse opinion they may advance should be disregarded.

It is certain that if the articles mentioned could be banished from the city, and if the purchase of gunpowder by children could be made more difficult, the number of casualties would be greatly reduced. The old fashioned common firecracker and the ordinary fireworks which please children are not the creators of the insane Fourth. It came in with the high power explosives and the toy pistol. It will begin to fade away when they shall have been barred out.

As for the fireworks which may be allowed, their sale and the manner of setting them off should be carefully regulated. Manufacturers and dealers on the one side and the municipal authorities on the other ought to be able to agree on an unobjectionable measure. As for licenses, they should not be imposed for the revenue which is in them, but for regulative purposes. They should not be made so low that small retail dealers would be tempted to make forbidden sales.

The wholesale dealers make one request which should be granted. They wish to have the position of the city defined soon because the fireworks season has begun already as far as they are concerned. Neither the committee nor the council should consume any more time than is necessary in agreeing on the position the city is to take. But that position should be clear and positive. It should be an assurance to the community that an era of real reform is beginning and that the Fourth of July is to be stripped of its most horrifying features.

THE CENTRAL SHOULD LEAD.

The Illinois Central was the first Chicago railroad to elevate some of its tracks and make some crossings safe. Little by little other roads were compelled to do the same. The Illinois Central should now be the first to electrify its terminals. As the people made up their minds sixteen years ago that grade crossings must be abolished, so they have now made up their minds that the locomotive smoke nuisance must go through the electrification of railroad terminals. They are having their way as regards track elevation, and sooner or later they will have it as regards electrification. The roads ought to see the handwriting on the wall.

The board of directors of the Illinois Central meets today. The public has been assured that it will consider the question of electrification. It should vote to banish the steam locomotives. Considerations of justice, economy, and policy call for such action. The road has no right to inflict its smoke nuisance upon this community. That nuisance is a detriment to health and to public and private property. It makes cleanliness impossible and it depreciates real estate. If the nuisance were not abated the road would find itself involved in costly and interminable litigation.

It has been the plea of its officials that electrification would be experimental and costly, and the road could not afford it. These objections have been put out of court by the intelligent, thorough report of the mayor's commission. The elaborate figures submitted show that electrification applied to the suburban passenger and freight service would mean a total net saving per year of $264,000. The directors cannot afford to trifle with the interests of the stockholders by refusing to make a change which would bring with it such a reduction in operating expenses.

Sometimes railroads, like private individuals, are too poor to make improvements which would save money. That is not the case with the Illinois Central. The total net cost of electrification, including a power house, if it should be considered advisable to build one, would be less than $6,000,000. That wealthy corporation has now in its treasury most of the money that would be needed.

The directors should face the facts. They ought to see that it will be politic to do voluntarily what they will otherwise be compelled to do. The temper of the council is unmistakable. It will pass a mandatory electrification ordinance. That ordinance will be obeyed with greater cheerfulness and promptness if the Illinois Central, actuated by public spirit and economic motives, leads the way.

OF NO USE IN A PANIC.

If there had been no panic last year bank deposit guaranty would not have been heard of in this year's campaign. The public is told by the believers in that scheme, that it is an infallible preventive of such panics. They say that depositors would no longer be the victims of a sudden fear that banks were unsafe and they could not get their money, while banks no longer would be apprehensive of runs. There would, it is said, be reciprocal confidence, even in one of those inevitable periods of business liquidation and depression which follow excessive expansion and speculation.

Does any one really believe that there would have been no bank panic last year if there had been a deposit guaranty law which took in all the financial institutions of the country? There was a momentary scarcity of currency and a scramble for it. It was necessary to improvise a currency in order that pay roll demands might be met and business go on. The people were so free from fear as to the solvency of the banks that they accepted the novel currency without demur.

Suppose a deposit guaranty system had been established for some time and a fund of several hundred million dollars had been accumulated. How would its existence have relieved the financial situation? If the fund had been kept in the treasury in cash there would have been that much money taken out of the channels of commerce. If it had been invested in securities so that it might earn something it would have been impossible to convert the securities into currency last October. If the banks had been able at that time to turn the stocks and bonds they held into money they would not have held on so tightly to what currency they had. The banks which suspended and subsequently resumed would not have suspended.

It is easy to assert that nervous and easily stampeded bank depositors can be made calm and brave by law. To prove it is impossible. Nobody is well enough versed in the psychology of that kind of panic known as a run on the bank to speak authoritatively. It is certain, however, that the most conspicuous feature of last year's panic—the scarcity of currency and the locking up of so many millions of it—would have been just as marked if there had been a bank deposit guaranty law.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Papa and His Safety Razor.

"Won't you take a chair, Mr. Simpson?" said the little girl to the caller. "Papa will be down just as soon as he has finished hoeing his face."

Doubtful Economy.

The young father had trimmed a switch and was about to wear it out on the small boy.

But the indignant grandmother jerked it out of his hand.

"You shan't touch him with it, Benjamin!" she shrilled.

"That's right, grandma!" said the young father, with a grin of ferocious sarcasm. "Spoil the child—and preserve the forests!"

Serious Ailment.

"Yes," said Mrs. Lapsling, "my husband is much better now. For a day or two, though, he was threatened with tobaculosis of the lungs."

EDWARD VII., according to dispatches received from England, is tiring of bridge and is taking up billiards as less sedentary and as affording a certain amount of post-prandial exercise especially beneficial to an elderly gentleman of the full habit of the king.

To judge from the dispatches one would imagine that the king was taking up billiards as something altogether new. But the fact of the matter is that he was formerly an adept at the game, having as a young man been one of the most apt pupils of John Roberts Sr., father of the present billiard champion in England. During the first twenty years of his marriage, indeed, Edward VII. enjoyed the reputation of being one of the best amateur players in the united kingdom, his only formidable rival in this respect being his legal adviser and crony, Sir Charles Hall, who died as recorder of London. He imparted his skill and his fondness for the game to his two sons and three daughters, and many have been the exciting matches played by them in the delightful billiard room at Sandringham, the present prince of Wales and his youngest sister, the queen of Norway, being particularly clever with the cue, Queen Alexandra contenting herself with the rôle of marker.

In fact, the billiard room at Sandringham used to be a favorite after dinner resort, and is particularly attractive with its beautiful white paneling and in rich relief against the white background a series of exquisitely painted sporting pictures in which some of the favorite horses of the king are immortalized. The space above the paneling is adorned with a beautiful collection of hunting trophies, most of which are the spoils of the king's own gun. Along the sides of the room are richly upholstered settees, which, with cozy chairs and small tables, complete the furniture of the room.

In a glass case against the wall is the king's own cue, a beautiful specimen of Canadian workmanship and a memorial of his visit to the dominion half a century ago, while alongside, also in a glass case, is the favorite cue of the late duke of Clarence. It was the death of that prince, who was so devoted to the game, that caused the king as well as his children to give up billiards for long afterwards. The game recalled too many sad memories. These, however, have been softened by time and both the king and his entourage are resuming their interest in billiards, which is in a fair way to be restored to its old position as the favorite royal game.

Regimental courts of honor are sometimes called upon to perform strange functions. As I have already mentioned in these letters, they have been devised by the rulers of Germany, Austria, Italy, and Russia for the purpose of determining questions where the honor and good name of some officer of the regiment has been impugned, and while no officer on the active or retired list of the regiment can fight a duel without having previously obtained their sanction, he is likewise compelled to comply with their dictates if they consider a hostile meeting necessary. Though these courts of honor have reduced the duels in the German army from many hundreds per annum to less than a dozen in the space of twelve months, they are sometimes a bit tyrannical and take upon themselves judicial duties that pertain more rightly to the ordinary tribunals of the land.

Thus, some time ago a lieutenant of the One Hundred and Thirtieth regiment of infantry, stationed at Metz, considered that he had reason to believe that his lieutenant colonel, baron von Bottenberg, was the lover of his wife. He was not sure of the matter, but nevertheless felt that his honor was impugned. So he submitted the subject to the court of honor of the regiment. The court asked for the evidence on which he based his suspicions, and this having been furnished by the lieutenant, the court found that in its opinion the guilt of the woman and of the lieutenant colonel had been established to its satisfaction and authorized the duel to take place. The encounter resulted in the lieutenant colonel being dangerously wounded in the abdomen.

Since then both combatants have been tried by a court martial, which has sentenced the lieutenant to three months' detention in a fortress and the lieutenant colonel to six months' imprisonment. The kaiser, as generalissimo, has approved of the finding and has placed the lieutenant colonel on the retired list.

What I wish to point out is this: That if the regimental court of honor had found that the testimony with regard to the guilt of the lieutenant's wife and of the lieutenant colonel was inadequate, it would not have authorized the duel, which could not have taken place. In one word, the regimental court would have cleared both the woman and the officer. Its sanction of the duel was equivalent to a verdict of guilty; and while of course the officers of a regiment have more interest than anyone else in keeping unblemished the fair name and honor of the corps to which they belong, yet it may be questioned whether any of them, and especially the subalterns, possess the necessary judicial training and mind to enable them to weigh correctly and fairly the value of any evidence submitted to their consideration. In this instance, at any rate, the court of honor may be said to have usurped the functions of a divorce court, which was certainly never contemplated when the system was first instituted.

Princess Marie Ysemburg, who has sailed for the United States from Europe on board the Crown Princess Cecilia, which is due in New York today, is one of the unmarried members of the Budingen branch of the mediatized or formerly sovereign German house of Ysemburg. Like so many of the other dynasties of the petty states of Germany, it lost its throne in the great upheaval of central Europe caused by Napoleon at the beginning of the nineteenth century, but retained many prerogatives, among others that of intermarrying on a footing of equality with the now reigning houses of the old world.

The Ysemburg family is in no sense of the world unknown on this side of the water. One of its members, Prince Leopold, was over here as a suitor for the hand of the daughter of the railroad car magnate, Pullman, until the latter, learning that if the marriage took place, the girl would not be received on a footing of equality by her husband's relatives and that her children would be barred from succession to the family estates, peremptorily vetoed the match. The prince has since wedded Princess Olga of Saxe-Weimar and makes his home at Darmstadt. One of his brothers, Prince Charles, married in London an American girl, Miss Bertha Lewis of New Orleans, and by reason of her awkward position in Germany she makes her home with her husband altogether in Paris.

The mother of these two princes—namely: the dowager princess of Ysemburg-Birstein, is by birth an Austrian archduchess and attracted some attention a couple of years ago by her kindly though altogether unsuccessful efforts to bring about the rehabilitation and reform of her misguided niece, Archduchess Louise, ex-crown princess of Saxony.

Princess Marie Ysemburg belongs to a different branch of the family, makes her home at Budingen, in the grand duchy of Hesse, and is about 33 years of age. She is one of ten brothers and sisters and is far from rich.

A Prophetic Essay.

"I was in high school at Dayton at the same time as Orville Wright, now famed as inventor of the aeroplane," remarked Ernest F. Grummel. "We were not in the same class, but I remember one essay that Wright prepared for one of the literary programs. It was about airships, and Wright read from his paper that the time would come when men would navigate the air.

"He read on so enthusiastically that the other students all laughed good naturedly at him for writing along such foolish lines. They all told him a man would be crazy to try to ride an airship. But, as everybody knows today, Wright's youthful enthusiasm has carried him along to success and fame in just that direction."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Stage "Pirates."

Visiting "stars" should not be allowed to escape from Australia untaxed. The rich spoil which they are taking away belongs in great part of right to our own artists—the singers and painters who keep the flame of beauty burning amid hardship, privation, and neglect. The visiting "stars" should be heavily taxed and the proceeds applied by government to Australian art schools and scholarships.—Table Talk, Melbourne.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

THE PATRIOT.

A Farce in Three Acts.

BY

WILLIAM COLLIER AND J. HARTLEY MANNERS.

Presented in Powers' Theater, Chicago, by William Collier and Company on Oct. 20, 1908. The Cast:

Sir Augustus Plantagenet Armitage	William Collier
Pop Strong	John Saville
Steve Masterson	Wallace Worsley
Percival Robertshaw	Frank Westerton
Cæsar	Thomas Martin
Wambliktl	Thomas Beauregard
Nell	Helen Hale
Bijou Strong	Helena Collier-Garrick
Viola	Paula Marr
Honorable Ferguson Armitage	Rex Macdougall
Gainsford	Reginald Mason
Albert	John B. Adams
Mrs. Berkshire	Annie Esmond
Nora	Helena Byrne

William Collier has every reason to feel proud of the laughter his personal efforts to amuse create in "The Patriot." But he has not the slightest excuse in the world to feel proud of "The Patriot" itself. It is the cheapest farce he has had in several seasons, and he should, as a matter of fact, be rather ashamed of it—seeing that he is part author.

A sometimes popular belief that anything that "gets a laugh" is good farce, or good farcical acting, is no more true than that any man who creates a roar of mirth by sitting down in a pork pie is a comedian—an observation credited most frequently to the late John Laurence Toole of London. And when we are dealing with one of the best, perhaps the best, of farce actors on the American stage, and one who has gained entrance to the best playhouses of the country, it is no time to offer the excuse that the audience laughed and that was enough. The farceur has responsibilities as well as the real actor.

"The Patriot" is a minstrel afterpiece with a high polish. The possible sanity of its plot, the plausibility of its characters, even the mock seriousness of its best scenes are sacrificed to the laugh that follows farcical incidents as old as the forbidding hills—the prostration of a tightly corseted western lady upon the floor of an English drawing room whenever guests are presented, the appearance of the lady's equally crude husband in checked stockings and pumps, and the belief of the principal actor that he is not permitted to sit down in his own apartments if he wishes to remain in style.

Mr. Collier also sees fit to utilize most of the other familiar expedients of this style of entertainment to such an extent that one wonders if he has not gone back through a dozen prompt books and taken out everything with which he ever remembers having earned a laugh. Still this can't be true, as the laughter in "The Patriot," starting hopefully in the first act, begins to die out about the middle of the second, and fades away into a yawn and a smile in the third. Had William collected all his laughs they certainly would have lasted one evening through.

The reader probably remembers Ethel Barrymore's drama of "Sunday," or at least the drama of that name in which Miss Barrymore appeared for a season. "Sunday," as a drama, was almost a farce, though nobody seemed to care about that at the time. "The Patriot" is built upon much the same story. Sir Augustus Plantagenet Armitage is plain Gus, the boss of a mine in Nevada, where he has lived since he was a small boy. His father accompanied him to America from England, then died and left him to continue the development of their mining property. Young Armitage is doing the best he can, in a bright, farcical way, and trying to keep his small force working on promises to pay when he "strikes it," at the beginning of the play. Just as the force threatens to strike finally and for all time the usual English solicitor arrives to tell Augustus the usual story concerning his Uncle Michael, who has died and left him heir to $50,000 a year, providing he marry the usual selected young woman within the twelvemonth.

Armitage is sentimentally interested in a pretty girl of the Nevada camp, but not $50,000 worth, so he goes to England to look over the other one. Follows the usual English comedy: Awkward, ignorant, silly, impossible Americans in contrast to the finished, graceful, exaggerated Englishmen; the final stand of the "patriot," in which he tells the whole outfit to go farther and seek the heat, and his return to the farcical west he left, to be greeted by his former associates with such enthusiasm as a band of dramatic school supernumeraries can excite.

The first act, during a not particularly clear but still an interesting exposition of the plot, garnished with a burlesque meeting of the stockholders in the mine, is liberally sprinkled with Collierisms. The beginning of the second act, featuring a lesson in deportment taught by a disgusted English butler of the upper clawses and misunderstood by the bungling visitor, is also ludicrously amusing. But from that point to the end it is all cheap farce, with only a sane moment or two to relieve it.

In one of these moments Miss Helen Hale steps out of the fairy shoes that formerly carried her through the dances of "Peggy from Paris" and "Woodland" to try her hand at being an ingénue. Let it be recorded that she is a sweet little ingénue, that her style is fetching, her prettiness of face attractive, her manner modest, her reading intelligent, and her future as a regular actress so promising that one is urged to advise her to stick to it.

Intermittently during the evening Helena Collier-Garrick, the perfect foil for her talented brother and a genuine comedienne, blossoms as a highly comic mining camp lady with the liquor habit; John Saville, who has too much dignity and too much sense ever to be exactly happy in farce, tries to appear happy; Wallace Worsley appears as a handsome Jack sort of miner with at least ten lines and three grunts, and Reginald Mason gives a perfectly finished bit as the butler. For Collier himself, perhaps the best we can say is that he is funny in spite of rather than because of the assistance he gets from his own play, and that is really high praise. We can't afford to loose William. He is one of the dependable joys of the season. But let him not try again to palm off an afterpiece on us. We don't deserve it and neither does he. There are only two courses for the farce actor of standing to follow: Either he must find a sane farce (and they do exist) or he must find a farce with a reasonable excuse for its insanities.

Manager Thanhouser of the Bush Temple theater announces that Nov. 2 Adelaide Keim will return to that playhouse as leading woman, succeeding Miss Thais Lawton, who has resigned. Miss Keim, who returned to New York after her recent experiences with "The Devil" in the Fine Arts theater, will make her annual reëntrance on the north side as the heroine in "Pretty Peggy." Miss Lawton was, we gather, a trifle too superior for the Bush temple clientèle. Her regard for the matinée girl is probably high, but her love for the adulation the matinée girl seeks to lay at the feet of a favorite stock company actress was not. She was evidently too seriously interested in her work to care much about building up a personal following interested principally in the color of her hair and eyes. Therefore she was not happy, and the change resulted. "My Wife" is the Bush temple play this week.

BURNS MANTLE.

Rigoletto.

Verdi's "Rigoletto" is the offering of the Glickman company at the International this week, and the Italian section of the organization had an audience last evening which left comparatively few places vacant on the main floor or in the balcony. It was an audience encouragingly large and demonstratively enthusiastic. The Italian temperament of the singers on the stage found its fellow in that of their compatriots across the footlights, and applause, bravos, and calls of "bis" were abundant. It is pleasant to encounter this emotional approval now and again—it shows us that all the world has not grown as blasé, or if not exactly blasé, as quiet in its acceptance of entertainment as have we.

Of the performance of "Rigoletto" it lacked something in the smoothness and evenness which have commendably characterized the previous offerings of the company. The chorus seemed less sure of its music and words, the orchestra was not so efficient, and certain of the principals impressed as not wholly sure of music and text. The company is a hard worked one it is true, but the price of public confidence and of prosperity is careful and sufficient rehearsing of each new production put forward. The chorus struggled bravely but the music of "Rigoletto" is tricky, and it clearly had not been given enough preparatory study.

Of the principals first honors fell to Miss Bertossi, who was the Gilda of the cast. Her voice is of distinct loveliness, especially in the upper register, and her singing of much of the music last evening was a source of true enjoyment. The "Caro nome" was given with fine tonal purity and good technical surety and roused the easily roused audience to wild enthusiasm. The duet with Rigoletto in the third act had many moments of beauty so far as the soprano's work was concerned, and her portion of the great quartet in the final act was excellently performed.

Mr. Russo was suffering with the hoarseness which is prevalent nowadays in our smoke laden atmosphere, and singing was not as easy for him as it usually is. He gave good account of his art and skill, however, and in the long romanza at the commencement of the third act and in the "La donna è mobile" accomplished much that was tonally beautiful and artistically praise meriting.

The Rigoletto of Mr. Arcangeli suffered in the main from excess of Italian emotionality—tonal purity and musical exactitude at times being sacrificed to dramatic intensity. He acted the grateful rôle, however, with true Italian vigor, and was successful vocally in his scene with the courtiers in the third act. A new member of the company appeared in the person of Inez Aftalion, who sang the rôle of Maddalena. A woman handsome and personally attractive, she embodied the enticing sister of Sparafucile effectively, and so far as could be judged from the little she had to sing is the possessor of a contralto voice which, while slightly unsteady, is rich and sympathetic in quality.

Mr. Bennett was the Sparafucile, and a satisfactory one, and Miss Condon the Giovanna. This afternoon the English company, with Mr. Sheehan as the duke of Mantua, Miss Hemmi as Gilda, and Mr. Richard as Rigoletto, will be heard, and tonight the Italian section again comes forward.

W. L. HUBBARD.

"Goetterdammerung" in Paris.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Wagner's "Götterdämmerung" received its first presentation tonight before an invited audience. The first public performance will be given on Friday. Tonight the opera was given in its entirety, and Baireuth methods, entirely new to Paris, prevailed.

The performance was announced to commence at 6 o'clock and it was also announced no one would be admitted after the act had commenced. Every one was in place at the hour.

At a little after 8 the first act was over and there was a rush for neighboring restaurants. Men and women in evening dress were looking for something to eat up and down the boulevard, and even the cheaper restaurants soon filled, for there was only an hour's intermission.

In spite of the rush everybody was good natured and by 9:10 all were back in their seats for the second act.

The "Götterdämmerung" had been given before in Paris, but not at the opera house, in May and June, 1902. Eleven performances were given in the Théâtre du Château Dieu.

The performance tonight added nothing to the glory of the work itself or to the Paris opera house.

MEMBERS OF FORTY CLUB ARE "FARMERS" FOR A NIGHT.

Actors, Lawyers, Doctors, and Business Men Don Jeans at Entertainment Held in the Grand Pacific Hotel.

The frost was supposed to be on the pumpkin and the fodder in the shock in the banquet hall of the Grand Pacific hotel last night. At any rate, the hens were roosting, the scarecrow scaring, the ducks waddling around with bewildered quacks, and about eighty farmers and hired men of the "loop district" and the "Great White Way" sat on benches and enjoyed a harvest meal.

The occasion was the return to a simple life of the Forty club, consisting of actors, doctors, politicians, lawyers, writers, and business men of "here and elsewhere." Each guest was asked to don a straw hat and jeans garb before approaching the barn where the fodder was distributed. Each member and guest was called on for a song, a recitation, a story, a speech, or some other form of entertainment. Serious remarks drew bombardments of biscuits and fruit.

Corn husks, hay and chaff covered the floor, and the walls were hidden by the shocks of corn fodder. Barrels of apples, sacks of apples and piles of pumpkins formed other decorations of the room. The only table ornaments were four large scenes from rural life, showing a farmer, a windmill, a garden, and a Texas steer, all made of candy by Chef Luigi Marambini.

John Barton Payne, as outgoing president, introduced Wilbur D. Nesbit, the incoming president, as toastmaster. The following newly elected officers were also introduced: Vice president, Charles E. Kraemer; secretary, Charles H. Burras; treasurer, James H. Channon; chaplain, Dean Sumner; Poet, S. E. Kiser, and directors, La Verne W. Noyes, Will H. Clark, and J. H. Dimmery.

Swedish Dancers to Appear.

An exhibition of physical culture dances will be given at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium tomorrow evening by Swedish national dancers of Skansen Ethnographical gardens, Stockholm, Sweden. The Swedish dancers, who are on their third annual tour of America, were requested to give this exhibition by representatives of the University of Chicago, where two of their members, Miss Anna Peterson and Anders Lustig, are now engaged in giving instructions in dancing.

ITALIAN GARDEN IN COLISEUM.

Artistic Feature Planned for Central Attraction at National Flower Show to Be Held Next Month.

An Italian flower garden will be a feature of the national flower show which will be held in the Coliseum on Nov. 6 to 14. It will occupy the center of the floor and in its center will be four massive pergolas, each seventy-two feet long, twelve feet wide, and about ten feet high. Over these will twine wild smilax. Around them will be broad stretches of lawn, with clumps of giant chrysanthemum plants, huge palms, ferns, etc.

Entries were received yesterday from P. A. B. Widener, Ogontz, Pa.; Mortimer Schiff, Oyster Bay, N. Y.; Howard Gould, who has a country home at Port Washington, N. Y., and W. G. Hoyt of Williamstown, Mass.

These are the first of a large number of entries from eastern private estates which have been promised for the great horticultural exhibition, which will be given by the Horticultural society of Chicago in coöperation with the Society of American Florists.

BAZAAR TO AID MUTES OPENS.

Contributions from Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Taft, and Mrs. Bryan Interest Crowd at Coliseum.

Valuable contributions to the big bazaar for the benefit of the Ephpheta auxiliary for deaf mutes, which opened in the Coliseum last night, were made by wives of the three men most in the public eye today. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt sent a picture of the president and their four sons, Mrs. Taft presented a linen handkerchief with an edge of hand made lace, and Mrs. Bryan donated an embroidered linen handkerchief.

All three contributions were on exhibition and attracted the attention of the crowds attending the bazaar.

Archbishop Quigley formally opened the event last night. Tomorrow, which is Knights of Columbus day, Bishop Muldoon will make an address.

THEIR HUSBANDS TOO BUSY

Mothers' Congress Says Fathers Are Not at Home Enough.

SHOULD BE WITH CHILDREN.

Men Declared to Be Engrossed in Business and Pleasure.

That the fathers of today are altogether too much engrossed in their business and that they are giving too little time to the care of their children were the indictments drawn yesterday at the conference of the Illinois mothers, which held an all day session in Evanston. One speaker also alleged that the paternal parent is today too much given to selfish amusement and because of this finds little time in which to direct the welfare of his sons.

"The American father is a good provider," said Mrs. E. E. Kingsley, wife of the superintendent of the Evanston schools. "In my opinion he is the best provider in the wide world. He sends his family to the pleasures of the day; sees that they are clothed as well as they can be, and packs them off to Europe for extended tours. The great fault, however, is that he finds no time to devote to his children, who need his society. Especially do his sons crave his companionship, and here I will point out the differences between the American and the European father.

"In this country the father hands his children over to some one else to care for, while in Europe, the father accompanies his family to all their amusements, stays at home evenings, and acts as an older brother to his sons, who grow to confide in their parent and to bring all their troubles to him for advice.

"The American father should give his children less money and more companionship. He should also learn to spend less of his time and thought with business."

Father's Triple Duty.

Prof. W. B. Owen, dean of the University High school, spoke, emphasizing three relationships that the father should maintain toward his son. Intelligent sympathy, reasonable authority, and coöperation in the boy's affairs.

"A sympathy in which the father exercises tact and intelligence can be made the means of winning the boy's confidence so that it will be natural for the boy to make his father his partner," said Prof. Owen. "This is the great point to be gained in the conduct of the father toward the son."

President John W. Cook of the De Kalb Normal school spoke on the complexity of education today and of the difficulties that are encountered in the discovery of the right ways to instruct the child at its different periods of development. President Cook said that the high school authorities in Chicago were doing right in ejecting the "frat" from the schools. While the child at a younger period of its existence has a need of such companionship, said he, the high school perod is the most pernicious time for such an affair as a fraternity.

Congress Shuns Politics.

Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch made an unsuccessful effort to have the congress enter politics. She drafted a resolution which was not put to vote, indorsing Street for state's attorney.

Suffrage Meeting Ends Today.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The fortieth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association will close tomorrow. The convention has been marked by good feeling and harmony. With one exception all of last year's officers were reëlected, Miss Eleanor Stewart of Illinois being chosen second auditor in place of Mrs. Mary S. Sperry of California.

An invitation to hold next year's convention in Seattle was accepted.

Harriette M. Johnston-Wood of New York, a lawyer, read a paper on "Some Legal Phases of the Disfranchisement of Women." Mrs. Wood quoted from court decisions and the federal and state constitutions to show that no distinction is made as to sex in provisions relating to the elective franchise. She urged that a concentrated effort be made to induce women to try to register and qualify as jurors, and, in the event of their being refused, each state make at least one test case and carry it to the Supreme court.

At Galesburg for Missions.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The sixty-second annual meeting of the American Missionary association was called to order in the Central Congregational church this afternoon by President W. H. Bradford of New Jersey, using a gavel sent by an Eskimo mission in Alaska. A thousand delegates were present, representing all the territory and insular possessions of the United States. Thomas C. McMillan of Chicago, moderator of the national Congregational council, welcomed the association to Illinois.

President Thomas McClelland of Knox college gave the welcome for the city, and Dr. J. Percival Huget seconded the welcome. Dr. Bradford responded.

The report of Treasurer W. H. Bradford showed that total current receipts of the year aggregated over $387,000, not including $132,000 coming from other sources, while expenditures were $379,695.

The afternoon session closed with a memorial to Dr. Joseph Roy of Chicago, long an official of the society.

This evening Dr. Henry C. King, president of Oberlin, made an address, treating largely of the negro problem.

For Rights of Spiritualists.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—In his annual address before the national convention of spiritualists today President Barne of Chicago urged that all spiritualists establish their sanity while living in order that a jury after death may not stamp them as insane or having illusions because of belief in communication with spirits.

He said cases were on record where attempts have been made to invalidate wills because decedents were supposed to have been victims of hallucinations arising from belief in spiritualism.

"The state of Michigan," said he, "has furnished us with proof that justice is blind and lame when the interests of spiritualists are at stake. The Supreme court of that state recently held that the will of a certain man was invalid because he had suffered from 'délusions' during life. It is our duty to establish our sanity before we die and obviate such occurrences."

Welcomed by Stevenson.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The fifteenth biennial convention of Knights and Ladies of Honor of Illinois was called to order here today with 300 delegates in attendance. Adlai E. Stevenson delivered the address of welcome, and the response was by George W. Clyne of Aurora. Tonight a reception was given by the local lodge in honor of the visitors.

Presbyterian Church State Synod.

Monmouth, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The state synod of the Presbyterian church opened its annual session in this city this evening with several hundred delegates in attendance. The initial sermon was delivered by the Rev. A. G. Bergen D. D., of Decatur, retiring moderator.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

THE REV. FRANCIS J. McCONNELL, pastor of the New York Avenue Methodist Episcopal church of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been unanimously recommended for the presidency of De Pauw university by the general committee. He will be elected Oct. 30.

JOHN JONES BRINKERHOFF, for thirty-four years connected with the insurance department of Illinois, has become the actuary of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, with headquarters in New York.

AUGUSTUS POST, secretary of the Aero Club of America, and A. Holland Forbes, who took part in the recent balloon race from Berlin, have arrived at New York from Europe.

PROF. CHARLES ELIOT NORTON of Harvard, who has been gradually sinking from old age at his home in Cambridge, Mass., is in a critical condition.

SENATOR TILLMAN of South Carolina has returned from a tour of Europe.

DR. WILLIAM T. BULL of New York, who is ill of cancer, is reported worse.

DREAD OF RABIES DRIVES HER CRAZY

Girl Broods Over a Bite Inflicted by a Woman in Dementia.

EMPLOYE AND CASH GONE

Stock Exchange Firm Figures Out a Loss of $30,000 Through Speculation.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE.
New York, Oct. 20.

Insane from Fear of Rabies.

Dora Klaptkin, 19 years old, is in the observation ward of Bellevue hospital violently insane. The girl's malady is said to have been engendered through fear that she had contracted hydrophobia, although according to the physicians of the Harlem hospital, where she was from last Sunday, she has never been submitted to the possibility of contracting the disease.

The girl's fear was occasioned by a rumor circulated after the death in Bellevue hospital last July 14 of Mrs. Sophia Thaler, who used to live in the same flat house with her, that the woman had died of hydrophobia. The woman did not suffer from hydrophobia, but died of acute dementia.

Some time prior to her death Mrs. Thaler, in a convulsion, bit the Klaptkin girl on the cheek. The girl began to worry and soon was ill. On Sunday her condition became such that she was taken to Harlem hospital in convulsions.

Stock Broker's Employe and Cash Missing.

Rufus W. Rowe, for fifteen years employed by the stock exchange firm of W. A. Kilbourne & Co., 40 Wall street, is missing, and an examination of the firm's books has convinced his employers that he got away with about $30,000 subsequently to the first of January last.

A warrant was obtained for his arrest on the charge of one item of forgery by which he is believed to have made $2,500.

The examination tended to show that Rowe had lost the money in Wall street speculation. He has a wife.

Gotham Plans to Discard Horse.

The old horse car line between City Island and Pelham park is to be done away with at last. It is an old joke that passengers on rainy days have kept up their umbrellas because of the leaky roofs and that commuters frequently have lost their trains because the horses stopped to eat the grass alongside the tracks.

A monorail system is to be substituted for the horse cars. It is said that a new company has been organized with a capital stock of $1,500,000, and the promise is made that in not more than three months after the necessary permits have been granted the new system will be in operation.

Asked to Arrest Seller of Cleveland Letter.

The New Jersey police were asked today by the police here to arrest Broughton Brandenburg, who sold the New York Times the so-called Cleveland and Bryan letter. Detectives had been to his home at Lake Hoptacong, N. J., but could not find him. No indictment against Brandenburg has been filed. The warrant charges the larceny of $500 which he got from the Times for the letter.

HENRY W. HINSDALE NO MORE.

Man for Whom Suburb Was Named Dies in a Sanitarium of Old Age.

Henry Walbridge Hinsdale, for whom the town of Hinsdale was named and a pioneer citizen of Chicago, died in a sanitarium in Freeport, Ill., yesterday. Mr. Hinsdale was 83 years old, and three weeks ago was taken to the sanitarium from his Evanston home suffering from the effects of a general breakdown. He is survived by a widow, two sons—Benjamin Hinsdale of Chicago and Henry Hinsdale of New York—and one daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Mosely of Chicago.

Mr. Hinsdale first came to Chicago in 1845, and after a few years became a partner in the wholesale grocery firm of John H. Dunham & Co. His partner, Mr. Dunham, was the founder of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company.

In 1870 he retired from active business and removed to Grand Rapids, Mich., only to return after the Chicago fire.

CHARLES ELIOT NORTON DEAD.

Scholar, Philanthropist, and Harvard Professor Expires After Long and Eventful Life.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 21.—Charles Eliot Norton, the well known philanthropist and scholar, and for many years a member of the Harvard faculty, died at 1:45 o'clock this morning at his home in this city.

Prof. Norton was born at Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 16, 1827. He had degrees from Harvard, Yale, and Columbia in America and Cambridge and Oxford in England. He was married in 1862 to Susan Sedgwick. In early life he was in business sailing as supercargo on merchant vessels.

Prof. Norton was known as a Dante scholar and editor and author.

OBITUARY.

THE RT. REV. HENRY C. POTTER'S funeral services, preliminary to transfer of the body to the crypt of the Tiffany chapel in the cathedral of St. John the Divine, were held yesterday at Grace church, New York. Five Episcopal bishops took part, namely, Greer of New York, Lawrence of Massachusetts, McVickar of Rhode Island, Hare of South Dakota, and Mackay-Smith of Pennsylvania. Bishop Potter died at Cooperstown, N. Y., in July. Ostentatious display was avoided at the funeral, although a long procession followed the casket from Broadway to and up Fifth avenue.

ZEBEDEE R. WINSLOW, who died at the Palmer house Saturday evening, was buried yesterday at Rosehill. Grant post, Grand Army of the Republic, conducted services in the parlors of the Palmer house in the afternoon. Mr. Winslow was the last partner of the provision firm of Magner, Winslow & Co., and had been a resident of Chicago for over fifty years. He left a widow, two sons, and two daughters.

MRS. IRENE BEIDLER EPPSTEIN, daughter of Aaron Beidler, a pioneer of Illinois, was buried on Monday in Oakwoods cemetery. The service was read by Bishop Fallows. Mrs. Eppstein is survived by her husband, Rudolph M. Eppstein, and one son, Aaron Eppstein, an assistant city attorney.

WILLIAM R. BURDICK, who was a member of the county board at the time of the great fire, died at his home, 6264 Jackson Park avenue, yesterday at the age of 75. He is survived by a widow and five children.

NEWS OF THE SOCIETY WORLD

Annual Reception of Art Institute Attracts a Throng.

WEDDING AT RIVER FOREST.

First Salon of Alliance Francaise Friday Evening, Oct. 30.

Art and artists, society and its devotees, club women and prize awarding, picture choosing committees mingled at the Art institute yesterday. The occasion was the thirtieth annual reception of the institute and the opening of the twenty-first annual exhibition of oil paintings and sculpture. The double event called forth a crowd which packed every room of the exhibition suite to its capacity. The hours were from 3 to 6, during which there was music and serving of light refreshments—this latter courtesy performed by an ever changing group of women prominent in the city's club and society worlds.

The cosmopolitan crowd, its fashions ranging from the short street suit to the laciest of reception gowns, marked the advance in Chicago's interest in art as the years have gone by. Time was, and that not in far distant years, when the Art institute receptions were attended by none too many, and many of those only from a sense of art duty to the home city, but the folk who were guests at yesterday's affair came to see the pictures, and this they did with interest except when gathered about the sandwich and coffee tables or that where ice was served.

Among the women who wandered in for the exhibit opening was Mrs. Moses Wentworth, wearing an exceptionally handsome empire gown of blue chiffon cloth with underbodice of gold sprinkled net. With this was worn a large hat of blue trimmed with blue plumes through which were tinges of yellow. Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, in a black gown over which was worn a black lace coat and with hat of black trimmed with tulle, was another guest of the afternoon, and Mrs. W. J. Calhoun was there in old rose cloth. Miss Nellie Carpenter, in blue cloth with white lace; Mrs. J. C. Shaffer, likewise in blue and white; Mrs. John Donald Black (Margaret Horton Potter), in a directoire coat suit of braided blue with a small black hat trimmed with one sweeping white plume; Miss Helen Gilbert in brown, Mrs. La Verne W. Noyes in a gown of soft satin in brown and hat of the brown and tan shades, Mrs. Charles Henrotin in black lace over white, Mrs. Otto Matz in black with white lace, Mrs. Frederick Becker in white lace, Mrs. Frederick Grower in white lace with silver trimming, Mrs. Edward L. Upton in black and white lace, Mrs. Herman Hall in gray cloth with Persian trimming, Mrs. J. Ellsworth Gross, Mrs. C. T. Boal, and Miss Marie Stearns were also in the group who were interested visitors.

Among the artists, Ralph Clarkson, Mrs. Anna L. Stacey, Miss Anna Lynch, Mrs. Edgar L. Cameron, Mrs. Pauline Palmer, Adam Emory Albright, William A. Harper, and others were present.

The marriage of Miss Marion Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Jackson of River Forest, and James White Persons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Persons, took place last night at the family home at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. Ernest V. Shayler officiating; Miss Elsie Jackson, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and Miss Vera Peek of Buffalo, Miss Florine Handy of Bay City, and Miss Blanche Brown of Oak Park were the bridemaids. Clarence Odell of Cleveland served as best man, the ushers being Henry Persons, Ralph Ullmann, Robert Walker, and F. J. Coffin. The future home will be in East Aurora, N. Y.

The first salon of the Alliance Française to be given this winter will be held Friday evening, Oct. 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Le Grand Burton, 66 Lake Shore drive. The second one is arranged for Nov. 24 and will be an afternoon affair at the Art institute, Mrs. Mary H. Knowles to be the hostess. The date for the third has not been decided upon definitely, but it will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCormick early in December.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lugsdin, 1543 Montrose boulevard, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise Brooks, to Malcolm W. Mitchell of Sherbrooke, Que.

The marriage of Miss Carrie Armine Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Watkins of Highland Park, to Arthur Reamy Joyce of Minneapolis will take place in Trinity church, Highland Park, Nov. 28.

Walter H. Wilson, 2619 Prairie avenue, will give a dance at Bournique's Dec. 29 for the introduction of his daughter, Miss Marjorie Wilson.

The engagement of Miss Lettie Marie Rintelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rintelman, 577 Orchard street, to George W. Kalvert of Milwaukee, Wis., is announced. Miss Rintelman, who is a granddaughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Klaner, is a graduate of the Milwaukee-Downer college. No date has been set for the wedding, which will take place in the spring.

The engagement is announced of Miss Blanche P. Friend of Milwaukee and Leo K. Fishell of Chicago, son of Albert Fishell.

PRICES OF MEAT ARE LOWERED.

Reduced Consumption Forces Packers to Try to Stimulate the Demand.

Wholesale prices of dressed beef cuts were lowered ½ cent a pound yesterday, while the market for fresh pork products was reported to be in a demoralized condition, with stocks accumulating and consumers refusing to pay the high prices asked by the packers.

Housewives' reluctance to buy high priced beef products and the fact that temperatures have been too high for the extensive consumption of heat producing foods are the influences which forced packers to lower prices.

While the consumption of beef and pork has been far below normal the last few months, receipts of cattle and swine have exceeded last year's, and packers found it imperative that something be done to increase the demand.

AMONG THE NEW BOOKS.

We are relieved to read in the epilogue that W. J. Dawson's story is only a dream, for in following the story to the epilogue we had lost sight of what we read in the preface. "A SOLDIER OF THE FUTURE" (Revell) is a plea for the emancipation of the church—its emancipation from worldliness. It is the advocacy of a theme that is given wide currency, at present, in this city at least, and has even in dramatic guise been put upon the stage. In Mr. Dawson's book the treatment is less artistic and dramatic than cataclysmic. A young minister of New York, whose career has been one triumphal march to more remunerative calls, suddenly, through what he is confident is a personal call from the man-god whose ministry he professes, realizes that he has been working according to wrong standards.

With this realization comes the determination to change despite the cost. The cost is great, for when he puts in practice his convictions he finds his parish in arms against him and himself deserted by his wife and socially ostracized. After that comes the deluge—the destruction of New York—of all the churchly edifices, with only the germ of universal helpfulness as exemplified in a single woman. Surviving this germ the quondam clergy are to cultivate zealously in the new age. The fact that this is all a dream should soften our judgment considerably. Nevertheless, it cannot be denied that the book leans to the sensational, perhaps through a misdirected zeal on the author's part.

The new Eversley edition of the "WORKS OF TENNYSON," which Macmillan company is putting on the market, is nearing completion. The fifth volume, the next to the last, has just made its appearance. It contains twenty-five poems and four plays, the latter being "The Cup," "The Promise of May," "Queen Mary," and "Harold."

Concerning the much discussed "Crossing the Bar," the editor, the present Lord Tennyson, says in a note: "Made in my father's 86th year, after his serious illness in 1888-'89, on a day in October, 1889, while crossing the Solent, as we came from Aldworth to Farringford. When he repeated it to me in the evening, I said: 'That is the crown of your life's work.' He answered: 'It came in a moment.'"

Tennyson's commentary on the line, "I hope to meet my Pilot face to face," is: "He has been on board all the while, but in the dark I have not seen him." He explained the Pilot as "that Divine and Unseen who is always guiding us." He made his son promise to put the poem at the end of his poems. At another time he wrote: "Poetry should be the flower and fruit of a man's life, in whatever stage of it, to be a worthy offering to the world."

In a note on "The Cup" the editor quotes his father in saying that "Irving had not caught the spirit of the character Synorix." The book also contains some other interesing side lights on the construction of the poet's work.

In a novel entitled "A CAPTAIN OF INDUSTRY" (C. M. Clark & Co.) Mr. Enoch Johnson reproduces in detail a newspaper report of a typical mill strike, and throws in a summary, given in dialogue form, of the leading sociological theories of the day. But a strike and a sociological discussion are not all the ingredients necessary to the making of even a dull novel, so we have a few flushes and sighs, and finally one whole unspeakable chapter—on love. Here and everywhere an enigmatic sesquipedalianism is found where one naturally would look for definiteness and concinnity. He soars upon the leaden wings of polysyllabism, but before he writes another novel it is humbly recommended that Mr. Enoch Johnson put away all his economic and philosophic text books, reading assiduously in their place the entire works of America's most prolific delineator of the life of the smart set.

After that a careful and conscientious study of the rules of etiquette, addressed to both men and women in heart to heart talks by a popular monthly would adequately prepare him for the drawing room scenes. Add to this course of treatment a game or two of golf and its cold shower sequence, and perhaps he would be convinced that it is not necessary for every one who has just one idea to write a novel. Then there are a few things just as much worth while as having one's name on a title page of a poor book.

After all that has been said about nature fakers one is inclined to marvel at the temerity of Mr. Charles Lee Bryson in writing such a book as his "TAN AND TECKLE" (Revell). But the book is attractively written, and to one who does not object to having a little of his natural history with the human analogues thrown in it appears as most interesting. Tan and Teckle were a pair of field mice who made their home in an old tree stump. There they fight their battles with the unfriendly neighbors, there they receive their friends, and there they rear their young. For the story of these two is told with reference to their relation to the other creatures of the field. Though instructive, the story element predominates. Charles Livingston Bull has provided the illustrations.

The plot of the little book "COFFEE AND A LOVE AFFAIR" (F. A. Stokes company) is laid in South America, whither a girl has gone in preference to accepting a proposal of matrimony. There she wanders, with the plot of the story, until another crisis in her life. At the crucial moment, however, she is called to trip the light fantastic, and thus is saved the necessity of saying a "yes" she is sure she would have repented of later. When the story closes we can imagine we hear the wedding bells in the distance, but we have nothing to assure us that the girl at the last second will not desert the man who has waited so long for her to make up her mind.

Of the many books that will be published in honor of the third centennial anniversary of Milton's birth perhaps none will have wider circulation than Mrs. Caroline Atwater Mason's "THE BINDING OF THE STRONG" (F. H. Revell company). That it is fiction will, of course, secure for it a larger public than more serious books, but it will be able to stand upon its own merits as a story and as a tribute to its hero. The story opens with the tall, gaunt, black clad Milton and his little school, among whom is the attractive little Merle Davies. Then comes Milton's marriage with a lightweight, vain maid, whereby he generously accepts an old debt in lieu of a marriage portion. The wife soon tires of her husband's quiet ways of life and leaves him, she vows, forever.

But it is needless to rehearse here the story of Milton's private life; we all know it or can read it in the book before us. When we lay down the book, however, at the time the great man is conscious of his approaching blindness, we feel that the mighty man is more human than we ever conceived he could be. He is still strong and noble, but it is the deep, sweet nature that fashioned "Lycidas" rather than the stern, impersonal creator of "Paradise Lost." He is the patriot, too, of lofty ideals and fearless, and, besides, a man lovable, whose black scholar's gown does not rob of passion. The background of wars and political changes is indicated sufficiently for the understanding of the story, though they have not received too minute attention.

"RAW GOLD" (G. W. Dillingham company) is a story of adventure along the 48th parallel before England and the United States came to a decision of their respective rights. Life there was pretty much of a struggle, for of course the police force was not large enough or fully organized, and brigands had things largely their own way. Any amount of money added to the danger of life and the zest for adventure.

In the story Bertrand W. Sinclair has written a large amount of gold has been hidden by its finders in the mountains; because of it a young girl is orphaned and her friends, who desire to protect her, are all sent upon a series of almost endless hardships, dangers, and mishaps. The story is sensational, but is full of animation. Scenes shift rapidly and the actors play the game of life fearlessly and like men. The love theme runs through it all and pleasantly, though there is little time for sentiment or love making.

A strong and moving story is Harold Begbie's "TABLES OF STONE" (Doubleday, Page & Co.). A little "preachy" here and there, but like the hero in that, and still vivid and likely to be remembered. The story of John Diver, the Yorkshire youth, a giant in stature and almost one in intellect, but with a giant's weaknesses, and how he came down to London and what a muddle he made of his own life and others, is a tale worth telling and worth reading.

There is good character work in the book and many pages of real feeling and power, which is considerable to say of any novel in the year 1908.

* * *

We get pretty well acquainted with "THE BIG FELLOW" (Moffat, Yard & Co.) before we finish Frederick Palmer's book. For he dominates page after page with persistence from the time he prepares to leave college to the day on which, after many financial and political conquests, he returns to marry the girl of his choice. The predominance of one man amounts to abject hero worship that is almost absurd. The boy is big physically, he is fearless, has a high opinion of himself, his own powers, and the ultimate absolute rightness of his ideas.

The Best Stories of Two Famous Authors

Stewart Edward White
THE RIVERMAN
By the author of "The Blazed Trail," "The Silent Places," "The Claim Jumpers," etc.
There is a thrill in knowing such a character as John Orde, the quiet, masterful leader of men, who dominates these pages. He is one of Nature's own, a man's man, a prince of log-drivers and a product of the forest country that bred him. One breathes faster as he reads this tremendously virile story of the lumber regions. "It stirs the blood like martial music." (Chicago Record-Herald.)
"This is Stewart Edward White's most powerful novel." (New York Press.)
Fourth edition. With 14 illustrations in tint. $1.50

THE GUEST OF QUESNAY
By the author of "Monsieur Beaucaire," "The Gentleman from Indiana," "The Conquest of Canaan," etc.
"The GUEST OF QUESNAY is far and away the best story that Mr. Booth Tarkington has given us," says the New York American. "The writing is exquisitely finished and the reading of it leaves an abiding memory of a tender fragrance." It is a beautiful, almost idyllic, love story that is told, with a group of characters even more appealing and lovable than those in the earlier Tarkington books. And what more romantic background could there be than the fascinating Norman village of Quesnay, set down ages ago in the very midst of a deep enchanting forest! The tale may be described as a modern, matured Beaucaire, and it is sure to charm a vast audience of readers.

CUBS AND TIGERS IN DISPLAY GAME.

Big Crowd Turns Out at Terre Haute to See the Two Teams Perform.

TESTIMONIAL TO BROWN.

Disappointment Over Nonappearance of Several Promised Attractions.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—After Mordecai Brown had been handed a chest of silver as a testimonial gift from his home friends today, he went on the slab and pitched six innings against the Tigers, at the end of which the Cubs had the game so well stowed away that he retired in order that the Terre Hautentots might see Overall perform.

In the first four innings Detroit made a strong effort to capture the game, but after that, while the playing was not listless, it was not so snappy as the 6,000 spectators had expected. There was not much applause for the plays as the game proceeded.

Favorites with the Fans.

Brown and Tinker and Evers were favorites, and for some reason the crowd liked Howard so well that he shared the honors of the day, even with Brown. Cobb was the favorite of the Detroit team.

The fans were disappointed because Chance, Kling, and Jennings were not on hand, nor was President Murphy, who also had been announced as one of those who would be present.

Brown's friends at Rosedale, where he used to dig coal, came in large numbers and brought with them a brand of music. The band led in the parade which preceded the game. When Daniel Reagan on behalf of the fans, handed the present to Mordecai his friends enjoyed the embarrassment which prevented him doing more than to bow his acknowledgment.

No Kick on the "Ump."

Cecil Ferguson, the Boston National pitcher, who had arrived home a few days ago, was the umpire, and got through the game without the hint of a kick. Score:

KLING MAY GET FRANCHISE OF THE KANSAS CITY CLUB.

Cub Catcher Has the Backing of a Number of Business Men and May Gain Control.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The Kansas City baseball franchise may slip from the grasp of George Tebeau and fall into the waiting hands of John G. Kling in the next three weeks.

At any rate Kling stands ready to purchase the team, and he is willing to pay a stiff price for the franchise, lease of the park, and last year's uniforms.

Several Kansas City business men called on Kling in Chicago last week and asked him if he would assume the management of the team if they bought it. Kling's answer was yes, and he also said he would take $25,000 worth of stock if the deal were closed.

"If I can get control of the Kansas City club I am willing to give up my fat job with the Chicago club and take charge of the team," Kling said today. "If the Chicago team should refuse to consent to my playing here, I could manage the team from the bench, but I think I can arrange matters with C. W. Murphy, owner of the Chicago team, so that I can play if the deal goes through. I believe Kansas City should have a new deal, and if I'm fortunate enough to get the control there will be at least nine new players here. I know of half a dozen men I can land by paying out real money."

Owner George Tebeau arrived in Kansas City this morning, and said if he got the right price for his Kansas City franchise he would sell it.

GAME WARDEN CATCHES GANZEL

Manager of the Reds Taken on Board a Train and His Stuff Confiscated.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—John Ganzel, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was overhauled by a deputy game warden on board a train in Lake county today and his bag of game confiscated on the grounds that he is a nonresident of the state and not entitled to hunt here without a permit. Ganzel has for many years resided in Michigan, his parents having a farm near Kalamazoo, and Ganzel himself living in Grand Rapids.

White Sox Camp in Danger Zone.

Union City, Tenn., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Among those who had planned for a winter of sport in the noted Reelfoot lake section, where the night riders killed several prominent Tennesseeans last night and where further trouble is expected, are Charles Comiskey, Joe Cantillon, and a party of ball players. Warning has been issued to the sportsmen of the danger likely to be encountered.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT IS THIRD.

President's Son Makes Good Showing in Fast Two Mile Run of Harvard Freshmen.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—After training with the freshman football squad for two weeks, Kermit Roosevelt, the president's second oldest son, jumped the pigskin chasers this afternoon for the freshman track team, and in a fast two mile event took third prize. His running was a revelation to the students, as he held second place for seven-eighths of the distance and was beaten for first place by fifteen yards and for second place by four yards. It is thought he will make the Mott-Haven team in his sophomore year.

Harvard Men Hurt in Practice.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Smith and Foreschelmer, the two best full backs on the Harvard varsity eleven, were sent to the college infirmary this afternoon after a strenuous practice, and neither is expected to play again this year. Smith injured one of his hip bones seriously, while Foreschelmer had the misfortune to strain his right knee and tear several ligaments.

HOW PITCHER BROWN LOST HIS FINGER.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—"I always feel that I was responsible for Mordecai's hand," said Uncle Dave Basley, who came from Montezuma, Ind., today to see his nephew pitch for the Cubs. "Mordecai was 7 years old when it happened. He was at home and his hand was caught in a feed chopper. Mordecai was reaching under while another man was running the machine. It nearly broke my heart, but Mordecai was a brave lad and never complained. I rode to Rockville and got Dr. Gillum, who cut off the finger and patched the rest of the mangled hand. Mordecai just laughed and said he would have a hand like mine." Mr. Basley also is shy the first finger of his right hand.

ANSWER TO SCALPING CHARGE

Secretary Thomas of Cubs Tells of Baseball Tickets.

WORK TOO HEAVY FOR 2 MEN

Chairman Herrmann of National Commission Asks Full Information.

Chairman Garry Herrmann of the national commission, which at the request of hundreds of fans has undertaken to investigate the charges of ticket scalping at the recent world's series between the Cubs and Tigers, has sent letters to newspaper writers and others in Chicago asking for any facts known by them to be true relative to the matter.

President Murphy of the Cubs requested Secretary Thomas to draw up a complete statement of facts for submission to the commission as to the local club's handling of the tickets. The statement of Mr. Thomas is contained in a communication to Mr. Murphy, which probably will be forwarded to Mr. Herrmann at Cincinnati.

Statement by Thomas.

The statement, in part, is as follows:

Chicago, Oct. 20.

Charles W. Murphy, President Chicago Baseball Club.

Dear Sir—In accordance with the request of Mr. August Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, as to how the tickets for the reserved seats were handled for the two games of the world's series played at the west side ball park, I beg to give you herewith a history of the proceedings, from the time the tickets were ordered from the printers.

Immediately upon receiving information from our "ticker" that we had defeated New York and would consequently participate in a world's series with Detroit, I called the printers up on the telephone and ordered them to proceed with the contingent order which I had previously given them for reserved seat tickets. They worked all night on the tickets, and it was agreed that I should have them the next morning at 8 o'clock. Instead of receiving the tickets at that time, however, I did not get them until 9:30 or 9:45 a. m. Mr. Cooke was with me, and we immediately returned to the office of the club, and proceeded to "rack" the tickets in two separate racks provided for that purpose, one rack for each day.

We next started to make up the reservations we had on file, which had accumulated greatly in the morning mail. We have a regular list of everyday patrons, who always receive what they ask for, if we can possibly supply their demands. These people were taken care of first, or rather we attempted to take care of them first, for no sooner had we commenced to make up the reservations than the crowd began to arrive at the office for tickets. We were simply obliged to lock the doors, as it was impossible for us to make up reservations (only two of us) and wait upon the public at the same time.

Office Full of People.

By 12 o'clock Friday noon our office was jammed full of people, consisting of regular patrons whom we knew, people with letters whom we were bound to take care of and listen to, and the general public. In every transaction for tickets much time was taken up with conversation, and invariably purchasers, after receiving their allotments of tickets, would request more seats for intimate friends or would advance other arguments, and then there was the time taken up in counting their tickets, in some instances mistakes being made by Cooke and myself, requiring a recounting; also the counting of money, all of which we are, of course, used to, but this was an occasion when the prices were doubled

Arguments were of common occurrence, as parties who already had been supplied with tickets would return in some instances demanding more tickets, and when refused, as was often the case, became disgruntled and could not see the reason why.

In many cases of this kind other influence was brought bear, such as letters from some other friend or acquaintance who possibly knew Cooke or myself or whom we knew to be all right. People we did not know were put through a rigid course of questions sometimes, for you must bear in mind we were endeavoring to get the tickets into the hands of the people who were to see the games, and we were continually fighting against the possibility of tickets getting into the hands of speculators.

Scalpers Get Tickets.

We had 6,234 reserved and box seats to dispose of for each game, and we endeavored to do so to the best of our ability. We could not follow every purchaser to see what he did with his tickets. The scalpers had tickets I am told; lots of tickets. I do not doubt it in the least. Every trick and influence obtainable was brought into play, undoubtedly, by scalpers to secure tickets.

Our intention, after making up the reservations Friday morning, was to go to A. G. Spalding's store on Wabash avenue, and give the tickets out—put them on sale. On account of the many interruptions during Friday it was simply impossible to get all of the reservations made up. It was simply impossible to get out of the office and go to Spalding's. Finally, Spalding's store got us on the 'phone, and we informed them that it would be impossible for us to get over there with the tickets. All we could do was to stay where we were, and do the best we could.

During Friday afternoon we informed a great many people that we would go to the ball park in the morning and get into our regular ticket offices, where we hoped to work more rapidly, and where people could not walk in and actually lay hands upon us. Saturday morning it was, of course, necessary to come to the office to get the tickets and money, but there were people lined up waiting for us at 8 o'clock in the morning, and among others those whom we thought it necessary to wait upon then and not later. The consequence was that we did not get to the ball park until about 1 o'clock.

I had many other things to attend to, and Cooke went out to the ball park alone, or with two officers for a guard. I had to make out the press tickets and endeavor to treat the representatives of the local and out of town newspapers with courtesy. Cooke was alone in his work the greater part of Saturday consequently. He had to do the best he could alone, and did.

Does Not Remember "Kickers."

Because a lot of disgruntled persons who had to stand in line at Spalding's Friday and again the next day at the park have seen fit to write letters of criticism, telling how it should have been done, other people have followed the same course; people who claim to be regulars, and possibly are, although a great many of the names signed to letters of complaint are not familiar to Cooke or myself as having bought box seats during the regular season. Probably a great many of them have bought 50 and 75 cent tickets regularly. There are hundreds of these who wanted box seats for the world's series, and because they could not force tickets from us and we did not recognize them as regulars, they have sent in all kinds of letters of criticism.

The whole thing, simmered down to one point, is this: Two men cannot be expected to take care of the demands of a whole city like Chicago satisfactorily and to every one's liking, especially when they have to do the work in an ordinary business office and with as short a time as we had in which to prepare for a series like the world's championship series.

As to the matter of the reserved seat tickets which were returned unsold I wish to state first, that it is a known fact that the sale of grandstand tickets practically stopped one hour before the game began on Sunday. As you know, 100 tickets were returned to me during this hour previous to the game starting by yourself, as I held that number of seats on your orders for your use in cases of emergency. A Detroit newspaper had reserved 200 tickets for an excursion. We were glad to reserve these tickets, as when we went to Detroit we took a large party with us and the Detroit management reserved a block of seats for us. This was a case of reciprocity. When the Detroit newspaper representative called for his tickets he only wanted half of them. Then there were probably fifty or sixty people who had made reservations with us who had not called for the tickets at all, probably having become disgusted with trying to get them for two days and not succeeding. I don't blame them, but could we help it if they could not get to us to secure their seats? Here were 300 good box tickets on our hands returned to us legitimately by people well known, but the public had stopped buying and consequently the tickets were returned unsold.

Respectfully,
C. H. THOMAS, Secretary.

RED PERIL OF THE GRIDIRON

Carlisle Indians Are Worthy Foes for Any Team.

MEET QUAKERS SATURDAY.

Penn Men Working Hard to Wipe Out Defeats of Previous Years.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

When the Pennsylvania football team lines up against the Carlisle Indians Saturday at Philadelphia the Quakers will meet a team which has in the last two meetings overwhelmed and humiliated them.

Coach Warner and his men, proud of having beaten Pennsylvania five out of nine games, are now putting the finishing strokes to their preparation and the Indian team that takes the field Saturday will represent the best material, an eleven trained as are few teams.

In the football world the Indian has been a veritable red peril for the last decade. Their exploits since 1899 have been little short of marvelous and there is not a team on their schedule but what regards the Indian game as one of the hardest.

When Carlisle started to play football, fourteen years ago, the venture was regarded as a joke. The eleven played four games the first year and won only one, defeating the Harrisburg High school and losing to the Navy, Franklin and Marshall, and the Columbus Athletic club.

Redskins Attract Attention.

The next year the record was a little better, as in a schedule of eight games five resulted in victories, and by playing a good game against Yale, which ended 18 to 0, the redskins began to attract attention from the football world.

Progress continued steadily till in 1896, when the Indians won their first victory of importance, downing Dickinson 28 to 6. The team of that year played Princeton, Yale, Harvard, and Pennsylvania, scored on the Elis and Tigers and held Harvard to a scant 4 to 0 victory. The Quakers' 21 to 0 score was the only count of any size made by opponents.

In 1899 "Pop" Warner assumed charge of the football education of the men of the forest, and from that time on they have been rated as among the greatest teams in the history of the great college game.

The first year of Warner's administration saw the red and gold wave in victory for the first time over a member of the big four, and Pennsylvania was the victim, 16 to 5. Harvard and Princeton beat the eleven that year, but they had to show their best to do it.

The 1900 team went back a little and lost by big scores to Yale, Harvard, and Pennsylvania. Nineteen hundred and one also was a bad year and the team lost seven games, won four, and tied one. Cornell, Harvard, and Michigan all took the measure of the fleet Indians. But the warriors came back in 1902, and, though losing to Harvard, had the satisfaction of beating Pennsylvania.

In 1903 the Indians beat everybody except Princeton and Harvard, and fell only one point behind the latter. Pennsylvania, Swarthmore, and Northwestern were included among the victims. Penn's great eleven of 1904 succeeded in walloping the redskins by eighteen points and Harvard also beat them, but no other team was equal to the task. The same teams again turned the trick in 1905.

Since that time the Indians have lost only two games. Harvard beat them 5 to 0 in 1906 and Princeton defeated them 16 to 0 last year, but Syracuse, Michigan, and Pennsylvania twice, and Harvard, Minnesota, and Chicago once have fallen victims in that period to the skill of the original owners of the land.

Sad Times for Pennsy.

Franklin field has seen nothing sadder in the last two years than the way Carlisle romped over the red and blue elevens, winning by scores of 24 to 6 and 26 to 6.

Numbered among the men who assisted in winning these gridiron triumphs for the redmen are names familiar wherever football is known, for it has been characteristic of the Indians that they have not hesitated to travel any distance over the country to meet any opponent who offered.

Therefore, the whole country knows the wonderful drop kicker, Hudson; Metoxen, the irresistible line bucker; Johnson, the great quarter back; Bemis Pierce, the giant guard; Houser, last year's phenomenal line plunger and place kicker; Red Water, Lone Wolf, Seneca, who was accorded a place as all-American half back; Exendine, a flawless end; Mount Pleasant, last year's wonderful quarter back; McFarland, Cayou, Wheelock, Scott, Rogers, and a score of others.

Carlisle has lost a number of its good men, and of last year's lineup only five veterans are back. A newly passed rule forbidding any player to represent the school more than four years on the gridiron cost a number of men and injuries will keep out a couple more stars. The most serious loss is Houser, whose injured back makes it next to impossible for him to play Saturday.

What Pennsylvania specially needs to watch is the Indian use of the forward pass. This has been developed by the aborigines to a great degree of perfection. There is nothing haphazard about throwing or catching the ball as was the case last year. Everything this season seems to be deadly accurate, the outcome of careful planning and unceasing practice.

Fair Latonia has put up the slates and racing at the "Milldale track" as far as the modus operandi is concerned is back where it was during the palmy Applegate régime. The Kentucky racing commission, written by Col. Chinn and composed by Col. Clay and Col. Young, apparently have reasoned with themselves and concluded that the improvement of the breed of horses after all is not wholly a matter of high minded sentiment and that it is time to stow that sort of argument when the oat bin is running low.

Racing is utterly impossible in this tier of states without the bookmaker and his patron.

We asked Charley Ellison yesterday what spirit moved him to wager $5,000 on the defeat of Hughes, and his logical reply was: "If Hughes is elected it will be toot, toot, good by to the racing game all over the country. Then why shouldn't I bet against him?"

Which reminds us of the story that Tim Hurst tells about his father, who doped the Dutchman's chickens to win and then bet on Kenally's on account of the name.

At the present rate of matrimonial progress, the Cubs will require at least three special cars for their training trip next spring.

We wish the newspapers would adopt a uniformity of head lines in depicting the spirits of Prof. Stagg. According to the morning papers, they run all the way from a blue funk to a crimson flush. We cannot conceive how the worthy professor can radiate so many impressions from the same angle.

Packey McFarland has suffered an injury to his lip, but the injury does not prevent his telling how he is going to whip Leach Cross tonight.

The first advice from the deep north woods, where President Comiskey and his numerous and congenial retinue have arrived safely (or safely have arrived), is couched in the following terms: "Send at once one gallon of vinegar, 6 pounds of salt, six corkscrews, and one doz. crown top openers. Johnson and our genial host are still speaking."

The ticker's voice no longer breaks in on the slumbers of the day watch.

TWO RIBS FRACTURED IN GAME.

Quarter Back Berry of St. Viateur's Eleven More Seriously Hurt than at First Supposed.

Kankakee, Ill., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The locals returned from Milwaukee today, a little bit battered after their overwhelming defeat at the hands of Marquette last Saturday, but nobody was down hearted. Berry, quarter back, sustained injuries in the first game this season, and after an examination it was found that he had two ribs broken, so he was out of last Saturday's game, and the team was run by a new general. Scrimmage will be the order tomorrow.

Y. M. C. A. Plans Tank Events.

The first meeting of the Central department Y. M. C. A. Swimming and Life Saving club will be held tomorrow night for the purpose of organizing for the season. The plans call for an active season of water sport, including swimming contests and water polo games, under the direction of Director Sollenberger, who has succeeded J. H. White in charge of the natatorium. The track athletic season at Central will open on Saturday night with a dual meet against the west side department.

FRESHIES TRIM THE VARSITY

Maroon Youngsters Gallop Over the Regulars, 12 to 5.

STAGG APPEARS IN COURT.

Coach Is Summoned as a Witness and Squad Loses Valuable Time.

Coach Stagg lost a day's work with his Maroon eleven yesterday in being subpoenaed to appear in Judge Bethea's court. He was in the courtroom from 9 a. m. until late in the afternoon and did not arrive at Marshall field until almost dark. As a result of his absence the Maroons played mice and had a great time.

As soon as the coach arrived, however, the varsity and freshmen were lined up for scrimmage and the freshmen made the varsity players look like an aggregation of high school players. The score was 12 to 5 in favor of the first year team. It was the first time in four years that a freshman eleven has beaten a varsity team.

Minnesota plays were used by the freshmen and they proved heavy ground gainers against the varsity men, who seemed unable to comprehend the mimic Gopher attack. All the freshman plays were directed at the varsity line and the Maroon tackles and guards were hammered into submission by one set of freshman backs and hammered again by a second set of ground gainers.

The munificent sum of $2.40 was received by Stagg for his time consumed in court. He said he would have given $20 to have had the day to himself, as he had a number of plans to work out for the Minnesota game.

The coach was called upon to give state's evidence against a publisher of a stock journal who was charged with having padded his subscription list in order to get within the new postal law.

Seats for the Minnesota game will be placed on sale at Spalding's and at the Bartlett gymnasium today. Already blocks of seats have been asked for by delegations from Iowa, Michigan, and by out of town alumni. The largest crowd of the season is expected.

TAKES CARE OF THE KICKERS.

Physical Director Cobelli Oversees the Practice of the Hyde Park High Team and Gives Advice.

Action was taken yesterday at Hyde Park toward keeping a better tab on the condition of the boys who are playing football, and Physical Director Charles Cobelli appeared last night on the practice field to overlook the work of the team. His first move was to tell those who were in any way injured to take things easy and later he gave a little lecture on how to avoid being hurt.

The first lesson consisted of telling them to relax the muscles when falling and how to tackle correctly. During the time the boys were practicing he noted their actions and suggested improvements. It was his opinion that the numerous injuries on Saturday were caused by the heat rather than by rough play. He did charge, however, that one boy from the Wendell Phillips team played who had not been successful in passing the physical examination instituted by Physical Director Steffen. McGregor, a half back, it is said, has a weak heart, and Steffen did not advise his being in the contest, but the youth was able to get the permission of Principal Smith, which counteracted Steffen's objection. It was learned yesterday that Capt. Marshall Gebert would not play again this year, as his father objected.

As a result of the assertion by Paul Shepard of Lake that his injury was not due to hurdling the line but the outcome of what is known as "piling up" after the ball was down, by the Marshall team, the officials in high school games will receive instructions to enforce the rules to the letter.

The breach in the league caused by the Crane-North Division-Lake View wrangle has broken out again. North Division may drop out and Lake View has refused to play the game with Crane today. Crane declares that North is hedging and is trying to get out of playing them, while, on the other hand, North believe itself entitled to the forfeit.

GAMES IN BOWLING LEAGUES.

Howards Average 955 1-3 and Twice Defeat Magnets in Monroe Tournament—Howley Notches 219 1-3.

Three consistent games gave the Champion Howards of the Monroe league an average of 955 1-3 and the series from the Magnets, who took the second game by a margin of nine pins. Howley led the losers with 219 1-3, Toemmel topping the Howards with 203 1-3.

Chuck Collier led the Lipmans in the other series with an average of 211 1-3, but the Baulers took two of the games.

The Rubini team notched 937 2-3 in the Colonna league and twice defeated the Glenwood five. The Bryn Mawrs dropped two games to the Edelweiss team. Scores:

Foul Fighting Displeases Crowd.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Frankie Moore of this city won his bout with Jimmy Moran of New York at the Douglas A. C. tonight, but did not add any to his popularity as his tactics were foul. The crowd hooted him.

CLEVER LADS BOX TONIGHT

Packey McFarland and Leach Cross Slated for Six Rounds.

MATCH SEEMS AN EVEN ONE.

Johnny Coulon Gets Little Cash and No Honors in the East.

Just how those eastern short distance lightweight fighters shape up against a recognized contender for Nelson's crown will be known tonight when Packey McFarland and Leach Cross finished their six round battle in New York. Cross is recognized as the best they have in the 133 pound class east of the Alleghanies and holds decisions over most of his class in the immediate vicinity of Manhattan. His showing against Loughrey and Bert Keyes was not as classy as McFarland's, but there was not enough difference between their victories to make Packey much of a favorite over his dentist opponent.

Neither a Knockout Dealer.

Packey is acknowledged to have the more skill, but it is a question whether he has a harder punch than Cross. Neither fighter ever has been considered a dealer in knockouts, and few look for the pill in the go tonight. Both are so clever they could stall along in almost any kind of going for six rounds, and it hardly is probable there will be any seconds tolled off by the referee during the mill.

McFarland, however, has the advantage in experience, as he has had longer and harder fights than has Cross, who never has appeared in any long distance scraps.

Both fighters will enter the ring in good condition, although McFarland has a badly cut lip as a result of running his face into the elbow of one of his sparring partners. They will fight at 133 pounds.

Should either fighter secure a decisive win over the other the winner will be next in line for a big fight on the coast, with either Welch or Nelson as his opponent.

Coulon Gets Little in East.

Johnny Coulon, bantam champion, will not make a fortune in the east, at least out of his chosen profession. He received some cents short of $100 the other night for fighting six rounds against two Philadelphia little ones and says that will be his finish in that town. Besides, Johnny didn't add anything to his reputation in the performance.

MARVIN HART WINS ON A FOUL.

Scheduled Twelve Round Go with Jack (Twin) Sullivan at Boston Ends in the Fifth.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Marvin Hart won on a foul in the fifth round tonight of what was planned as a twelve round fight with Jack (Twin) Sullivan before the Armory A. A.

Hart claimed a foul in every round, and in the fourth the bout was stopped while the club physician examined him. He could find no evidence of a low blow and the bout went on. In the fifth Sullivan landed a vicious blow in the groin and Hart went down in agony. Referee Donnelly give him the decision.

After the fight Sullivan said when he would lead with his left Hart would raise on tiptoes and meet the blow, getting it lower than it started. Aside from the fouling the fight was about the average, with Hart having a little the better of it and leading all the time.

Forbes-Johnson Fight Off.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—The fight between Billy Johnson of Saginaw and Clarence Forbes of Chicago, scheduled here tonight, has been declared off. Forbes, it is reported, sidestepped at the last minute. The managers are trying now to match Johnson and Joe Cherry for a ten round go.

SIXTEEN MATCHES PLAYED AT WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY.

Mrs. E. T. Perkins of Chicago Is One of the Contestants and She Wins with Ease.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—There were no upsets in the first round of the women's national golf championship played today at the Chevy Chase club, and only one of the sixteen matches was close, Mrs. H. St. John Smith defeating Miss E. G. Hood of the Philadelphia C. C. at the nineteenth hole.

Mrs. E. T. Perkins of the Glen View club of Chicago, the only other western player entered, had an easy victory over Miss Pauline Firth of the Country club of Brookline, winning 8 and 7.

Of the sixteen survivors seven are from Massachusetts, three from Philadelphia, two from Chevy Chase, and one each from Chicago, Maine, and New York. Summary of first round:

Mrs. E. T. Perkins, Glen View, defeated Miss P. Firth, Brookline, Mass., 8 and 7.
Mrs. O. McCammon, Chevy Chase, defeated Miss E. W. Allen, Oakley C. C., Mass., 2 up.

REVOKES LICENSE OF LATONIA CLUB.

Kentucky Racing Commission Acts on Violation of Its Gambling Rule.

CREATES STIR AT TRACK.

Injunction Probably Will Be Asked and the Case Fought Out in the Courts.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 20.—The license of the Latonia Jockey club was revoked by the state racing commission, which met here today, because the club is violating the rules of the commission at the fall meeting, which is now in progress.

The commission had ordered that pari-mutuels machines be used, but the jockey club claimed that it would suffer a financial loss and went back to the old style of bookmaking.

It is not stated here what action Latonia will take, but it is likely that an injunction will be secured against the commission to hold until the matter can be settled in the courts.

Harvey Myers, vice president of the Latonia Jockey club, who is here, said this afternoon, when asked what the club's action would be concerning the revocation of the license: "I cannot say what the action will be until I have met the directors. Latonia, however, will take care of itself."

It is reported that the club already has prepared injunction papers against the commission, and that these will be filed this afternoon. Myers, however, refused to confirm this report.

The state racing commission will meet again tomorrow, and if the Latonia Jockey club management continues booking a fine probably will be assessed. The fine may run from $500 to $1,000 for each day, and the jockeys, trainers, and owners also may suffer a revocation of their licenses for participation. The commission also may appeal to Gov. Willson for support.

Sensation at Latonia.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 20.—Something akin to consternation reigned at Latonia this afternoon when the news reached here that the Kentucky racing commission had revoked the track's license on account of the operations of the bookmakers. A telegram to John Hachmeister, the present manager, from Harvey Myers, acting president of the club, stated that no action would be taken until tomorrow.

Harvey Myers arrived tonight from Lexington and said the Latonia Jockey club tomorrow would ask the Kenton county Circuit court for a temporary restraining order to prevent the commission interfering with the racing until the question of the commission's power had been legally decided. He added that inasmuch as the time necessary for the trial and appeal of the case would be several weeks, the twenty-two remaining days of the present meet would in no manner be interfered with.

CONTEST IN WHEAT A DRAW

Fidgety Mart Winds Up with Prices Virtually Unchanged.

OATS SUFFER SHARP SLUMP.

Heavy Pressure Crumbles Support, All Futures Falling Hard.

Developments in yesterday's wheat market were in keeping with those of the previous session, except that firmness instead of weakness marked the run of the last lap to the wire. Pit business was of only moderate volume and almost entirely professional in character, but there was enough in the news and in the speculative blood to keep nervousness at high pitch. As was the case on Monday, advantage shifted, bulges witnessing selling and the softer spots finding shorts willing to cover. Unconfirmed reports of large export sales of wheat had something to do toward bolstering the market during the final half hour. Final quotations showed advances of 1-16c for December and May and ⅛c for July.

Firmness Is Displayed Early.

Values fluctuated within a range of a little more than a cent, relatively stronger foreign marts, rough weather in the northwest, and further claims of frost damage in the Argentine working for a strong start. It was a matter of only a short time, however, before long grain began to come into the pit in quantities too bulky for convenient handling, the result being a moderate setback. Late in the day pit gossip had it that 140 boat loads had been worked for export, but the greater part of the reported business could not be confirmed. Absence of new speculative and investment demand materially restricted the effectiveness of the foreign inquiry. Closing prices abroad showed ⅛d off to ¼d up at Liverpool, unchanged to ¼c higher at Paris, unchanged to ⅝c firmer at Antwerp, 1c stronger at Berlin, and ¾c lower at Budapest.

West Gets Beneficial Rains.

A big part of the winter wheat area west of the Mississippi reported beneficial rains, and the weather department noted strong prospects of an early wetting of sections this side of the big stream. Western and northwestern Canada reported heavy snowfalls, the domestic side of the northwest noting heavy and general rains, which, according to the bullish view, would interfere with the moving of wheat from the interior. While Broomhall cables indicated that frost visitation had aroused considerable alarm in the Argentine, advices from recognized good sources were mainly of a favorable tenor. One cable had it that the yield in the southern republic this year would be about 10 per cent in excess of the 1907 outturn, with general conditions favorable. The European weekly crop summary was satisfactory to the bears, and there was a prediction that shipments from Russia and the Danubian countries would assume more pretentious proportions in the near future. Liverpool also is looking for an early movement Europeward of new La Plata offerings.

Local Arrivals Are Large.

Local receipts were materially larger at 194 cars, including 39 of contract grade, against 155 received the corresponding day last year. Combined receipts at Duluth and Minneapolis were 739 cars, against 894 cars the preceding Tuesday and 731 cars the like day last year. St. Louis and Kansas City together had 168,000 bu, compared to 238,000 bu a year ago. Total primary arrivals were 1,351,000 bu, against 1,263,000 bu a year ago, and clearances at the seaboard were 242,000 bu, wheat and flour.

Texas Millers After Red Winter.

Kansas City and St. Louis noted brisk demand from Texas millers for No. 2 red winter wheat, but the general cash demand lacked some of the recent urgency. Exporters here noted a little European nibbling at our red winter wheat, but actual sales were not large. Minneapolis, whose stocks showed an increase of 750,000 bu for three days, wired that the flour demand was not as broad and active as recently. Winipeg, whose receipts of wheat for the day were 456 cars, against 256 a year ago, sent word that the milling call was of a better color. That point estimated that country elevator stocks in Canada were 14,000,000 bu, surprisingly large from a bullish standpoint, considering shipments of the dominion grain. World's available supplies, according to Bradstreet's, showed an increase of 7,500,000 bu, against gains of 8,402,000 bu and 4,103,000 bu last week and the similar period last year, respectively.

Corn Market Points Downward.

Except for a short time early in the day, the corn market displayed heaviness, suffering from heavy unloading of long stuff and active hammering by some of the more courageous shorts. The pounding sent would be investors away from the market. Some of the shorts early, particularly those in the December, showed uneasiness over the general rains west, but the movement of new corn from the far southwest was of sufficient volume to offset the wet weather fears. Most of the new corn was destined to gulf ports, where export workings were said to have assumed fair proportions. Good business was transacted in cash corn here at unchanged to ½c lower prices. Final pit prices represented net losses of ½c for December, ¾c for May, and ⅝@¾c for July.

Local receipts were 249 cars, including 86 of contract grade, against 473 a year ago, primary arrivals totaling 331,000 bu, compared to 734,000 bu the similar day in 1907. Clearances at the seaboard were much more liberal at 61,000 bu. The local estimate for today was light at 79 cars. Liverpool was unchanged. Decatur, Ill., wired that husking operations were in full force, with the yield satisfactory in every respect.

Oats List Badly Pounded.

May oats went under the 50c mark with a dull, sickening thud yesterday, their recuperative powers being insignificantly frail. From start to finish the oats market was badly abused by both longs and shorts, the support at no time being active or broad enough to keep the market up. Final quotations showed net declines of ⅞c for December, ¾c for May, and 1c for July. The best the more active futures could do was to touch the closing level of the day before. Cash concerns were accounted the best buyers of December and May on the way down. Business at the sample tables was light at slightly lower prices. Local receipts were 321 cars, including 30 of contract grade, against 308 expected, and 378 received a year ago, the estimate for today being 129 cars. Primary arrivals footed up 838,000 bu, compared to 1,015,000 bu a year ago. Seaboard clearances were 2,000 bu.

Rye Quiet and Easy.

Rye was quiet and the market had an easy undertone. December was offered at 76c and May closed nominally at 80c. No. 2 sold free on board at 75c, No. 3 was quoted 70@74c, and No. 4 65@70c. Receipts were 8 cars.

Barley was unchanged to 1c lower. Malting was quoted 54@61c, mixing 53@55c, and screenings 40@56c. Receipts were 153 cars.

Flaxseed was unchanged. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.23½, No. 1 from the northwest $1.22, and No. 1 southwestern, $1.13½. Receipts were 3 cars.

Timothy seed was steady. October closed at $3.50 bid, and March $3.75 bid and $3.82½ asked. Country lots $2.30@3.40. Cloverseed was firmer at $7.75 for October and $6.00@7.50 for cash lots.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary read: "United kingdom—The weather is favorable for wheat already sown. The last crop is estimated at 1,600,000 bu under that of 1907. The wheat crop of 1907 was placed at 55,200,000 bu, from an acreage of 1,605,436. France—The weather is favorable for the growing wheat crop and offerings of native wheat are sufficient for present needs. Germany—From some parts come complaints regarding the dry weather, which is unfavorable for plowing and seeding. The outlook for potatoes is favorable. The interior is still making a strong demand for foreign wheat. Hungary—The weather has been too dry for seeding of the new crop, and it is now snowing hard. Russia—Advices confirm increasing stocks at the ports and it is expected that shipments will shortly show an increase. The weather is favorable and the growing crop has a most favorable outlook. Bulgaria—The outlook for the new crop is favorable. The corn crop is estimated at 29,600,000 bu. [In 1907 the crop amounted to 11,200,000 bu.] Italy—Beneficial rains have helped the new crop. Spain—The outlook for the new crop is favorable. Offerings of native wheat have decreased. Argentina—Reports state that the frost has caused some damage to wheat in the south. Australia—A record crop is indicated. [Last year the total crop amounted to about 40,000,000 bu.] North Africa—The weather is droughty. India—Good rains have fallen and the outlook for the growing crop is now favorable."

The buying of wheat early yesterday was of a good character. Logan-Bryan were credited with buying nearly 1,000,000 bu, and there was good buying by Armour, Chapin, Bartlett-Patten, and Woodbury. Near the close Minneapolis houses were credited with buying May. The Brosseau crowd bought quite a little wheat early. Local traders were almost all on the short side led by Barrett, Skillin and Hellman. Love, Shearson-Hammill, Peavey, Pringle, and Barrell were sellers on the decline. Bartlett-Patten were good sellers of corn early and there was selling by receivers also. Comstock, Lowitz, and Friedman sold on the late decline. In oats there was general selling by commission houses early led by Barrell, Logan, and Ware-Leland, with stop-loss selling by commission houses in general. Lamson and Wagner sold quite a few May oats. On the break the buying was headed by Armour, Merritt, Peavey, and Buckley. Cudahy Packing company bought a little product, bidding up prices and there was a little investment buying of the deferred deliveries. Early selling was headed by Hately and Weil.

A few loads of hard winter wheat were worked for export on the decline and New York reported another cargo of red winter wheat worked to Portugal, which makes 6 cargoes so far. The general export demand, however, for United States wheat was not called at all active and the total export business reported of 320,000 was principally Manitoba wheat. The domestic demand was not at all urgent, and St. Louis was about the only market reporting fair sales. Texas millers and millers in the southwest bought 150,000 bu red winter at St. Louis. Minneapolis premiums were maintained for No. 1 northern, but the demand was not quite as good as recently. Winnipeg reported No. 1 northern ½c over October. The southwestern cash corn markets were weak, but the local market was steady to ½c lower. Export sales of corn were 40,000 bu for October loading at the gulf. Oats were ½@1c off, with a slow demand. Local cash sales were 25,000 bu wheat, 275,000 bu corn, and 180,000 bu oats.

While the local corn market is being supported with fair success and prices for No. 3 yellow are holding quite firm, the outside markets are not showing the same steadiness. In the southwest the cash corn markets were sick, and new corn at St. Louis was 2@4c lower and old corn 2c lower. About 12 cars of new corn were received at St. Louis. At Kansas City white corn was 2@4c off, with slow demand. A message here from Buffalo said that new No. 3 yellow corn was being offered freely from Ohio and Indiana. Five loads of corn were sold for October loading at the gulf yesterday at about 68½c free on board ocean steamer. The export demand, however, is not very brisk.

"There is a 4c carrying charge from December to May here in wheat," said a Kansas City message to Logan-Bryan. "The spread has widened out fully 1c in the last ten days. This has been caused by elevator interest hedging several hundred thousand bu of December what. The cash wheat demand has been poor and receipts larger than expected, so that the surplus each day has gone into the December and made it heavy."

Some of the local interests are understood to be buying May wheat in Liverpool and selling Chicago May wheat; the difference at which the spreads have been made have ranged from 1⅞@5c. Liverpool May wheat at one time in the last few days was only slightly over the Chicago future.

E. H. Culver, the "Big Chief" of the Toledo grain inspection department, was here yesterday on his way back from the National Grain Dealers' association's convention.

The Northwestern Miller had a direct cable from the Argentine saying that no appreciable injury to the wheat crop had been caused by the recent frosts.

Kansas City wired that local mills two weeks ago ground 79,000 brls flour breaking the record, and last week they ground 73,000 brls.

Estimated receipts for today are: Wheat, 67 cars; corn, 79 cars; oats, 129 cars; rye, 5 cars; barley, 78 cars; hogs, 32,000.

The following were elected to membership on the board of trade by the directors yesterday: Clarence A. Brown and Oliver Hart.

Minneapolis wired that Duluth was paying ⅝c more premium for No. 1 northern than dealers there.

Winnipeg receipts of wheat for the day were 456 cars, against 258 cars a year ago.

Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 750,000 bu for three days.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Average price of hogs at $5.35, showed a decline of 6c from the preceding day, but the inferior quality of the hogs was largely responsible for this loss, and more good hogs could have been sold at figures not much changed from Monday's level. Shippers were not overburdened with outside orders, but the quality of the offerings was so poor that all of the orders could not be filled and packers had the trade to themselves. The top price for the day stood at $5.85, against $6.00 Monday, but none of the hogs sold at more than 10c lower than they would have brought the day before, and many loads of the strong weight hogs did not show that much decline. The market closed in good condition with all the prime hogs closely sold, and only 5,000 of the less desirable kinds left in the pens. Receipts of cattle consisted largely of western rangers and native butcher stock, and the trade in the native steer division was at almost a standstill. Native steer values held unchanged, but increased offerings of western cattle worked a hardship on the market for such stock and prices were largely 10@15c lower. Native cows and heifers suffered a loss of 10c, while calves were of improved quality and sold at an advance of 25c. Live mutton trade was slow and weak. A large share of the receipts found an outlet at steady prices, but buyers were bearish and insisted on taking off 10@15c in the price of all in between grades of both lambs and sheep.

CATTLE.

Receipts of 9,500 included 5,000 western range cattle, and but few loads of native steers. The demand for the latter was not urgent, as buyers looked for liberal arrivals for Wednesday, and the quality was not such as to attract many orders from outside points. There were no strictly good steers on the market and the best sale recorded was of a small lot of pretty good killers at $5.90. Quotations:

Cattle at six western markets, 47,400, against 47,300 a week ago, 53,000 a year ago, and 43,100 two years ago. Total for 1908 to date, 6,564,000, against 7,453,000 the same period in 1907.

HOGS.

Packers had the market much to themselves, as receipts of 23,000 included so few loads of good to choice hogs that shippers were unable to fill all the orders they held. Quotations:

SHEEP.

Receipts were estimated at 22,000. This supply appeared excessive to the buyers and they bid sharply reduced values from the outset. Salesmen were loath to take off any more after the sharp declines noted on Monday, but packers had the market well under control and succeeded in making up flocks at prices which stood steady to 10c to 15c under the preceding day's level. Quotations:

Receipts for Oct. 21 were estimated at 24,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs, and 27,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 26,124 cattle, 20,561 hogs, and 34,906 sheep for Wednesday, Oct. 23, 1907.

STOCKYARD GOSSIP.

"I believe the downward course of hog prices has been checked and that today will be low day for some time to come," said a prominent hog salesman. "Shippers went short on their orders today, the supply of good shipping hogs being inadequate, and packers are taking the hogs as though they believed they were worth the money. I do not expect the farmers to stop sending in their stock, but prices look reasonable and I do not look for any further decline."

"Sheep raisers are preparing for the winter by sending in all the stock which they cannot put under cover," said a sheep salesman. "And, as usual, they are not marketing their best stock. I have western ewes here on which I find it impossible to get a bid, although I have offered to sell them at 15c per cwt less than the owner was offered for them at home, and the sheep house is full of just such common rough stock, which no one wants."

"Bob" Matheson, sheep buyer for Swift & Co., paid $5.75 for the two small lots of native lambs to reach that figure. These lambs were much better than any others on the market and that price was 25c higher than most of the packers cared to pay for natives. Receipts of native lambs included a raft of stock which had to sell at less than $5.00, and salesmen had a hard time effecting a clearance of such offerings, leading buyers being as much as 25c apart in their valuation of the same load of lambs.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Weaker prices at the yards and liberal receipts of swine here and at other western packing centers played for an easy start in the provision market, but strengthening support from outside investors and some of the big local packers resulted in a good rally. The day's best showing was not maintained, prices sympathetically easing off with the grains. Final quotations showed unchanged to 7½c firmer for pork, 2½c easier to 5c higher for lard, and 45c lower to 2½c firmer for ribs, the current month delivery being the sufferer. The western hog run was 79,600, against 82,900 the Tuesday before, and 62,200 the like day last year. Shipments of meats hence for the day were 4,261,000 lbs, against 3,735,000 lbs a year ago; lard, 1,977,000 lbs, compared to 1,678,000 lbs the like day in 1907. Liverpool spot product was unchanged. Estimated local receipts of swine for today were 32,000.

Chicago Horse Market.

Receipts of horses, estimated at 300, made a total of 1,016 for two days, against 964 for the same period a week ago and 987 a year ago. With the demand the narrowest of the season and the market oversupplied with in between grades of horses for which there is no demand, these arrivals were burdensome and the market was in a desperately congested condition. Most of the sales were forced, local traders being obliged to accept almost any price in order to reduce accumulations, and buyers, understanding the situation, lowered their bids accordingly. A few small lots of extra choice stall finished drafters sold up to $225.00, but the general receipts of draft horses ranged at from $165.00@210.00, and clearance was slow. Drivers made $150.00@200.00, with choice offerings on export account at from $250.00@350.00. Farm mares and wagon horses sold at from $130.00@175.00, while actors and coachers held at from $250.00@350.00, and carriage pairs at from $225.00@675.00. A few lots of heavy feeders were taken out by country buyers at from $160.00@215.00.

STRAW.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Rye, $7.50@8.50; oat, $5.50@6.50; wheat, $4.50@5.00.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Little change of importance was noted in the grocery market. There was a broad and general outward movement of all staple goods, jobbers were kept busy filling orders at generally unchanged prices. Owing to a more generous output of prunes than had been expected, spot goods were being offered for immediate delivery at slightly easier prices. Peaches and apricots, however, were going out for consumption in large quantities at unchanged figures, the demand being much more urgent than in previous years owing to the comparatively low prices. The production of pickles was larger than had been expected possible after the long period of drought during the maturing of the crop, and prices were held at a comparatively low level.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Market for refined sugars was in an unsettled condition, but jobbers were not looking for any decline in values, as the raw sugar continued to be firmly held. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.14@5.24; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.50; standard powdered, $5.70; extra C, $5.00; canary, $4.65; chemically pure milk sugar, 17c per lb in brl lots.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—SUGAR—Raw firm; fair refining, 3.48c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3.98c; molasses sugar, 3.23c; refined firm; No. 6, 4.70c; No. 7, 4.65c; No. 8, 4.60c; No. 9, 4.53c; No. 10, 4.45c; No. 11, 4.40c; No. 12, 4.35c; No. 13, 4.30c; No. 14, 4.25c; confectioners' A, 4.90c; mold A, 5.45c; cut loaf, 5.90c; crushed, 5.80c; powdered, 5.20c; granulated, 5.10c; cubes, 5.30c.

COFFEE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Demand for spot coffee was of fair volume and values held unchanged. The market was resting on soft ground, however, and many merchants looked for values to decline.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—COFFEE—Spot quiet; Rio, No. 7, 6¼c; Santos, No. 4, 8¼c; mild coffee dull; Cordova, 9¼@12½c. Futures closed irregular, net unchanged to 5 points lower. Quotations: October, 5.55c; December, 5.30@5.35c; May and September, 5.25c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Urgent inquiries for heavy woolen garments continued to come forth from merchants who had failed to fully anticipate their requirements and all jobbers were doing a satisfactory business in goods for immediate shipment. Knit goods, underwear, and certain lines of popular dress goods were in active demand for spot delivery, and the rapidly decreasing stocks were imparting a much stronger tone to the market, many of the buyers finding it difficult to duplicate early orders except at advanced figures. Road men soliciting spring business reported continued satisfactory progress, and said indications were for a most gratifying season, as merchants were not showing so much reluctance in placing orders.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The cotton yarn market shows progressive improvement in demand and prices. Cotton cloths hold steady and in moderate request. Hestitation is noted in the placing or spring business again and it is ascribed to election discussion. Linings are selling well to retail trade, but clothiers are buying sparingly. Spot woolens and worsted are in fair call.

PURCHASES SITE FOR $34,200

John L. Shortall Buys Land from Catholic Bishop of Chicago.

NORTH SIDE PROPERTY SOLD.

Store and Office Building at Wilson and Kenmore Avenues Planned.

An important deal in high class north side residence property has just been closed in the purchase by John L. Shortall from the Catholic bishop of Chicago of the property at the northeast corner of Astor street and Burton place for $34,200. The land, which is vacant, fronts fifty-seven feet, with a depth of 105 feet, making the sale at the rate of $600 a front foot. Mr. Shortall plans to improve at once with a residence. In part payment he conveyed the property at the southwest corner of Monroe street and Homan avenue, 140x180 feet, vacant, for $13,829. Both transactions were negotiated by Cremin & O'Connor.

Exercising an option to purchase, Philip L. Knoedler, president of a patent medicine company, has acquired from John A. Spoor and Frederick S. Winston, trustees, 110x627 feet in Thirty-fifth street, 516 feet west of Morgan street, for $52,421. The purchasing company has been occupying the property under a lease and will add to the present improvements. Mr. Knoedler has given back a trust deed to Mr. Winston to secure $25,000 of the purchase money, five years, at 5 per cent.

Apartment House Sold.

William J. Fox has sold to Emily L. Parlick the apartment house in Sixty-second street, 130 feet west of Greenwood avenue, 50x148 feet, north front, for $22,000, subject to an incumbrance of $12,000.

Henry Strong has sold to William C. Vehon the property at the northwest corner of Kenmore and Wilson avenues, 100x175 feet, east front, for $30,625. Mr. Vehon plans to improve the property with a building the cost of which is estimated at $125,000. It will contain nine stores, twenty office suites, and nineteen apartments.

Edgar W. Reynolds has purchased from Lena M. J. Lyons the apartment house property in Lakeside place, 789 feet east of Sheridan road, 50x165 feet, south front, for $28,000, subject to an incumbrance of $16,000.

Conveys Eighty-four Acres.

Gregory Van Meter, who recently took title to eighty-four acres at Sixty-third street and South Forty-fourth avenue, has conveyed the same to Frederick H. Bartlett for $80,000, subject to incumbrance of $18,900. A considerable part of it will be subdivided into lots of a half acre each.

Martin C. Anderson has sold to Sara Alzen the flat property in Kenmore avenue, 167 feet south of Berwyn avenue, 33x150 feet, east front, for $14,500, subject to an incumbrance of $9 000.

Augustus S. Peabody is trustee in a building bond issue loan of $30,000, five years at 6 per cent, to Charles F. White, secured by the six flat building at the southwest corner of Lexington avenue and Sixty-first street.

STOCKS IN NEW YORK RISE

Rumors, Political and Otherwise, Aid Strength in Market.

DROOP IN GRAIN PRICES.

Rains in Northwest Affect the Quotations on Wheat.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Such developments as came to light today bearing on the Balkan situation were uniformly favorable. In the absence of any selling by London the disposition was to look upon the Balkan matter as of no immediate importance, and events nearer home were made the basis for a general and vigorous rise in prices.

Actual happenings which served this purpose were the various favorable turns in the political situation. Other rumors brought forward and made to do service were the old reports of an extra Northern Pacific dividend and the mooted plan for the retirement of Southern Pacific preferred stock. Professional traders have been using these arguments with one another for many months now, and the curious part of it is that they seem to lose nothing in effectiveness. Save that they made interesting gossip for Wall street, they had little influence outside.

Little Buying Is Done.

The character of the day's business made it clear that no considerable volume of genuine buying orders was created by these reports.

The grain markets again were affected by the rains in the west and wheat and corn prices closed lower.

President McCrea's announcement that the Pennsylvania would place its usual orders for materials was looked upon as an indication of the better business ahead of railroads and industrials.

In the money market the tendency toward firmness became more marked and for various maturities the day's rates were the highest quoted in a number of months. Call money continued easy, but the banks once more gained from the subtreasury on routine transactions, showing that the demand for funds on the part of the interior is still negligible.

Foreign Exchange Firm.

Foreign exchange rates were firm and talk of a possible gold export movement was therefore further encouraged.

Money on call steady, 1¼@1¾ per cent; ruling rate, 1½; closing bid, 1½, offered at 1½. Time loans firm and dull; 60 days, 2¾@3 per cent; 90 days, 3¼@3½ per cent; six months, 3½@3¾. Prime mercantile paper, 4@4½ per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 484.90@485 for 60 day bills, and at 486.55 for demand. Commercial bills, 484½@484⅝. Bar silver, 51½c. Mexican dollars, 45c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds firm.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Money was in quiet demand on the market today and discounts were firm on the demand for gold from the continent.

Trading on the stock exchange opened steady, but developed dullness during the session on the absence of professional or outside support, which was lacking because of the near eastern situation. Values eased and closed fractionally below yesterday, but with a steadier tone on the reports of Emperor William's favorable speech.

American securities received sufficient support in the forenoon to keep values about parity, but the market was uninteresting until the afternoon when New York bid up Union Pacific and St. Paul and caused a firmer close.

Berwyn Official in Contempt.

Justices Smith and Baker in the branch Appellate court affirmed Judge Honoré's judgment holding O. B. Munger, former president of the village of Berwyn, in contempt of court. Munger was sentenced to serve seven days in jail "or until he has complied with the order of the court" by signing three warrants for salaries. Since the suit began Berwyn has become a city and Munger's signature now is of no effect, but he will sign the warrants and thus purge himself of the contempt.

ON THE CHICAGO EXCHANGE

Chicago Railways Issues Feature of the Day's Trading.

INTEREST ON BONDS EARNED

F. H. Rawson Returns from Trip Through South Dakota.

Chicago Railways issues were the feature of trading on the local exchange. The series A bonds sold at 90 for a lot of 50,000. The trading in the Bs was more active, totaling $155,000. At the same time, series 1 of the participation certificates advanced to 108½ and series 2 to 44.

The bonds are proving especially attractive, inasmuch as interest is being earned on all of them, and all have or will have a capital equity in the assets equal to their par value.

The A bonds at 90 net the investor 4.4 per cent. In three and one-half years the interest will be increased to 5 per cent. As the earnings are so much in excess of the interest charges, it is assumed that in a fair money market the A's will advance to par at least. The purchaser, therefore, at current quotations, may expect to get at least 7½ per cent on money now invested.

The B bonds are also earning their interest, and will become a 5 per cent issue.

Series 1 of the participation certificates bear 8 per cent cumulative, as do series 2. Interest on the latter began to run Aug. 1, 1908.

Inasmuch as these railway securities have been exchanged for the old underlying stocks and bonds, on which it was hard to realize, it may be expected many of the old, tired holders, having at last salable securities, will convert them into cash.

As Viewed by F. H. Rawson.

F. H. Rawson, president of the Union Trust company, has just returned from a trip through South Dakota and central Minnesota. Speaking of matters political and otherwise as he found them, he said yesterday:

"I talked with large numbers of farmers and asked them how they were going to vote. I did not meet one who did not say he intended voting for Taft. When I asked why the response was:

"'O, prices are good, crops are good, and Mr. Bryan has never promised anything yet that would help the farmers. We might just as well go on with the old republican ship and our good times.'

"I talked with a few people in the towns who were out of work and undecided for whom they would vote. They had a leaning toward Bryan, thinking a change might help them, but for all that I didn't meet an out and out Bryan man.

"We went over the Northwestern and division superintendent and other officials were on the train. It was the same story everywhere.

"The Dakotas have been almost revolutionized in the last four years. Four years ago there were great stretches of prairie. Now the prairie has been converted into farms. The buildings are first class, there are fine looking herds, homes have pianos and telephones. The farmer doesn't sell his grain or stock blindly as he formerly did, at prices quoted by buyers traveling through the country. He uses his telephone to secure market quotations, and if they do not suit him he does not sell.

"As to the small towns they are much finer and better improved than towns of similar size in Illinois and Iowa. Houses are being built of concrete, all the walks are paved and the gutters are of concrete.

"The Chicago and Northwestern railroad is in splendid condition. Despite the reduction in expenses and falling off in freight revenue, the property has been maintained up to its usual high standard."

After Bank Directors.

Lawrence O. Murray, controller of the currency, having "dressed down" the national bank examiners, now proposes to investigate the relations existing between members of the boards of directors and loans made to them and affiliated interests. Mr. Murray says:

"It is my purpose to have the examiners investigate the directorates of every important national banking institution in the country. It is clearly within the province of the office of the controller to know the extent to which the responsible officers of the bank devote their time and attention to the bank's affairs."

September Exports Gain.

Exports of breadstuffs, meat, and dairy food animals for the month of September showed a gain of $12,689,893. Following is the summary:

	1908.	Increase.
Breadstuffs	$19,931,062	$ 2,375,832
Meat and dairy products	12,282,149	*99,126
Cattle, hogs and sheep	1,952,956	*228,875

Will Not Oust Mitchell.

Judge Grosscup has declined to oust Sidney Mitchell as the receiver for the United Boxboard and Paper company.

The O. C. Barber interests sought to have Mr. Mitchell removed. Judge Grosscup's order follows:

"The receivers are instructed to preserve the status quo. The prayer for removal is overruled. In directing these orders I do not pass on the questions of accounting between the companies, nor do I hold that Mitchell is entirely free from fault in the matters named. What I hold is that if there be any fault it is not of such a character as to affect my confidence in Mitchell as receiver—one of those things that, capable of being cured, ought not to affect the administration of the property as an entirety."

Dividends Declared.

A quarterly dividend of $2 a share from net earnings will be paid by the Pullman company Nov. 16, 1908, to stockholders of record at the close of business Oct. 31.

The H. B. Claflin company has declared the regular quarterly dividends of 1¼ per cent on first preferred and 1½ per cent on second preferred stocks, payable Nov. 2. Books close Oct. 23 and reopen Nov. 4.

General Financial News.

Announcement is made that more than a majority of the first mortgage bondholders of the Lake Superior Power company have deposited their securities and an additional number has been pledged.

The annual report of the United States Finishing company for the year ended June 30 shows receipts from sales amounting to $4,407,725, against $4,840,684 the previous year. The cost of production was reduced. After charges and preferred dividend the final surplus of $127,201 was charged off.

The advance in the shares of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company is understood to be due to buying by interests who expect the ratification of the reports of the various committees by the readjustment committee. This would mean a termination of the receivership.

At the New York metal exchange yesterday lake copper was advanced ⅛c in the bid price. Quotations are: Lake, 13.50@13.52½c; electrolytic, 13.12½@13.37½c; castings, 12.87½@13.12½c.

Gross earnings of the United Railways of San Francisco for September were approximately $537,025. These earnings are at the rate which obtained prior to the earthquake.

The city of Philadelphia will receive sealed bids until noon Nov. 18 for $2,500,000 4 per cent semi-annual thirty year bonds.

The National Railway Company of Mexico reports for the fiscal year ended June 30 gross earnings, in silver, $15,601,310, against $15,874,669 the previous year. Net was $5,686,151, against $5,722,831.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Locomotive company yesterday W. H. Marshall, Pliny Fish, and J. E. French, the retiring directors, were reëlected for three years.

Since last Friday the New York subtreasury has lost $1,541,000 to the banks.

President McCrea of the Pennsylvania railroad announced from Pittsburg that the company would soon place an order for rails and equipment for 1909 delivery, the order to be about the same size as usual.

State Bank of Evanston.

The State bank of Evanston has deposited $50,000 with the state auditor and qualified in every other way to do a trust business.

CLUB WILL FIGHT ATTEMPT TO EXAMINE ITS ACCOUNTS.

Officers of Illinois Athletic Association to Oppose Attorney T. W. Brown's Petition for a Mandatory Writ.

When the petition of Attorney Thomas W. Brown for a mandatory writ compelling the Illinois Athletic club to permit him to examine its books is heard in the Circuit court on Monday it will be opposed by the officers of the association.

"I don't believe there is a judge in the city who would grant such a writ," said President William Hale Thompson, "unless Mr. Brown shows good reason for the examination.

"We told him we would give him permission to go through all the books and papers of the club if he could show us any good reason for such procedure. He did not charge that the books had been tampered with or that all the accounts are not correct, and under those circumstances we were compelled to refuse him.

"At present there is pending a suit of the Thompson-Sterrett company, the firm which built the clubhouse, involving $75,000, and we see no reason for opening our books in any manner that might give that company information concerning our business affairs."

President Thompson said the annual auditing of the books will be begun in a short time and that a committee of three members of the club will be asked to suggest to the directors the auditors whom they believe best fitted for the task.

SEVEN MARKET OWNERS FINED.

Judge Scovel Declares Meat, Fish, and Vegetable Establishments Must Be Cleansed.

When cases of eight market owners, charged with permitting insanitary conditions to exist in connection with their places, were called by Municipal Judge Scovel yesterday he stated that a general cleaning up of all meat, fish, and vegetable markets will be demanded.

The case of H. Bartelstein, 151 West Twelfth street, was continued until Oct. 23.

Joseph Trock, 811 West Taylor street, was fined $50 and costs. The following were each fined $25 and costs: Annie Block, 200 Twelfth place; Sam Harris, 8 O'Brien street; Sam Ross, 318 Maxwell street; Henry Spitz, 2114 State street; Rubin Semanousky, 1706 State street; Victor Wolfsohn, 22 O'Brien street.

ASK RECEIVER FOR PLANTATION.

Two Shareholders Bring Suit Against Officers of Concern Owning Lands in Mexico.

A bill asking the appointment of a receiver for the property of the copartnership known as the Mexican Plantation association was filed yesterday afternoon by William J. and Helen M. McLaren, owners of certain shares in the concern. Mismanagement is charged against John R. Markley, E. W. Graves, Lee Mantle, D. N. Graves, and John B. Wellcome, officers of the concern. The firm operates a plantation near Palenque, Mexico.

Reunion Is Planned.

The Pioneers' Sons and Daughters will hold their annual reunion in Memorial hall, Public Library building, today. There will be a reception at 4 p. m. and program will be given at 7.

LADIES
WITH SUPERFLUOUS HAIR ON THE FACE.
REMEMBER — We do nothing but superfluous hair work; that this is my 20th year in business; that I was the first lady to open an office in Chicago, and that I do the work myself, with two expert assistants.
REMEMBER, with our 5 TO 10 NEEDLE METHOD only a few hours' time is sufficient to cure any case.
REMEMBER, we guarantee to kill every hair we treat, and should any return we will gladly remove them FREE OF CHARGE and thank you for the privilege of doing so.

SALARY LOANS.

MASON FINANCIAL CO.,
134 MONROE-ST., ROOM 502.
SALARY LOANS. SALARY LOANS.
Money to loan to the better class of salaried employes and to the honest workingman, no matter what his position, on your plain note.
NO INDORSEMENT IS NECESSARY.
We will give you the fairest rates you can get in Chicago. You can pay us back in either weekly or monthly payments to suit yourself.
Our dealings are confidential and we give a written guarantee not to enforce payment through your firm.
We also loan on life insurance policies at low rates; same also bought.
LONG ESTABLISHED AND RELIABLE.
Come and see us when you want a loan.
MASON FINANCIAL CO.,
134 MONROE-ST., ROOM 502.
Southeast corner Clark. Telephone 3516 Central.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, women with allowances or incomes] who want to borrow money confidentially with or without security. The methods of some dealers never change, and high rates for money are demanded by the professional lender. Will gladly advance reasonable sums to honest people who have the ability to pay, with reasonable promptness. My average rate, all expenses included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending upon amount loaned and risk assumed. No insurance or other device to swell interest charges. Ask for WILLCOXE, care of Englewood Co., 538-540 E. 63d-st., corner Greenwood-av. Telephone Hyde Park 4333.

BANKERS TO THE PEOPLE—
YOU CAN borrow money of us in small sums as well as large. Men and women employed—Business Men, too—we will give you the fairest rate in Chicago. Ladies of reputable family may easily borrow on their own name and promise. Tel. Harrison 3171, or call private office, 605, 215 Dearborn-st., cor. Adams-st. WEST & COMPANY.

DON'T CONSIGN YOUR AUTOMOBILE.
IF YOU WANT TO DISPOSE OF IT
WE WILL GIVE YOU THE CASH.
COME AND SEE US AND GET OUR FIGURES.

If you consign your car to a small, irresponsible concern simply because they need the stock you stand in your own light.

Automobiles do not increase in value; they depreciate every day.

Next spring you will not get over 50% of what we will offer you today.

If you have your car consigned now get it back. Then come and see us.

We will buy it and give you cash.

Women's and misses' interlined suits at $25

A variety of exclusive models

Smartest suits ever shown in Chicago at so low a price as $25. No other suits at less than $30 and $35 can compare with them in tailoring or in charm of style. Our plan of making only a limited number in any one model insures something very exclusive at an extremely low price.

Second floor, State street.

$25 The materials used are striped worsteds in the newest colorings, trimmed and lined with fancy stripe silk; also plain broadcloth with fancy linings. The maker has taken unusual pains to carry out our ideas, and the result is satisfactory from every point of view.

The assortment includes many models as beautiful and as exclusive in treatment as those illustrated—interlined and made up in sizes for both women and misses. They're the most attractive suits we ever offered at $25.
